Ike Trade Plan Clears House

Nationalists Sink Sub, 21 Red Ships

Possibly 1,600 Troops Lost As Convoy Blasted

TAIPEI, Formosa, Saturday, Feb. 19 (AP) — The Nationalists claimed today their biggest victory since being forced off the mainland—a submarine and 21 ships of a Chinese Red troop-carrying convoy sunk yesterday by warships and planes.

Possible loss of more than 1,600 Red soldiers was implied in the claim that eight Communist landing ships went down 15 miles off Chekiang Province during nearly 12 hours of steady attack 120 miles northwest of Formosa.

Believed Tachens Bound

The Red convoy was believed to have been bent on reinforcing a garrison recently slipped into Taishan Island some 40 miles south of Nanchishan, the Nationalists' northernmost outpost since evacuation of the Tachens.

Nationalist warships opened the blistering action at 7:50 a.m. Friday—6:50 p.m. EST Thursday, Nationalist planes joined in at 11:45 a.m. and kept at it at least until 6 p.m.

The Nationalists claimed this toll:

A submarine, nationality not specified, dive-bombed and sunk southwest of the Taishans at 3:50 p.m. Friday. (There have been numerous unconfirmed Nationalist reports of up to 200 Russian submarines in Far Eastern watsr.)

Warships Sink 10 Vessels

Warship "kill"—10 (7 landing craft and three gunboats of between 200 and 300 tons; also an 8th landing craft set ablaze).

Plane "kill"—11 (a landing craft of 1,500 tons; 1 gunboat of 100 tons; another of unspecified tonnage; and 8 motorized junks).

Nationalist pilots also claimed they damaged another landing craft of 1,500 tons and eight gunboats, destroyed 8 barracks on Taishan and blew up several supply dumps.

The Nationalists said their Thjunderjets and propeller-driven fighter planes carried on into last night the hunt for other Red ships in the area.

Doctor Accused Of White Slavery

LOS ALAMOS, N.M., Feb. 18 (AP)—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents early today arrested a bachelor pediatrician at this atomic city in New Mexico on charges of transportation of girls, aged 9 and 10, for immoral purposes.

Dr. Malcolm McDonald Cook, 48, was charged with three counts of the Mann (white slave) Act.

He is accused of taking the girls to Arizona and Colorado in his private plane.

D. A. Brye, special agent in charge of the New Mexico FBI, said the doctor, a native of Thomasville, Ga., is held in the Los Alamos jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Bryce said the complaint charges the former St. Louis doctor with transportation of a female minor, age 10, from Los Alamos to Alamosa, Colo., then to Durango, Colo., for immoral purposes Sept. 26, 1953; with taking the same girl to Grand Canyon, Ariz., on Oct. 17, 1953; and with taking a 9-year-old girl to Grand Canyon July 11, 1953.

Cook, president of the Los Alamos County Medical Society, was graduated from the University of Georgia medical school in 1933 and licensed in Missouri in 1941. He was in private practice there until coming here in 1950.

Gunman Gets Cold Cash

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 18 (AP) — A masked gunman early today got $250 in cold cash—right out of a refrigerator.

Relatively Small Blast Launches 1955 Atom Tests

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 18 (AP)—One of the smaller A-bombs in the American arsenal exploded over Yucca Flat today, opening the 1955 test series in Nevada.

The 32nd shot to be set off at the Atomic Energy Commission's test site was an air drop at noon after bad weather had caused a four-and-a-half-hour delay.

It was an impressive piece of precision bombing as a B36 bomber from Kirtland Air Force Base, N.M., dropped the weapon through the only patch of blue sky visibile in a windswept mass of clouds. Earlier in the day hail pelted Las Vegas and snow forced newsmen to abandon mountain observation posts.

The high noon shot itself, however, was not an impressive sight. Only a brief flash was visible to observers 30 miles away in the foothills behind the Army's Camp Desert Rock.

If there was any fireball, it was hidden by a range of low-lying mountains which encircle Yucca Flat. The noise of the detonation was very slight and there was no report of any heavy shock in the surrounding area.

A small mushroom which took on a pinkish color rose to a height of perhaps 25,000 feet in five minutes, but there was very little stem visible, indicating a moderately high burst.

The high winds aloft broke up the atomic cloud in less than half the usual time. After 15 minutes only a thin gray streak was to be seen and by 12:30 p.m. the entire cloud had virtually disintegrated.

100 Policemen Stalk Harlem For Elusive Killing Suspect

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—More than 100 cops stalked teeming Harlem today, guns poised for a suspected killer who skipped through three police traps. The whole city was alerted to the manhunt.

"Any cop who tries to get me I'll shoot," the fugitive was quoted as boasting. "The only way they'll take me is dead."

He is August Robles, 41, with a police record as a vicious gunman, quick on the trigger. Four detectives lost a brief gun battle with him early in the day as he fought to freedom.

Police want him as suspected triggerman in last Tuesday's gangland-type slaying of Joseph Aronowitz, 40, an ex-convict reportedly ready to testify against fellow members of a Baltimore armed robbery gang. Aronowitz's body was found in his own car, parked in front of a Brooklyn coffin firm.

In his deft, dramatic duel with police Robles first disarmed three Brooklyn detectives, later shot it out with four Manhattan sleuths, and finally slipped through a cordon of cops who thought they had him trapped in a Harlem housing project.

The action began when three Brooklyn detectives—Joseph Keenan, George Tomaszewski and Patrick Buckley—trailed Robles to the sixth-floor apartment of a girl friend, Carmen Guzley, on E. 104th St.

Robles appeared to surrender meekly and stood still while the police searched him for weapons. But as they left the apartment, Keenan related, Robles tried to break for the stairway.

"I blocked him and suddenly he had a gun in my back," Keenan said.

How the gun escaped the detectives, they didn't know.

With the 6-foot, 200-pound Keenan at his mercy, the slender gunman forced all three detectives to drop their guns. Then he scooped them up and fled to the street.

Pineau Fails In His French Premier Bid

National Assembly Vote Is 312 To 268 Against Socialist

PARIS, Saturday, Feb. 19 (AP)—The National Assembly early today turned down the bid of Christian Pineau to be premier of France. The official vote was 312 against, 268 for him.

Pineau, a 50-year-old Socialist who writes fairy tales as a hobby, had been struggling against odds since he first was summoned Monday morning by President Rene Coty to form a government.

At the outset he was conceded a small chance, but he persisted and formed a Cabinet.

Pineau picked up a little strength but as the voting began he was reported an almost certain loser.

Coty To Start New Search

It was expected that President Rene Coty would take a fresh start tomorrow in search of a premier.

There was speculation that a Radical Socialist would be called next, with Edgar Faure, Andre Morice, Maurice Bourges-Maunoury and Sen. Jean Bertho mentioned as leading possibilities. All are former ministers.

In trying to set himself up as the first Socialist Premier since 1947, Pineau pledged himself to work for quick final ratification of the Paris treaties for German rearmament, unceasing efforts for new Big Four talks, and increased trade between East and West.

Praised Mendes-France

He also warned he was going to ask for extension of broad powers to legislate by decree in the economic field. The Assembly gave these powers to outgoing Premier Pierre Mendes-France, and Pineau said he would ask for a three-month extension.

Pineau praised the work of Mendes-France who was voted down two weeks ago, and said he would try to follow along the same general lines.

Two Gunmen Pull Daring $100,000 Diamond Robbery

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18 (AP)—Two gunmen robbed a diamond brokerage firm of $100,000 in diamonds and cash in a brazen midday robbery in downtown San Francisco today, the firm's office manager reported.

They tied up six persons during the fast moving holdup of Paul De Vries Inc., on the fifth floor of a midtown office building, police were told.

Loss was estimated by the manager at $100,000 in diamonds and $1,000 cash.

The gunmen, both six-footers with shabby hats pulled down over their faces, forced their way in by holding a pistol on office manager John De Leeuw.

Polly Wins Divorce; Mate 'Ran Out' On Her

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18 (AP)—Actress Polly Bergen told a divorce court today that her husband, actor Jerome Courtland, "ran out" on her in Las Vegas in November to go skin-diving in Nicaragua.

That was when they separated, Miss Bergen, 24, told the court, which granted her the divorce. "Courtland ran out on a nightclub show and left me flat in Las Vegas," she said. She said she finished the show alone.

Russia Proposes Arms Freeze

Reds Again Ask Nuclear Weapon Ban

MOSCOW, Feb. 18 (AP)—Russia proposed tonight to freeze world armament at its present level and renewed demands for complete, unconditional destruction of all atomic and hydrogen weapons.

With minor variations the Soviet declaration issued tonight was a reiteration of Moscow's position ever since postwar efforts at arms and atomic control were started in 1946.

The statement, issued a week before a United Nations disarmament subcommittee renews its efforts in London, also declared:

"The Soviet government considers atomic weapons should be banned and effective international control established for the prohibition of atomic weapons and the reduction of arms and armed forces, first of all of the major powers.

No-Use Pledge First Step

"An important step in that direction would be an international agreement under which the states would make a solemn pledge to refrain from using such weapons."

The size of the nations' armed forces and armaments, it added, should not be increased beyond their level of Jan. 1, 1955, and military budgets held down to the level of 1955.

(U. S. State Department officials and United Nations circles in New York pointed out that a chief purpose of the Soviet proposal appeared to be to prevent West German rearmament. Such an agreement would prevent West Germany from adding a single soldier or a single gun to Western defense.

No Concessions

(Washington officials said the new Soviet position did not advance an inch toward agreement on ironclad controls by inspection to assure that written pledges are observed. The statement, they said, points to continued Russian obstruction when the U. N. subcommittee gets down to business in London.)

Russia's last stated position was on Sept. 30 when the late Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky proposed in the U. N. Assembly that armament reduction and elimination of all atomic and hydrogen weapons be approached on a stage-by-stage basis.

Kiss For Cherry Pie Champion

Thrilled at having just won the 1955 National Cherry Pie Baking Contest at Chicago yesterday, blonde, dimpled Marjorie Campbell gets a kiss planted on her cheek by her mother, Mrs. Richard Campbell. The 17-year-old high school senior from Red Hook, N.Y., said she plans to use the scholarship prize to take home economics at either Iowa State College, Ames, or Cornell University.

Educators In 31 States Against School Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee studying President Eisenhower's school-building program was told today that chief education officers in 31 of 33 states polled were utterly opposed to most or all of the bill.

Dr. Edgar Fuller, executive secretary of the Council of Chief State School Officers, read into the record a blast of criticism he said he had received by telephone, telegraph and letter from the 31 state educational chiefs. Officials of the other two states—Nebraska and Indiana — reported they were against federal aid to education on principle and that if states exerted themselves sufficiently it would not be needed.

Plan Called "Inadequate"

A Missouri official called the program "totally inadequate" while a Montanan called it "utterly useless" to most states.

But Sen. Allott (R-Colo), a member of the committee studying the President's program, drew from Dr. Fuller an acknowledgement that the replies did not necessarily reflect the view of state governors or state legislatures.

Allott said that Gov. McKeldin of Maryland was recently quoted as being in "complete accord" with the President's school aid bill. It is based primarily on a system of federal loans to back up local school bonds, together with a 67-million-dollar, three-year program of direct federal aid to enable local districts to qualify for the loan program.

"No Advantage" To Md.

Dr. Fuller had quoted Maryland's chief school officer as terming the program of "no advantage" to his state.

Allott asked whether Dr. Fuller, in his request for reaction to the President's program from state school officers, had specifically sought to extract criticism.

Fuller said no, that his message to the states outlined the President's program in some detail and pinpointed those parts of the bill "objectionable" to his organization's standing policies.

Evangelist Takes Lie Test In Slaying Case

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 18 (AP)—A handsome, part-time evangelist today took a lie detector test as police probed the mystery slaying of a 50-year-old widow of a Baptist minister.

A key person sought was the "secret admirer" of the victim, Mrs. Lucille Quarles. She was found beaten and choked to death Wednesday behind the locked doors and windows of her modest home.

The Rev. Jesse Bolin voluntarily appeared at police headquarters for the test. He flew here from Dallas, Tex., where he operates a used car lot.

National Cherry Pie Contest Won By New York Girl

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (AP)—A cute blonde high school senior from Red Hook, N. Y., beat the champions from the other 47 states and Hawaii today to win the National Cherry Pie Baking Contest.

As part of her prize, Marjorie Campbell, 17, will present her winning pie to a representative of the White House in Washington on Feb. 22, Washington's Birthday.

The dimpled winner bested a field which for the first time included two boys, Gene Goff of Jefferson City, Mo., and David Ludtke of Grand Forks, N. D. Neither of them finished in the money.

Blizzard Roars Into Central U. S.

[By The Associated Press]

A roaring blizzard and cold wave slammed into the Rockies and Great Plains Friday blocking roads and halting air travel.

Another storm left parts of the Northeast buried under a paralyzing two-foot blanket of wet snow, while the coldest weather of the year stung the far Northwest.

Riding in on icy winds with gusts reaching up to 60 mph., the blizzard and cold wave rolled over Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska and the Dakotas and pressed on toward Kansas, Minnesota, Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

Towering snow drifts blocked some main roads in the Rockies. Bus line offices in Cheyenne, Wyo., reported all vehicles from the West were held up until highways could be cleared.

Swirling snow cut visibility and halted air travel in Wyoming. State highway patrolmen cautioned against travel of any kind.

Maine took the worst pounding from a two-day New England storm. Air travel halted, schools were closed, traffic was slowed and some telephone and power lines snapped under the weight of the snow.

Chinese Red Strike At Island Of Nanchi Believed Possibility

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Next on the list of offshore islands the Chinese Reds want to wrest from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek may be tiny, rock-ridged Nanchi, south of the abandoned Tachens.

This definite possibility was being considered in Washington tonight.

Whatever military or psychological factors might be involved, an overt move against Nanchi would present a new hour of decision for the United States—the necessity of either going to its defense, again covering removal of Nationalist troops and civilians as was done in the case of the Tachens, or of simply standing back and letting the Reds seize the island.

Already an unspecified number of civilians have been removed in Chinese Nationalist ships from Nanchi, which is a little more than halfway from Formosa to Tachen.

Ike Considering Proposal To Give Wheat To Russia

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP) — President Eisenhower is reported considering a plan to offer Russia some of this country's huge surplus wheat stocks, as a gift of the American people, to ease any suffering due to shortcomings in the Soviet farm program.

The President is reported not to have decided yet whether to adopt the proposal, the origin of which was not entirely clear.

One report said the plan originated in the office of Nelson Rockefeller, special assistant to the President; another said Secretary of Agriculture Benson had mentioned the idea briefly to Eisenhower, and a third attributed it to the National Grange.

Herschel Newsom, master of the big farm organization, said his office had made such a suggestion in a communication to the White House shortly after Premier Malenkov resigned with a confession of failure to solve the Russian farm problem.

Another major farm organization, the American Farm Bureau Federation, came out against the "giveaway" aspects of the proposal. A bureau spokesman said Russia should buy what wheat it needs with the money the Communists now spend on subversive activities in this country.

He said the Russians have a trade balance of around 50 million dollars in this country which they are unable to spend otherwise and added:

"Let them use that money to pay for wheat if they need it."

Czechs Want Refugees

VIENNA, Austria, Feb. 18 (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia has demanded in a new note to the United States the return of three Czech refugees who escaped to West Germany, Radio Prague reported today.

Dulles Takes Off For Asian Talks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles took off today for a Southeast Asia defense conference at Bangkok, Thailand, predicting that it will "make a real contribution toward the peace and security of the future."

Dulles and his top aides had with them a plan for coordinating military and economic defenses against Communist aggression or subversion.

This broad outline has been developed in working level meetings among representatives of eight nations which signed the Southeast Asia Collective Defense Treaty at Manila last Sept. 8. The nations are the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan, Thailand and the Philippines.

The Manila pact called for a council to consider a defense program. Hence Dulles, British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden and their counterparts will negotiate a final plan during the three-day meeting which opens next Wednesday.

Lena Horne Cancels Night Club Date; Reason Unclear

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—Singer Lena Horne has canceled an engagement in a swank Miami Beach night club and there are two versions of why she did it.

The New York Post said today Miss Horne, a Negro, canceled the engagement at Copa City because the Royal York Hotel in Miami Beach refused her accomodations.

"I think the Royal York canceled my reservations because I'm a Negro," the Post quoted her as saying.

However, Jack Low, managing director of the hotel, said no reservation was ever asked by Miss Horne or for her and "since there wasn't a reservation there was no cancelation."

A spokesman for Copa City, where Miss Horne was to appear beginning Monday, said the singer called from New York yesterday and said "she disliked the idea of coming here."

He said Miss Horne appeared upset about the Lincoln Day dinner incident in Miami, during which some 150 guests walked out of the Hotel Urmey after the hotel management barred entrance to 24 Negro guests invited to the dinner.

The nightclub spokesman said that Murray Weinger, operator of Copa City, told Miss Horne "that if it would make her any happier she could be released from the contract. She agreed that they would exchange telegrams mutually canceling her engagement. This was done."

The spokesman agreed that the hotel was not involved in the case.

The Hotel Warwick in Philadelphia, where Miss Horne was staying, said she checked out this afternoon, leaving no forwarding address.

Bill Approved 295-110, Ending Two-Day Fight

Democrats Give Big Assist; Restricting Amendment Beaten

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower's tariff-cutting foreign trade program was pushed through the House late today with a big assist from its Democratic majority.

After a bitter, two-day fight, the bill was passed on a rollcall vote of 295-110.

But the back of the opposition, led in part by members of Eisenhower's own party, was broken when the House defeated by seven votes an amendment by Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) which would have deprived the President of much of his power to override recommendations of the Tariff Commission for higher trade barriers.

In this key test of the legislation, the vote was 206-199. Reed's amendment was supported by 119 Republicans and 80 Democrats, but opposed by 140 Democrats and 66 Republicans.

186 Demos Vote For Bill

Voting for passage of the bill were 186 Democrats and 109 Republicans. Opposing it to the end were 75 Republicans and 35 Democrats. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Soon after the House action, Eisenhower expressed his gratification in a statement in which he said:

"This program is of tremendous significance to the economic health and security of the United States and our friends in the free world." He did not mention the refusal of House Republicans to unite behind the measure.

The bill, a major part of the administration's program for this session of Congress, extends the reciprocal trade program for three years from June 12 and gives the President authority to cut tariffs up to 15 per cent during that period in return for similar concessions in foreign markets.

President Makes Late Appeals

Democrats carried the major share of the fight throughout the hot debate, and House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) once left the chair to speak for the program on the floor.

Eisenhower made a last minute appeal for support of the program in a "Dear Joe" letter to the minority leader, Joseph Martin (R-Mass). Martin read it to the House a few minutes before voting started.

The President said in the letter ". . . I deeply believe that the national interest calls for enactment of this measure."

As to protests that expanded imports would wreck competing American industries, Eisenhower said:

"Obviously it would ill serve our nation's interest to undermine American industry or to take steps which would lower the high wages received by our working men and women."

Footprint-Tampering Testimony Highlights 'Sin City' Slaying Trial

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 18 (AP)—A former Phenix City police sergeant testified today that footprints found near where A. L. Patterson was murdered appeared to have been tampered with after he showed them to Albert Fuller.

Another witness, a convict who was sent to prison during the Phenix City vice cleanup, identified Fuller and Arch Ferrell as two men seen near the slain man's office just before the shooting.

Fuller was chief deputy sheriff at the time and Ferrell was Russell County prosecutor. Fuller is on trial, charged with first degree murder.

Patterson won the Democratic nomination for Alabama attorney general 17 days before the slaying. The state contends his campaign pledge to rid Phenix City of vice led to his death.

The ex-policeman, Walter L. Sanders, also said he saw the chief deputy leave a cafe about 25 minutes before the killing.

The 35-year-old defendant has said he was in the Russell County jail at the time of the murder and had been there for some time.

Minister Pleads Guilty To Taking Bank Funds

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 18 (AP)—A minister, employed as a bank teller, today pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement.

The Rev. Arthur Chester Chism, 56, was charged with taking currency from two letters sent to the bank—$30 from one letter, $35 from the other.

Field Given $50,000 Indemnity By Poles

Tells Of 5 Years In Prison Cellar

LONDON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Hermann Field told the story today of his five years in a Polish prison cellar. To show for it, he said, he has the manuscript of a novel and a $50,000 indemnity payment from the Polish government.

But he was unable to shed much light on the long mystery of the "disappearing Fields."

He denied emphatically before a news conference that he ever had been a Communist. But said he did not know about his elder brother Noel, the first of the Fields to disappear behind the Iron Curtain. Noel and his wife, Herta, recently were released from a Hungarian prison and remained in asylum in Budapest. Noel's adopted daughter, Erica Wallach, is in a Soviet forced labor camp at Vorkuta.

Hermann, a 44-year-old Cleveland architect, said he does not have the faintest idea why he was arrested and jailed. He said the Poles paid him $50,000 indemnity and $1,500 more for medical treatment during convalescence since his release in October.

He said he had never been an agent for anyone in any espionage enterprise, had never been brought to trial, never was solicited to confess and never heard that any formal charges had been filed against him.

"I think it is very hard for a person in normal life to understand the psychology of a person at the end of such a stretch as this, when it suddenly breaks and you almost break with it," Field said.

"After you have seen only one person at a time, or no person at all for years and years, it is very difficult to face being in the same room with two or three people. I had felt (on his release) an absolutely horror of the idea of the whole noise of life, and the problems of life that stood before me at that point."

He said this depressed mental attitude was what caused him to recuperate for a while in Poland before leaving, and then to live in seclusion with his wife in Switzerland for some weeks.

Boy Calmly Tells How He Slew Girl

DETROIT, Feb. 18 (AP)—"I had to kill her—so she wouldn't tell her mother."

Calm and dry-eyed, 16-year-old Floyd Diamond told state police today in gruesome detail how he stabbed and beat to death pretty 9-year-old Kathleen (Kathy) McLaughlin last night and left her body in an icy pond.

Oakland County Prosecutor Fred C. Ziem said the youth's story to state authorities was almost exactly as he had told it to him three hours after the girl's distraught father lifted the battered body from the freezing waters.

Ziem said it went like this:

Floyd and Kathy were scuffling.

"Then she got mad and called me names," Floyd said, "and I started to hit her with my fists.

"I knocked her down and she jumped up and started to run.

"I got my knife out and started running after her. I wanted to kill her then.

"She tripped and I fell on top of her. The knife (a pocket jackknife Floyd was carrying) accidentally stuck in her back.

"I had to kill her then—so she wouldn't tell her mother what I had done.

"She kept screaming, but I kept stabbing her—5 or 10 times."

In his matter-of-fact tone the boy described dragging the unconscious child 30 feet to the pond.

"She came to, then," he said, "so I found a rock and hit her three times."

Vanderbilt Must Pay Ex-Wife $250 Week

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—A court today ordered Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., 56, writer and traveler, to pay $250 weekly to his divorced fifth wife, Mrs. Patricia Wallace Vanderbilt, 35. She had asked $2,655 a month.

State Supreme Court Justice S. Samuel di Falco also ordered Vanderbilt to pay $3,500 for counsel fees.

Di Falco said his ruling apparently was the first test of a 1953 New York state law permitting a wife to receive separate maintenance and support even though the husband obtained a valid out-of-state divorce.

Vanderbilt had obtained a Nevada divorce on June 30, 1953. The state law was adopted in April, 1953.

The eggs of snapping turtles are good food but must be fried as they will not boil hard.

W.Va. House Hits 'Liquor Accounts' Political System

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 18 (AP)—The House of Delegates expressed one-sided sentiment today in favor of abolishing the long-established political practice of rewarding favorites with "liquor accounts."

The House passed and sent to the Senate by a vote of 72-19 a measure which would forbid state employes or their close relatives from representing distilleries or wineries.

Under West Virginia's monoply system of handling liquor sales, merchandise for the state stores is purchased through resident agents who receive commissions on all sales.

The system broke out in fresh headlines last year when an account formerly held by James Donohoe, then Cabell County Democratic chairman, was transferred to John W. Marland, father of Gov. Marland.

The measure was passed by the House and sent to the Senate, where some sentiment already has been in evidence to restrict patronage practices.

With only a dissenting vote from Sen. Sayre (R-Jackson), the Senate passed 31-1 and sent to the House its plan for raising teachers' salaries.

This is an 8½ million dollar bill to provide pay raises for the next fiscal year and is a companion to tax measures which the Senate already has passed to provide for the needed additional financing.

Veterinarians Given Role In Emergency

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP) — Veterinarians are being mobilized to help treat human victims of any atomic attack on American cities.

The Federal Civil Defense Administration announced today the animal doctors would be urgently needed in a national emergency and should be prepared to help.

"At civil defense first aid stations," the administration said, "veterinarians, under a physician's supervision, will be expected to treat shock, burn and surgical casualties, splint fractures and assist in the care of radiation casualties."

Animal hospitals also will be utilized in an emergency.

Wallace Beery's Adopted Daughter Wins Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18 (AP)—The late actor Wallace Beery's adopted daughter, Carol Ann, 24, today divorced Donald Bliss Hayden, 27, who plays Gale Storm's boy friend on the TV show, "My Little Margie."

"He was very rude to me," she testified. "He shouted at me and screamed at me and used profane language. On several occasions he slapped me."

Hayden did not contest the divorce, granted by Superior Judge Caryl M. Sheldon. Miss Berry's attorney said the couple had signed an agreement waiving any claim on each other's property. Miss Beery, who inherited a large sum from her father's estate, asked no alimony.

Probers Search Ruins Where Six Firemen Killed

BALTIMORE, Feb. 18 (AP)—Detectives and fire department experts on arson today searched the blackened ruins of a downtown store where six firemen died Wednesday night.

Capt. John B. Kenealy, a district police commander, posted a special patrol there and said he had been instructed to "guard the building as the scene of a possible homicide."

Investigators said they planned to put more questions to Herman E. Goldstein, president of the clothing firm which occupied the building. He was interrogated for 8½ hours last night and early today.

The six firemen were buried when the back wall of the building and the roof of a one-story extension at the rear suddenly gave way, catching them under tons of bricks, stone, timbers and other debris.

Separate funeral services were arranged for them next Monday. Six fund campaigns for relief of their widows and children began to grow, with $150,000 as the goal.

Questioned along with Goldstein were two sons, Leonard and Sidney, and one of their salesmen at the Tru-Fit Clothes Co., Louis Phillips.

Capt. Elmer Katzenberger of the fire department arson squad said it was from Phillips the questioners learned the Goldsteins and Phillips locked up the store and left at 8:55 Wednesday night.

Seven minutes later, the doorman at a night club next door saw smoke coming from upstairs windows and turned in the alarm.

Another downtown Tru-Fit store was burned out in a six-alarm fire last June. That alarm also came just a few minutes after the store had been closed for the night.

Wednesday night's fire had almost been knocked out when the wall and roof at the back of the building caved in. A score of firemen were caught in the cascade of rubble. Some of them had been on ladders propped against the back wall from the roof of the extension. Others were just moving hose lines into the back of the building to get at the main source of the fire, apparently in the basement. Twenty-one were injured. Only one remained hospitalized today.

Minimum Mine Wage Opposed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP) — A hearing on a proposed minimum wage order for the soft coal industry recessed today until Monday after a Kentucky coal operator testified that such an order would cripple his sales to the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Robert Stearns, president of the Stearns, Ky., Coal and Lumber Co., said he ended in 1953 a contract with the United Mine Workers union under which he paid a $2.25 basic hourly wage to miners. He said his employes formed a new union, the McCreary County Employes Organization, and agreed to work for an average of $1.50 an hour.

While the lower rates enabled him to bid lower and obtain more coal contracts with TVA, Stearns said he now is beginning to lose some of the business to mine operators paying still lower wages and selling coal still cheaper.

The UMW and major coal producers have asked the Labor Department to establish rates, under the Walsh - Healey Government Contracts Act at levels close to the UMW pay rates. Mine owners then would be required to meet the specified pay rates in order to sell coal to TVA or other government agencies.

Four Election Judges Fired In Fraud Case

BALTIMORE, Feb. 18 (AP)—Four election judges assigned to a 4th District Precinct, where charges of voting fraud were made after the November election, were fired today.

The Board of Elections Supervisors announced the dismissal of the four judges after they declined to appear last night for a hearing.

Albert E. Weir, chief clerk of the elections board, identified the four as Eva L. Smith, Ethel Turner, Melvin Harris and Alvin Raskin, all assigned to the 23rd precinct of the 15th Ward.

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. Feb 18 (AP)—Police arrested Ernest Smithy James after finding 360 doughnuts, 20 hot cross buns, 72 cherry pies, 100 rolls, 36 cinnamon buns and eight cakes in his apartment.

The baked goods was missing from a supermarket a block away after a deliveryman left it in the doorway before the store opened.

James was jailed on a petty larceny charge and his case is scheduled to come up in police court next Monday.

Meade Sewage Problem Seen

BALTIMORE, Feb. 18 (AP) — The State Board of Health got a warning today that new defense and housing developments planned in and around Ft. Meade will produce more sewage than the streams in the area can handle.

Robert M. Brown, chief of the Health Department's Bureau of Environ mental Hygiene, reported the best estimate he can get is that 80,000 will be added to the population in the upper Anne Arundel County area.

The Federal government already is building an installation at Ft. Meade for its National Security Agency, a project which has sometimes been talked of as "bigger than the Pentagon."

One real estate developer is in the process of opening up a project whose goal is 7,500 houses.

Brown told the Board of Health it is vital that a master plan be developed for sewage disposal and "arbitrary development forestalled."

The board approved a four-way attack on the problem.

U. Of Md. Flunk Rate Increases To 5.9 Per Cent

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Feb. 18 (AP)—More University of Maryland students flunked out at the end of the first semester this year, but there was no agreement today on why.

"The requirements for staying in school are just the same," said Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, the Phi Beta Kappa man and Rhodes scholar who became president of the school last September.

Raising academic standards is one of his goals, Dr. Elkins said, but thus far the program has not developed into a precise new formula.

The Diamondback, student newspaper, said in an editorial, however, that some professors have taken too literally the new president's statement about academics and are "overburdening students with exams, term papers, book reviews, and other projects."

Figures from the registrar's office showed 339 full-time students were dropped at the end of the first semester in January because they were not doing satisfactory work. This was 5.9 per cent of the full-time undergraduate student body.

The comparable figures for a year earlier were 244 and 3.9 per cent.

Maryland's Champion Wins Eastern Cherry Pie Honors

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (AP)—Yes, Billy boy, Janet Hobbs can bake a cherry pie!

The 16-year-old West Friendship girl didn't bake the best one today in the 1955 National Cherry Pie Baking contest, but she had a prize-winner.

Janet, who won the Maryland cherry pie baking championship last September at the Maryland State Fair, won the Eastern Regional championship at the national contest. Her pie won by a taste over the entry of Margaret Rolar, 16, of Shippensburg, Pa.

Margaret had to settle for national runner-up honors. The national champion was 17-year-old Marjorie Campbell of Red Hook, N.Y.

There were four regional champions crowned.

Janet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hobbs, is a senior at Howard County High School at Ellicott City. And she's no amateur at this baking business.

She has baked 60 pies in her relatively-short "hot stove" experience and in 1953 was the Maryland State Champion in apple deserts.

For her efforts in Chicago, she received a $250 college scholarship and the stove in which she baked the pie. Janet plans to enroll at the University of Maryland next fall as a home economics major.

She is being chaperoned in Chicago by Mrs. Amy Lever of Ellicott City.

Mrs. Kenny, Mrs. Carolan Honored At Showers

Mrs. Thomas Montgomery, and her sister, Mrs. Joseph Steele, 221 Greene Street, entertained with a party and surprise showers for Mrs. Eugene R. Kenny and Mrs. Philip Carolan, Thursday evening at the former's home in Cresaptown.

A kitchen shower was held for Mrs. Kenny, the former Miss Carol Sue Beal, daughter of George Beal, Mt. Savage, and the late Mrs. Beal, who became the bride of Mr. Kenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kenny, Mt. Savage, January 29. The wedding ceremony was solemnized in the rectory of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, with Rev. Michael Smyth officiating.

The bride's matron of honor was Mrs. Coleta Liller, while Thomas Kenny served as his brother's best man.

The bride was attired in a ballerina length blue lace gown, with which she wore a matching hat and accessories. A corsage of pink rosebuds completed her costume. Her attendant wore a Navy blue costume with white accessories and also had a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Kenny is a graduate of Mt. Savage public school, class of 1953, and keeps house for her father. The bridegroom also attended Mt. Savage public school and last year enlisted in the Navy air force. He is stationed in Florida.

Following the wedding ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Friend, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom, entertained with a wedding reception at their home on Braddock Road. Mrs. Thelma Hess served the punch and Mrs. Thomas Montgomery, the cake.

Mrs. Carolan was honored in celebration of her 11th wedding anniversary, which she is observing at her home, 619 Shriver Avenue, today. She is the former Miss Joan Frances Kenny, Cumberland, and became the bride of Mr. Carolan in Jacksonville, Fla., February 19, 1944.

A pink and white sprinkling can was arranged on the mantel with matching streamers cascading to the shower gifts for Mrs. Kenny.

Mrs. Carolan's gifts were placed on the dining room table, which was centered with 11 white, bell-shaped cakes tied with white ribbon.

Games were played and refreshments were served.

Other guests were Miss Margaret Stowell, Mrs. Thomas Kenny, Mrs. Minnie Stevens, Mrs. Hess, Mrs. Elaine Moran, Mrs. Betty Hise, Mrs. Liller, all of Mt. Savage; Mrs. Friend, Mrs. Michael Cunningham, Miss Ellen Newnam, Cumberland; Mrs. Margaret Hess, LaVale; and Mrs. Joline Nelson, Frostburg.

Bird Club Receives Reports, Plans Program, Schedules

Members of the Allegany County Bird Club discussed plans for a public program March 2 and Nature Camp March 16, and heard reports of feeding stations at the meeting Wednesday evening at the Cumberland Free Public Library. John Workmeister presided.

A color flim, "Sylvan Trails," will be shown by Hal H. Harrison, outdoor editor of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, at 8 p. m. March 2 at Allegany High School. Mr. Harrison is the author of many books on the outdoors and has contributed articles to many leading national magazines. An article about him is in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post. Miss Nan Livingstone is Ticket chairman.

March 16 the program is to be on Nature Camp and a National Audubon Society camp film will be shown as well at the Pleasant Valley film of the club's camp. Mrs. Gordon Taylor, Frostburg, is in charge of the meeting, which will be at the library.

The spring schedule of field trips also was discussed.

Miss Livingstone was in charge of the round table discussion. Others taking part were Mr. Workmeister, Mrs. Gilbert Miller, Mrs. Leo Isaacs, Mrs. Richard Douglass, Mrs. Harry Miller and Mrs. Edgar W. Reynolds.

Letters were read from persons maintaining feeding stations from all sides of town, with approximately 26 varieties of birds reported, as well as the usual birds.

Brown Cap Chickadees were the most unusual birds reported. It was pointed out that this is a northern bird and this is the most southern point reported in winter. Before they were known to range in Pennsylvania and northern New Jersey. All seen were in the Dingle area. The reports were sent in by Mrs. Harold Smith, Mrs. C. S. Catherman Sr., and Mrs. Milnor Roberts.

Another unusual visitor was the Red Breasted Nuthatch. It was reported by Mrs. Karl Perry, Pleasant Valley Road. Another was recorded in Constitution Park by Edgar W. Reynolds. The White Breasted Nuthatch is common here, it was pointed out.

A number of Evening Grosbeck were reported this year, in contrast to the fact that they were rare other years. Mr. Workmeister said he counted 37 in his feeder in Park Heights. It is a large yellow, white and black bird. Mrs. A. Hammond Amick, Hill Crest Drive and Mrs. Smith, The Dingle, also reported having fed some.

The Purple Finch, looking like an English sparrow dipped in raspberry juice," were reported by Mrs. W. N. Kaylor, LaVale, Mrs. Smith and Mr. Workmeister.

Mr. Reynolds reported 97 different species that he recorded this past year in Constitution Park. Miss Livingstone discussed types of feeders and the way to maintain them.

Oldtown Senior Play To Be Feb. 25

A lonely inn at a summer resort after the season is over, two lovable elderly sisters who run the place, a gloomy dark night with a storm brewing, is the picture as the curtain rises on "The Whistling Parrot," a comedy in three acts. To be presented by the Senior Class of Oldtown High School, the play is scheduled for February 25 at 8 p. m.

Out of the night comes Mr. Williams, who says he is a novelist, and his pretty secretary and right after them comes Neil, the old ladies' nephew, who has been away from home for over a year, working at some mysterious job. He reveals that he has been mixed up with a dangerous gang of counterfeiters and that he is now trying to escape them—and the police. Suddenly, the menacing Blackie Barnes and his henchmen arrive and at the point of a gun, take over the inn for the purpose of using the lonely spot as a rendevous with a boat coming to take them out of the country. When it's discovered that it's the same gang Neil's hiding from and Williams true identity is revealed, things really begin to happen. The entire play is filled with suspense and laughter as the two old ladies match wits with Blackie.

The play is under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Carey, of the English department. Student director is Maxine Crabtree. Members of the cast are: Abbie Tuttle, Roena Appel; Annie Tuttue, Paula Harding; Blackie Barnes, Leo Carder; Mort, his henchman, Joe Brown; Appel; Annie Tuttue, Paula Hard-Wolford; Nora Potter, the maid, Viola McCabe; Grham Williams, a writer, Ronnie Erichseen; Joyce Bradley, his secretary, Carolyn Hebb; Neil Tuttle, the nephew, Leroy Allen; Sheriff Jason, Kermit McLaughlin; Belle, a gun moll, Jacqueline Shoemaker; Inspector Humphries, John Ott; a policeman, Levi Faith.

Angela Long, Joann Jones Win Contests For Schools

Two local high school girls have been judged winners in their schools in the Homemaker of Tomorrow contest and will be entered in the state competition.

They are Angela G. Long of Catholic Girls Central High School; and Joann Jones of St. Mary's High School.

Angela is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Kelly Long, 36 Boone Street, and besides being the Homemaker of Tomorrow winner, she also was awarded the Good Citizenship pin by Cresap Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, earlier this week. The DAR contest was based upon a program of accomplishment, along with scholastic standing and extra-curricular activity. In addition each girl was required to complete answers to a number of questions designed to indicate a thorough knowledge of American Democracy and freedoms and privileges of this nation. She chose Alexander Hamilton as contributing most to "Our American Heritage."

Sister Mary Nicholas, principal of Girls Central, said last evening that Angela is a top honor student and an outstanding musician. She plays the organ and piano and is accompanist of the school choral club. She also is a member of the Mission Club, and participates generally in all activities.

Joann is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Jones, West Third Street, and is one of the upper three of her class at St. Mary's, Sister Rosemary, principal, said. A musician, she plays the piano, organ and violin, playing the latter in the school orchestra. She is very active in scholastic work rather than sports, is editor of the school "highlights" and has taken part in various contests.

Besides being entered in competition to name this state's candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow, they will receive a golden award pin, cook books for themselves and their schools.

The national winner is to be named April 21 at an American table fete in Philadelphia.

General Mills is the sponsor of this program designed to assist schools in building in young women a deeper appreciation and understanding of the American home and the personal qualities necessary to successful homemaking.

A scholarship of $1,500 will be awarded each state winner, and she will receive a trip with her school advisor to Washington, colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Philadelphia. Her school will receive a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The scholarship of the young woman named All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be increased to $5,000.

The 50-minute written examination designed and judged by Science Research Association of Chicago, which was given to all participants in the contest, consisted of multiple choice and subjective questions which tested the students' attitude and knowledge in the major areas of homemaking.

Each girl who took the test received a 24-page homemaking guide which will assist her in pursuing the career of homemaking.

With encouragement from his parents and some fundamental scientific training this young man has learned a great deal about shells. He knows, for instance, that the ocean floor is covered with millions of living creatures which would be unable to survive without the protection of the shells in which they live.

With similar encouragement from his parents, and with some fundamental religious training, this young man will learn some far more useful truths about souls. He will learn, for instance, that God's highest creature—Man—lives in a moral environment just as hostile to his survival as that ocean floor, and that Man depends for his protection not on any outer armor, but on the inner being which God has taught him to call his soul.

And when our young man compares shells and souls he will discover that, just as God provides many of his lesser creatures with the means of building up and strengthening their shells, he provides Man with the Church, the Bible, and the Gift of Prayer to enable him to strengthen his soul.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Theft Charge Is Not Involved In Attack Case

KEYSER—Two errors appeared in recent stories printed in The Cumberland News concerning Darrell Rohrbaugh, 32, of Kitzmiller, and Robert C. Simons, 30, of Elk Garden.

It was stated on January 19 that cases listed for presentation to the grand jury include one against Rohrbaugh and Simons charging them with "assault and the theft of more than $100 from John W. Smith, of Elk Garden."

The News, after checking Mineral County Circuit Court records and officials, learned that theft was not involved in the incident and regrets the error.

A story printed February 1 stated Rohrbaugh was allowed to plead guilty to assault and battery, after being indicted for felonious assault, and given a one year sentence in Mineral County jail.

It was further stated that Judge Ernest A. See suspended the sentence and "placed Rohrbaugh on parole" for three years under certain conditions, and that the charge against Simons was dismissed.

Rohrbaugh, following arraignment, stated he was placed on probation, rather than parole, and the court record shows the use of the word "parole" to have been an error.

in the Piedmont League. He later played at Pulaski, Va., in the Appalachian League.

In 1937, however, he suffered an arm injury while playing in a school game here between Pennsylvania Avenue and LaSalle. This injury hampered his pitching for a time, but in 1939 he pitched for the Cumberland Colts and in 1940, pitched for Frostburg in the NABS tourney at Birmingham, Ala.

Man Gives Self Up To Local Authorities

A man identified as Charles N. White, 2?, of Baltimore Thursday walked into County Jail and gave himself up to Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis and Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police.

Baker said White told them he was wanted in Baltimore for "rolling" a soldier and stealing $20 from him. A check revealed Baltimore authorities had a warrant for White's arrest.

The Baltimorean was held in County Jail overnight and was taken to Baltimore yesterday.

Passengers Ask $15,000 Damages

Passengers filed two suits in Allegany County Circuit Court seeking a total of $15,000 damages from the drivers of automobiles involved in separate accidents on U.S. Route 220 last year.

Paul J. Fisher, 528 North Centre Street, through Attorney William L. Wilson, sued Harold S. Everline, 555 North Mechanic Street, for $10,000. Fisher states that he was a passenger in Everline's car which left Route 220 about seven miles north of Moorefield, W. Va., striking a tree. This occurred last August 5.

Fisher contends he sustained a concussion and a number of disfiguring scars on his forehead, head and right arm.

In the other suit, Jerry T. McGraw Jr., 52 Wempe Drive, through Attorney Leslie J. Clark, seeks $5,000 damages from Austin Bible Jr. of Detroit, Mich. McGraw states that last September 4 Bible's car struck a pole on U.S. 220 about three miles northeast of Cumberland. He sustained injuries to his right arm, neck and back, McGraw adds.

Car Engine Overheats

Firemen from Central Station were called to South Centre Street and Dexter Place during the rush hour at 5:15 p.m. yesterday in response to a report that an automobile was on fire. They found that the fire, blamed on an overheated carburetor in the automobile of Dolores Keller, 345 National Highway, LaVale, was out on their arrival. They were back at the station six minutes after departure.

Eskin Attends Speech Forum

George Eskin, 16-year-old Fort Hill High School student who won the Maryland "Voice of Democracy" contest, left Thursday for Williamsburg, Va., where he will participate in a national youth forum along with other state and national winners.

Eskin and representatives from 34 other states will discuss "Is the Bill of Rights Out of Date?" at a workshop today, after which the group will go to the famous House of Burgesses chamber of the 18th Century capitol to consider a 1955 Bill of Rights.

It was in the House of Burgesses chamber where the Virginia Bill of Rights was unanimously adopted in 1776 as the first written guarantee of individual liberty in this country. That document was the basis for the Federal Bill of Rights.

Eskin and the other Democracy winners will be guests at a dinner this evening, at which Dr. Vannevar Bush of the Carnegie Institution of Washington will be the principal speaker.

Two Wills Filed

Two wills were admitted to probate yesterday in Orphans Court.

The will of Aden C. Grove, who died July 16, 1954, named his daughter, Edna Naughton, of Westernport, as executrix and chief beneficiary. Provision was also made for other children of the deceased.

The will of Jessie Vada Estes, city, who died February 15, named her step-son, John Lawrence Estes, as beneficiary. Paul M. Fletcher was named executor of the document and he posted $5,000 bond.

Carole Reith Begins Her Practice Teaching

Carole Elizabeth Reith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Reith, 339 Bedford Street, is practice teaching in music education at the John A. H. Keith School of Indiana (Pa.) State Teachers College, from which she received her bachelor's degree in May.

Following her graduation, Miss Reith will be certified to teach music on the secondary and elementary school levels.

Plans For Sports Car Hill Climb Here Are Outlined

Plans for a sports car hill climb contest on the Breakneck Road in June were outlined to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today by Dr. Benjamin Skitarelic, local sports car enthusiast.

The car enthusiast was accompanied to the meeting by Joseph Mullenax, president, and Curtis Nash, treasurer, of the Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company.

Dr. Skitarelic appeared before the board to ask permission to have the Breakneck Road closed to traffic on Saturday and Sunday, June 18 and 19, in order to have the contest. He explained that all the property owners along the one and one-half mile stretch upon which the hill climb will be held have signed an agreement by which they assent to the plan.

Dr. Skitarelic also said that insurance will be taken to cover any damages. Members of the Washington Sports Car Club will assist in setting up traffic and safety patrol for the route and doing everything to hold the event without endangering property or persons, he stated.

It was brought out by the physician that plans will be made for any traffic which must of necessity traverse the Breakneck Road. Only one car will be on the road at one time as all the contestants will be running against time.

Dr. Skitarelic also said that spectators will be safeguarded and a plan will be set up to make sure they are far enough away from the road so as not to be in any way endangered.

Finally, he said the event will attract many of the same sports car enthusiasts who have been coming to Cumberland for the sports car races held at the Municipal Airport. He said the visitors will bring in revenue to motels, hotels, and restaurants and places of entertainment.

The Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company will act as co-sponsor of the event and will sell refreshments on the days of the contest. The physician is also a member of the fire company.

It's The Payment, Not The Interest

Toward the end of the year there was about $30 billions in consumer credit outstanding in this country. At the same time there was about $22 billions in installment credit. Of course installment credit applies to time purchases governed by contract.

These are statistics that are supposed to have some meaning to businessmen who examine them for an inkling as to whether the buying public is getting overextended. But developing recently is a trend in financing that certainly obscures the real meaning of the consumer credit statistics to say nothing of the towering mortgage debt total.

Some lending agencies have begun to advance money for consumer goods purchases by reopening mortgages written against homes. Through this "open ending" device a mortgage that's partly paid down may be run back up to release money for the purchase of just about any kind of consumer goods that strikes the home owner's fancy. This way the home owner or his descendants could stay in debt forever or at any rate as long as their dwelling possessed any collateral value.

Of course an automobile bought by this method could cost its owner twice its value in interest payments over the protracted life of the mortgage. But money thrown off in interest apparently doesn't worry people the way it did formerly. Mostly today's buyer is concerned with the amount of his monthly payment.

But carried far enough this trend could play havoc with the statistics on debt. There's supposed to be $75 billions in mortgage debt outstanding. How much of that actually is mortgage debt, and how much of it is "open ended" consumer debt?

These Days

The AFL And CIO Merger

There was a time in the middle 1930s when it was possible to argue over the future of trade unionism in the United States. In the middle 1950s, that is no longer a moot question. The strong, well-financed, politically powerful trade union has become a norm of American life. About one-quarter of the American labor force, 15,000,000 workers, belongs either to AFL or CIO unions. To argue that these members are coerced into paying dues and striking against their will is to raise an unsolvable issue. There has been no demand on the part of any large group of workers that unions be abolished.

The new AFL-CIO will not only represent an enormous concentration of manpower but several billion dollars of reserves, much of which is being invested in common stock, often in the particular industry which the union serves.

No matter what has been said of the Taft-Hartley Law, it has run from the 80th Congress to the 84th without change or amendment and has strengthened the unions. The history of trade unionism in the United States will show that the Wagner Law gave the unions a tremendous impetus, the Taft-Hartley Law stabilized union procedure, and while in the political strategy of unionism it was felt necessary to denounce Taft-Hartley, the reason it was not abandoned has been that the unions did very well under it. They have become enormously rich and if their wealth increases at the present pace, it will not be long before they come into possession of many industries, not by a Socialist revolution but by the normally capitalist process of buying the shares of companies on the Stock Exchange.

The new national labor organization will be more powerful than either international union was during the period of competition between them. But with power must come responsibility. The agreement was correct in excluding racketeers and subversives, but that is not good enough. The racketeers need to be excluded actually and physically. All labor leaders know who they are and what unions they have invaded and which they control.

Similarly, the trade union leaders know who the Communists are and they do not strengthen public confidence by permitting unions expelled for having been led by subversives to return to American trade unionism by the back door of amalgamation with decent unions. That can only mean an open door for infiltration.

That many unions are accepting their responsibilities seriously is apparent in the publication of annual reports. But the democratic method of choosing union leadership is still to be hoped for and will undoubtedly come as the unions become more stabilized and businesslike. It is one thing to manage a union that is struggling for its existence; it is another to run a union whose business operations involve several hundred million dollars—and the members know as much arithmetic as the leaders.

The criticism of the labor union therefore shifts from theorizing as to whether they should exist at all to objections to racketeering, subversion and unstable practises. The course fixed in the middle 1930s of a recognized American type of trade unionism regulated by act of Congress and supervised by the National Labor Relations Board is now fixed in the American industrial system. The remaining independent unions are not very different from AFL-CIO unions and often are as great a trial to management. No large industry in the United States is without some type of union organization.

The fear of the merger then is unrelated to the industrial aspects of trade unionism but does arise from the uncertainty of the use of manpower and cash for political manipulation. While tight limitations are placed on political contributions of corporations and individuals, practically none are placed on the trade union or their related organizations. They could corrupt the entire electoral process with their abundant tax-free dollars if they so chose. Furthermore, they could develop a class-conscious political system which might be modeled after the British Labor party or become affiliated with international communism.

This fear could not have existed in the era of Samuel Gompers; it merits thought and study these days when a doctrinaire Socialist, such as Walter Reuther is, may be the effective leader of 15,000,000 men. It is not altogether impossible that by 1960, this may be the prevailing issue in a presidential campaign.

Dulles Makes Subtle Approach To People Of Russia

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Most of the emphasis in the news nowadays is on the Far East, so it is natural that the discussion on Wednesday night by Secretary of State Dulles about the islands off the coast of China received primary attention, but the fact is there was something far more sensational to be read between the lines of the same address. It was the subtle yet deliberate approach to the people of Soviet Russia over the head of the existing government.

In times like these, speeches by the secretary of state are not casual affairs. They have their genesis in memoranda prepared after man hours of consultation by planning staffs and specialists in particular fields of international affairs. So what Mr. Dulles said to the people of Soviet Russia—for his speech was widely broadcast throughout the world — is especially significant because of its deliberateness. He declared with respect to the recent repudiation of Malenkov as premier:

Basic Policy Difference

"Undoubtedly what we see is in part an elemental, personal struggle for power. But also one can perceive the outlines of a basic policy difference. There must, in Russia be those who are primarily concerned with the welfare, the security and the greatness of the Soviet Union and its people. But there are others who would have the Soviet Union and its power serve primarily as a tool of international communism and as a means of achieving its worldwide ambitions. These two ends, the one symbolized by the state and the other by the (Communist) party, do not always coincide.

"To us, the party and the state in Russia usually seem indistinguishable, because many individuals serve in dual capacities. But Lenin and Stalin constantly emphasized the distinction between the two. 'The party,' said Stalin, 'is not and cannot be identified with the state power.'

"We also should keep that distinction in mind. The time may come—and I believe that it will come—when Russians of stature will patriotically put first their national security and the welfare of their own people. They will be unwilling to have that security and that welfare subordinated to the worldwide ambitions of international communism. If their point of view should prevail, then, indeed, there could be a basis for worthwhile negotiation and practical agreements between the United States and the new Russia. Then there might be reactivated the historic friendship between our countries and our peoples."

Distinction Is Clear

The foregoing paragraphs constitute a masterpiece of diplomatic expression and could have a tremendous influence on the course of world affairs if they are given the emphasis abroad that they deserve.

For it will be noted that Mr. Dulles plainly calls for a reawakening of Russian patriotism, a return to the spirit of national pride which enabled the government of Moscow in past generations to play a vital role in the maintenance of the peace of Europe.

The distinction is clear — the Communist party is not satisfied to confine its ideology to Soviet Russia but must carry on a "cold war" and engage in tactics of infiltration to undermine all the other governments of the world in what has become known as Communist imperialism. But there are men—Mr .Dulles calls them "Russians of stature"—who will "patriotically put first their national security and the welfare of their people."

Who are the men to emerge as leaders in that movement? Mr. Dulles mentions no names, but one wonders if he wasn't thinking of a group which is typified by Marshal Zhukov, who, like other military men, fought solely to defend Russia and who now look askance at meddling beyond Russia's own borders in a worldwide conspiracy that can only lead to eventual war.

What Secretary Dulles is calling for is the rise of a government in what he terms "the new Russia." This, he says, would bring a "basis for worthwhile negotiations and practical agreements between the United States and the new Russia."

This is a better formula than "coexistence," because it does not assume a continued domination of the satellite states nor the continued oppression of the masses in Soviet Russia with armament burdens. It implies also the establishment some day of a free government in Moscow, or at least one that is not ruled by a dominant political party which is so tied into the government as to commit it to worldwide imperialism aimed at the conquest of other peoples.

The speech by Mr. Dulles lays lays down a platform of idealism which ought to have the enthusiastic support of our allies and bring great encouragement to the people behind the iron curtain.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

First All-American was Thomas Jefferson. We mean both North and South America. Tom looked so far south of the border he came up with penguins.

Although the Costa Rican-Nicaraguan fermentation was probably Moscow-primed we don't think it would have gone any further than a hobbled hoss.

There are twenty-one republics in the organization of American States. There are six vacuum-packed on the Isthmus of Panama.

You can never tell where the political Adam's apple is on that infuriated neck of land.

But Jefferson recognized the dove-tailed implications when he said a little rebellion now and then is a good thing. As essential in the political world as storms in the physical.

Everything busting loose now was crystal-dropped by Jefferson almost two centuries ago. He foregandered the OAS when he said, "The day is soon here when there will be a meridian of partition down the middle of the Atlantic."

But how about this, "I shall rejoice to see the fleets of Brazil and the United States riding together as brethren of the same family with the same interests."

That happened during World War II. And included other South American republics which had become powerful since Tom's time.

The mess on the isthmus started as a personal hassel between President Somoza and Figueres. It had to be handled as carefully as an egg candler grading fresh country atoms.

We know the Costa Rican political exiles plotted on Nicaraguan territory. If you rule that out you must cancel Simon Bolivar.

Bed Rest Important In Infectious Hepatitis Cases

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Infectious hepatitis is caused by a virus that invades the liver. The disease is not as contagious as mumps, measles, or the common cold and is spread in much the same way as was typhoid a generation ago: via contaminated water, milk, or food.

Hepatitis resembles typhoid in another way. Both maladies occur in all parts of the world and at any season of the year. But the two diseases differ in that modern sanitation and inoculations have eliminated typhoid in this country. In contrast, infectious hepatitis is on the increase although data along this line are inaccurate because many cases remain undetected.

Early hepatitis is indistinguishable from flu. Loss of appetite, headache, and constipation are prevalent for the first few days along with vague abdominal distress. In others, the onset is acute with headache, nausea, and high fever. Up to this time there is no indication that hepatitis is responsible for symptoms.

The first clew of liver involvement is when the skin turns yellow on the fourth or fifth day. But hepatitis may never reach the jaundice stage and unless certain laboratory tests are done, the condition is mistaken for another cold.

The mild case often spreads the disease. The victim, unaware of the nature of the disorder, acts as a reservoir for the virus and is likely to contaminate food and drink, in mingling with others.

Bed rest is important, especially in more serious cases. When jaundice disappears, the patient may think he is well enough to return to work but the assumption is false. More time is needed for the liver to heal and as a rule, 30 to 40 days must elapse before laboratory tests show the organ to be normal.

A diet rich in proteins and carbohydrates saves wear and tear on the liver. ACTH and cortisone are used occasionally but are not curative.

Attempts have been made to perfect a preventive that will work as well as typhoid vaccination. To date, gamma globulin heads the list. It is credited with bringing certain epidemics under control but many authorities are not convinced of its protective value. Until the product is proved useless, however, physicians will continue to recommend it for anyone who has lived in close contact with a victim of hepatitis.

BUSY SPOT

D. L. writes: Please explain carotid sinus.

REPLY

This nerve center is located in the neck, below the angle of the jaw. The carotid sinus plays a role in the regulation of blood pressure and pulse rate.

STOP SHOPPING AROUND

C. V. writes: I have had 30 doctors in 20 years but still suffer from arthritis, frequent colds, allergy, and sinus trouble. What would you advise?

REPLY

Pick a good physician in whom you have confidence. You have a series of ailments that are difficult to cure and it would be better if you gave the physician you select time to study your case. It is possible you may have to learn to live with these conditions.

AGE OF LESION

B. W. writes: When X-ray of the chest is made, how can a doctor tell whether an exisiting lesion is old or new?

REPLY

Sometimes it is impossible to make this determination and the physician must look for other signs of acute infection and send blood and sputum samples to the laboratory for study. If these measures produce no clew, the X-ray is repeated in three months, to see whether there are signs of regression or progression of the lesion.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A Wall Street broker, slave to his work, saw his wife off to the country and stayed away from other women for almost three hours. Then, naturally, he couldn't stand it any longer and called up his very private secretary. "Put on your glad ags," he ordered, "and meet me at the Stork in 40 minutes." When he donned the trousers of his own glad rags, he found in the right pocket a note in Friend Wife's handwriting. "Caught you!" it read. "Is this trip necessary?"

Quote from "Hints on Etiquette and the Usages of Society," published in London in 1834:

"Well-bred people arrive as nearly at the appointed dinner-hour as they can. It is a very vulgar and obvious assumption of importance purposely to arrive half an hour behind time. Besides, this gives eight or ten hungry and impatient people an irresistable opportunity to discuss your foibles and tear your reputation to shreds."

President Has Aeronautical Headache Over Route From Seattle To Hawaii

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower is having aeronautical headaches. He's just had a terrific headache over an air route between Seattle and Hawaii and he's about to have more over a route to Alaska. Part of the trouble is the present White House system of staff work whereby the President, following the general staff system in the Army, takes the recommendation of his staff without knowing too much about the facts behind their recommendation.

Here's the inside story of what's been happening.

After long study, the Civil Aeronautics Board recommended that Northwest Airlines continue its present operation between Seattle and Hawaii in competition with Pan American Airways, and that Northwest be given a permanent license to fly the great circle route over the Arctic to Tokyo.

This decision against Pan American, the pet airline of both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations, automatically went to the White House for confirmation. And this is where Ike's headache began. For his Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks immediately moved in, together with Undersecretary of Commerce Robert Murray, even though Murray had just submitted his resignation.

They recommended that the President reverse the findings of his CAB and rule for Pan American. Trusting his two Commerce Department executives, that was exactly what the President did. He ruled that Northwest Airlines could no longer fly the route between Seattle and Hawaii, leaving Pan Am to fly that route without competition; also refused to give Northwest a permanent route over the Arctic to Tokyo, thus opening a possibility for Pan Am to get that route later.

Extra Saturday Session

When this news broke, things really began to pop around the White House.

First, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota phoned Gov. Orville Freeman, new Democratic governor of Minnesota, requested that the Minnesota Legislature pass a resolution demanding that Ike follow the advice of the CAB. The legislature promptly did so. Simultaneously various Northwestern state chambers of commerce served by Northwest Airlines planned a trek to Washington.

Simultaneously, also, Senator Humphrey phoned Assistant President Sherman Adams.

"The President's ruling will jeopardize one of the most important enterprises in the Northwest," he said. "He should be better informed before he reverses experts who have been studying this question for months."

Humphrey, a Democrat, asked for an appointment to see the President but was told Ike couldn't possibly see him for about a week. This was on Thursday, February 3.

However, as protests began to roll in, Adams hastily called Republicans to a conference for a Saturday morning, February 5. Ordinarily Ike goes away on Saturdays. But Adams knew that on the following Monday that mayors of Minneapolis and St. Paul, plus the governor of Minnesota, plus several chambers of commerce would be descending on the White House.

To head this off and to take the play away from Democrat Humphrey, Ike held an emergency meeting with two Minnesota Republicans—Sen. Ed Thye and Congressman Walter Judd. Secretary Weeks and Undersecretary Murray, who originally caused the trouble, also attended.

At the meeting Ike complained that he hadn't been given all the facts. He had been told that Northwest Airlines had received a greater subsidy than Pan Am, a piece of information based on an outdated report and definitely not the case. Pan Am's total subsidies are greater than any other airline's.

Result: The President completely reversed himself, came out for Northwest as originally recommended by the CAB.

Another Air Headache

All week, acting CAB Chairman Chan Gurney, frequently friendly to Pan American Airways, has been trying to get an entirely different ruling OK'd by the White House before new CAB member Ross Rizley takes his seat.

This pertains to the Alaskan air route between Seattle and Anchorage, the most important and profitable route to Alaska.

Pan American now flies between Seattle and Fairbanks, and last December the CAB voted to give it the additional juicy route between Seattle and Anchorage. Since then a storm of protest has come from Alaskans, and since then Pan Am seems to be less enthusiastic about this route and not averse to seeing friendly Pacific Northern Airlines get the Anchorage-Seattle line.

At any rate, Pan Am and Pacific Northern are now working against Alaska Airlines, a small but energetic competitor which has pioneered the bleak bush country in the upper part of the territory. Alaska Airlines serves a total of 64 towns and cities in the far-flung Arctic, having gained the reputation of stopping at almost any cluster of Eskimo huts where there's an airport. This kind of traffic is not profitable.

In contrast, Pan Am serves only five cities in Alaska, while Pacific Northern serves 11, chiefly on the Anchorage-Kodiak run. An airline can make up for the heavy cost of serving small towns if it gets the much more profitable traffic between Anchorage and Seattle.

Lighting Lenten Fires

By Brother Barnabas

A slow train on a pip-squeak railroad running through the cotton belt of the South stopped at a jerk-water station where a group of idlers had gathered to see "No. 6" go through.

A fresh passenger leaning out of the window addressed a buxom bystander with: "Hello, Auntie! How many people around here enjoy religion?" Her ready reply was: "All them as has it does!"

Auntie said a mouthful, for religion is not designed to make folks crabby and sour, but winsome and happy. And that is why we are looking forward to Lent, with such eager anticipation.

This year Lent begins February 23 (Ash Wednesday) and ends with Easter, April 10—a span of 47 days by the calendar, but 40 days net, since seven Sunday's occuring within the period are not counted.

What a time of refreshing awaits us all! A time for resting tired feet made so by tripping the light fantastic;

A time for abstention from calories that add poundage to one's embonpoint where it isn't needed;

A time for adding beauty and strength to one's physiognomy.

Out of Cold Storage

Housecleaning time! Now one cleans out the litter from under the rug where it was swept when the preacher was coming unexpectedly.

The windows of one's soul are washed so the light of heaven can shine through. Bibles are dusted of their cobwebs. Church pews are warmed. Religion is brought out of cold storage.

Even if one were dubious about life after death he would wash his face every morning just to preserve self-respect. And by the same token he should decently go to church, read the Bible, and behave himself.

That's being smart and intelligent, whether one be a somnambulist, a fundamentalist, or any other kind of a religionist.

Consult your dosier. When was the last time you darkened the church door? Did the congregation gasp when you entered?

When the offering plate was passed did you drop in a pound, or a farthing, or were you Scotch?

A certain woman in traveling abroad ran across a new religion. It was the orthodox kind, but with all the difficult features carefully removed. There was no Cross, no self-denial, no sacrifice, all was sweetness and light.

"How did you get by the customs with it?" inquired Phillips Brooks.

"Oh, there was no tariff on religion," she replied. "I see," quipped the great divine, "there were no duties."

Who the devil is, where he came from, where he is going, and what he is roaring about I refer to the savants in the department of esoterics.

I only know he is afraid of holy water, and if you resist him he will flee from you. (See James 4:7).

A Lot of Sophistry

"I didn't see you in church last Sunday." "And I didn't see you there either." The colloquy was overheard between two slackers, neither of whom was present. Never lie, unless it's necessary, and then only temporarily.

There's a lot of sophistry about what passes for religion. Didn't I eat my fill at a church supper, and play bingo for God? He ought to let me off easy.

You object, there are too many hypocrites in the church. Granted, but one more won't make any difference.

If you haven't been to church for a long, long time, you will need to be wised up on how to preserve the proper sanctitude.

If when you enter they are singing "Will there be any stars in my crown?" don't go to sleep counting the stars, but keep awake wondering whether "when the roll is called up yonder" you will have any crown at all.

There's never a dull moment in church, unless the sermon happens to be. Somebody is always going to sleep, adjusting his collar, cupping his chin, closing his eyes as if in prayer till the collector gets by.

The more staid the occasion the funnier a break appears, whether it be a twisted word, an awkward sentence or a ludicrous situation.

At a crowded funeral service the preacher requested: "Will the congregation please stand — on their feet?"

Tried To Atone

A stranger entering a service in a small country church at night plunked himself down in the back row.

Evidently he had imbibed too much of what "in this friendly, freedom-loving land of ours belongs." Nevertheless, in atonement, he dropped a ten-spot in the collection plate.

When the preacher saw the generous donation he whispered to one of the deacons to cotton up to the stranger with a view to annexing him to the fold and report the findings:

The deacon reported that he looked like a Reformed Episcopalian, was dressed like a Methodist, his trousers holed at the knees with praying, and at the seat with backsliding, and he smelt like a Two-Seed-in-the-Spirit Predestinarian Baptist.

Brothers, when you make your Lenten devotions, please light a candle for yours truly,

BROTHER BARNABAS

An article in a Soviet magazine blandly declares that American women have been enslaved by their husbands. Obviously, the Russian pen is flightier than the sword.

The Soviet writer says love is only possible under communism. That guy doesn't know the difference between a dull Red and a blushing pink.

A Michigan state legislator who wants parking meters banned in that state labels them as being "un-American." How can a machine be un-American when it will operate only by means of U. S.-minted coins?

Beall Wins Two Titles As Fort Hill Tops Allegany, 59-57

Finzel's Team Routs Indians In 106-71 Tilt

Frostburg School Takes First WMI Title Since 1934

FROSTBURG, Feb. 18—Running up what is believed to be the highest scoring total in the Western Maryland Interscholastic Basketball League, Beall High's Mountaineers tonight blasted Mt. Savage's Braves, 106-71, to capture the WMI crown.

Jimmy Sigler poured 31 points through the hoops for the Mounties who broke the strangle hold on the league title held by Cumberland schools for many years.

The triumph, coupled with Allegany's spine-tingling 59-57 loss to Fort Hill at Campobello, broke a deadlock between Coach Ebbie Finzel's Frostburgers and the Cumberlanders to give Beall the league diadem for the first time since 1924. It also avenged an earlier 51-49 setback at the hands of the Braves for the Finzelmen.

The 106-point total, registered on 43 field goals and 20 of 36 free throws, is topped only by the 129-33 decision by LaSalle High's Explorers over Barton in 1945. While the 129 points for LaSalle is thought to be a county school record the mark was not made in a WMI league game.

Sigler paced the Mountaineers, who also bagged the county Class A crown, with 13 goals and 5 for 6 at the foul line. Mike Finn chipped in with 20 in the scoring marathon before a packed house in the Beall gym. Finzel cleared his bench for Beall with the second team playing the entire final quarter.

Richard Walters with 17, and George Bishields and Bill Clauson each with 16, topped the Mt. Savage attack.

Charles Luman left the game via personals in the final period for Mt. Savage. The lineups:

ARGYLE "Pete" Wilson, the Flintstone novice middleweight boxer, lost on a technical KO in the third round of the Pittsburgh Golden Gloves Tournament on Tuesday night.

Wilson was in a bad way after being floored and the match was stopped.

It was Wilson's third amateur match. He's won one and lost two.

COULD THIS BE LaSalle's year to win the city basketball championship?

If the Explorers do come through it would be a coincidence.

LaSalle last won it in 1945. In fact, the Explorers bagged four in a row—1942, 1943, 1944 and 1945. George Geatz was the team's sparkplug in 1942 and 1943 while Tommy Geatz, his brotner, was the ace in 1944 and 1945.

Now we find LaSalle leading the city race with a 2-0 record. Phil Geatz, center, is the team's top point-maker and George Geatz is the coach.

AFTER a recent schoolboy basketball game someone asked one of the coaches how come there were only 12 personals called. Both teams, he said, had used a new brand of soap that made the game clean.

MORGANTOWN High School has adopted the name "Mohigans" for its athletic teams.

Although the name "Mohigans" differs from the one in James Fennimore Cooper's novel it will be no surprise to hear Morgantown teams tagged with "The Last of the Mohicans" whenever they run into lean years.

Few nicknames have any real connection with the school they denote. There aren't any Indians in Mt. Savage but there are Bears in Tucker County where Thomas High teams function and there are Wildcats in the Davis territory but no Panthers in Parsons.

West Side High School of Fairmont which played Fort Hill's football teams in recent years got its nickname the "Polar Bears" back in the days when Frank Ice was coaching teams at that school.

Sammy Palumbo is marking his 28th year as a jockey. The 45-year-old saddlesmith, who hails from New York, is now accepting mounts at Charles Town. Sammy rode his first winner in 1927.

GENE GUARILIA'S 42-point splurge was the highlight as Potomac State College snapped its 8-game losing streak when the Catamounts whipped West Liberty on the Hilltoppers' court Tuesday night by the score of 103-84.

It was State's first win since West Liberty was turned back at Keyser on January 18 by the score of 95-84.

THE PAST YEAR brought a few changes in the "top ten" most popular breeds of dogs, according to American Kennel Club registration figures.

Beagles, who rose to top place in 1953, cemented their position with 53,138 registrations in 1954, a gain of nearly 6,000 over the previous year.

Cocker Spaniels, which led all breeds for 17 years, went to second place in 1953 and dropped to third last year with a registration of 37,185.

Boxers rose to second place with 40,667 registered in 1954. Dachshunds are fourth and Collies, for more than 70 years in the front ranks of America's best liked breeds and fifth in 1953, dropped to sixth displaced by Chihuahuas, smallest of all breeds, with 24,033 registered last year.

German Shepherd dogs hold 7th place and Boston Terriers, eighth. Poodles moved up to 9th place and Pekingese, which they supplanted, are tenth.

The Poodle, incidentally, has risen to such heights of popularity in England that the miniature variety leads registrations in the British Kennel Club, the first time in 20 years that any other breed in that country has superseded the Cocker Spaniel.

DUDLEY DeGROOT, head grid coach at West Virginia University in 1948 and 1949, is among 100 applicants for the post of grid mentor at Utah State.

DeGroot, whose teams at Morgantown won 13, lost 9 and tied one, sent in his application from Germany.

CARL BROWN, the lad who came through in the "clutch" in several games recently for Allegany high's basketball team, once played for the Kiwanis Club in the Hot Stove Baseball League.

Manager Sherman Weatherholt recalls the day that he gave Brown the bunt signal as the latter stepped up to the plate.

"Instead of laying the ball down, Brown teed off on the first pitch and hit one of the longest home runs I've ever seen a kid wallop," Weatherholt said.

"Nice bunt," the manager remarked as Brown completed the circuit and returned to the bench.

"Thanks, manager," Brown replied.

BY JOHN W. KNOWLTON

Jerry Landis, Fort Hill's diminutive guard, dribbled the length of the floor to drop in a layup basket just as the final whistle sounded to give the Fort Hill High Sentinels a thrilling upset victory over the Allegany Campers last night, 59-57.

A screaming crowd of over 800 fans which jammed the Campobello gym rocked the rafters at Allegany as Landis' goal knocked Coach Walter L. "Bill" Bowers' Alco quint right out of the Western Marvland Interscholastic Basketball League title and the Allegany County Class A diadem.

Allegany's loss, coupled with Beall High's triumph at Frostburg over Mt. Savage, 106-71, gave the Mountaineers the WMI title to break the Campers' three-year hold on the crown. In 1951 Fort Hill captured the WMI and Class A titles and Allegany had held both since then. It was Beall's first league crown in the WMI since 1924 and the first time in the history of the Frostburg school it had captured the Class A laurels.

Last night's engagement between the two city schools was a spine-tingler right from the start. The score was tied at 2, 7, 30, 32, 34, 55 and 57 before Landis broke it up for good. The lead changed hands 10 times and the largest lead held by either team was Allegany's seven-point margin at 45-38 midway in the third period.

Fort Hill battled the heavily favored Campers all the way, finally applying the pressure in the late stages of the game after Allegany had led throughout much of the first half. The Sentinels, scoring first on Dorcil Kline's jump shot maintained its margin until Carl Brown dumped in a goal and a pair of fouls to give Allegany the lead 11-10. Galen McGregor's set shot put Fort Hill in front at the quarter 12-11.

Allegany then went ahead on Brown's jump toss and a pair of fouls by Rod Breedlove, continuing in front at intermission, leading 28-24.

Fort Hill battled back to outscore Allegany, 12 field goals to eight in the second half, finally tying the count at 30-all early in the third stanza.

Allegany again crept ahead to lead 45-38 with only seconds to go in the third quarter. McGregor's set shot from 20 feet out and a one-hander by the Sentinel guard seconds later made it 45-42, Allegany, as the period closed.

With Allegany leading 51-46 early in the last period Landis and Raines each potted a pair of foul tosses to bring the Sentinels within a point at 51-50. Kline's set shot then sent Fort Hill in the lead and another set heave by Landis put the Sentinels in front, 54-51.

Breedlove fouled out with 1:40 left for Allegany and McGregor converted one of two chances to make it 55-53. Brown tied it at 55-all with a pair of fouls and after Landis once more put Fort Hill ahead with an overhead heave, Allen Haines dropped in a set shot from about 25 feet out with only 50 seconds left to tie the count for the last time.

Landis grabbed a rebound off the Fort Hill backboard and dribbled the length of the court to register the winning goal.

Allegany, outscored 20-15, from the field, converted 27 of 34 foul shots at the 15-foot stripe to nearly win the game at the foul line.

Brown paced the scorers with 22 points while McGregor had 16 for Fort Hill.

Souchak Retains Texas Open Lead

Freddie Haas' 129 Trails By Stroke

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 18 (AP)—Burly Mike Souchak scrambled to a 3-under par 68 today to retain his lead at the halfway point in the $12,500 Texas Open golf tournament with 128.

Scores generally soared under pressure and a gusty wind.

Freddie Haas, the Claremont, Calif., belter, turned in a 67 to breathe on the neck of the former Duke University football star as the field was cut to the low 60 shooters and ties. Haas' 36-hole total rested at 129.

The 6,400 - yard Brackenridge Park course proved tricky with the wind and some of the hotshots faltered as the field of 167 moved to the trimming down period.

In a tie for third place were Al Balding of Toronto, Canada, and Jack Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., each with 131. Paul McGuire of Wichita, Kans.; Bob Rosburg of San Francisco and John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich., were next in line with 132's.

It required 140 to make the final 36 holes for the professionals and among the prominent golfers who failed to land were Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., former National Open champion, and Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., usually a heavy winner on the golf trail. Boros wound up with 143 and Ford 141.

Franklin Tops Davis, 75-57

FORT ASHBY, Feb. 18 — Franklin High School's Panthers wound up the season tonight with a 14-6 record by trimming Davis High School's Wildcats from Tucker County to the tune of 75-57.

SS. Peter & Paul Needs Sunday Win To Tie For Lead

SS. Peter and Paul quint needs one victory to gain a tie for first place in the Catholic Youth Basketball League and Coach Bob Mattingly's floormen hope to register it Sunday when they tackle St. Patrick's of Cumberland in the opening game of a twin bill on SS Peter and Paul court at 2 o'clock.

The first half champions have the Indian sign on St. Patrick's, having beaten the North Centre Street quint four straight times last season and three in a row thus far in current campaign, 40-24, 42-37 and 57-33. Hence, a St. Patrick's win would come as a quick shock to the boys from Fayette street.

St. Michael's, the league leader at present with a 7-2 record is idle today. SS. Peter and Paul trails with 6-2.

Mt. Savage plays St. Peter's, Westernport, in the second game on tomorrow's card here.

The second half race ends Thursday night with SS. Peter and Paul playing Mt. Savage here and St. Michael's at Westernport in the feature battles.

Little Dell Wins In Startling Upset At Hialeah Park

Favorite Finishes 14 Lengths Back; Winner Pays $27.40 For $2

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 18 (AP) — In a startling upset, C. V. Whitney's Little Dell captured the first division of Suntanners Purse at Hialeah Park today. Belair Stud's Ambient, a pronounced choice at 2 to 5, finished fifth in the field of seven sophomores over the mile and a furlong.

Boos and catcalls greeted Ted Atkinson as he returned to the unsaddling enclosure on Ambient, which was beaten a total of 14 lengths. This is the same horse that earned Atkinson a similar treatment of jeering when Ambient was beaten at 2 to 5 by Uncle Gus at Tropical Park on Jan. 10.

Little Dell, a candidate for the $100,000 Flamingo on Feb. 26, showed electrifying improvement over his two previous Hialeah starts. He assumed command after turning into the backstretch, widened out somewhat on the turn and was in no trouble through the final drive, as Hedley Woodhouse steered the son of Mahmoud home five lengths clear of Teanecker.

A. F. Yoerg's Charles A. was third, 2½ lengths back of Teanecker and a similar margin before Apollo. Then came Ambient, four more lengths away. Ambient was in fourth position to the 5-furlong pole, where he stopped suddenly and dropped completely out of it. The track was termed good, although it was rough and somewhat greasy. It may have bothered Ambient.

Little Dell, which rounded out a double for Woodhouse, paid $27.40, $13.40 and $6.50. Teanecker's mutuels were $10.00 and $5.10. Charles A. was $4.30 third. Apollo and Charles A. are also candidates for the Flamingo. The time was 1:51 3-5.

The weather was clear and sunny, and a crowd of 17,914 patronized the course.

G. M. Cohen's Jess Linthicum, an 8-year-old gelding who won four races at Tropical, added another purse to his credit when he outran 10 opponents in the six-furlong second, completing a $63.60 daily double. Handled by apprentice Ray Mikkonen, the veteran broke in front and stood a long drive gamely to beat Superupper by a neck in 1:13 3-5. He paid $7.20. Pheasant Boy was three lengths farther away, while So Surprised took fourth.

Charles Wins Over Norkus

Ez Cops Unanimous Decision At Garden

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—Ezzard Charles came back from two beatings by Rocky Marciano, sluggish and wild but sharp enough to batter over-matched Charley Norkus for a unanimous 10-round decision tonight at Madison Square Garden. Charles weighed 191½, Norkus 195½.

The former heavyweight champion, now 33, dropped Norkus with a right hand to the jaw in the early seconds of the ninth round. The sturdy Norkus teetered to his feet at four, rocking backward, and stood while Referee Harry Kessler counted the automatic eight.

There was no doubt about the lopsided decision with Referee Kessler scoring it 8-1-1, Judge Jack Gordon 8-2 and Judge Joe Agnello 9-1. The AP card was 8-2.

Boos rolled down from the crowd of 5,304 paying $17,230, apparently in disappointment that Norkus, a 4 to 1 underdog, didn't come through.

It would have been a shutout on Agnello's card if Referee Kessler hadn't awarded the sixth round to Norkus because of a low blow. A borderline hook that landed when Norkus had his back to this observer cost Ezzy the round.

Coaches' Lament

DETROIT (AP) — Buddy Parker, coach of the Detroit Lions in the NFL, was more than disappointed when Les Bingaman, his 350-pound lineman, announced his retirement from pro football.

"They should have given us two picks at the draft meeting to replace him," lamented Parker.

Commissioners Favor Repeal Of 1953 Act

Inventory Exemption Has Reduced Basis

A resolution was unanimously adopted by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday calling on the county delegation to the General Assembly to introduce legislation for the repeal of the 40 per cent exemption on county taxation of the inventories or stock of goods of businesses and industries.

The resolution states:

"The effect of the provisions of this act has been to remove from the assessable tax base for Allegany County approximately $8,700,000 in merchandise inventory assessments previously taxed.

"The loss of this assessable base has resulted in a loss of county revenues for the current fiscal year of approximately $173,000 and has imposed a serious financial problem in this County.

"The County Commissioners do not believe that Chapter 592 has any real industrial significance, was not adopted in response to any request by the Mercantile Division of the Chamber of Commerce, does not increase job opportunities and does not result in a tax benefit to industry commensurate with the total financial loss to the county, which position is borne out in the report of the Civic Development Committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, dated February 17.

"The entire picture concerning the purpose and effect of Chapter 592 was fully and completely discussed by the County Commissioners with the State Senator and county delegation at a joint meeting held February 15," the resolution says.

"The delegation has requested that a formal resolution be adopted by the county commissioners and forwarded to the delegation to serve as a basis for legislative action.

"The county commissioners do hereby formally request that appropriate legislation be introduced by the Allegany County delegation to provide for the repeal of Chapter 592 of the Acts of 1953, the same being absolutely essential to safeguard the future economy of Allegany County."

Wilkinson Opposes Aid To Hospital

A resolution introduced by Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson at yesterday's session of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners calls for the denial of the request of the board of governors of Memorial Hospital for an appropriation of $150,000 towards construction of an addition to the hospital's nursing home.

When the resolution was introduced Commissioner William H. Lemmert stated that he would like a copy of the resolution and time to study it before making a decision. He also said the county board is awaiting a decision as to what the City of Cumberland is going to do in regard to a request by the hospital that it also contribute $150,000.

Wilkinson's resolution states: "It is the opinion and belief of this commissioner that Memorial Hospital should be itself responsible for any improvements or additions to the hospital and that the only extent to which the county should allow itself to be responsible would be to perhaps permit the hospital to use the county's credit to secure said amount of money but with the definite understanding that the hospital would be solely liable for the payment of said indebtedness and interest.

"The Allegany County Hospital and Infirmary is greatly in need of improvement and enlargement in order to be able to take care of the many indigent citizens who require hospitalization but cannot afford to get it elsewhere."

Wilkinson proposes "the Board of County Commissioners present this plan or offer to Memorial Hospital board and, in the event it is rejected, then, instead of the county appropriating $150,000 for the use of Memorial Hospital, said sum shall be used for the improvement and enlargement of the Allegany County Hospital and Infirmary."

Developing the contour of your bust takes time and exercise . . . don't give up too soon!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Having enough interest in your figure to do something about it—that is every woman's right and privilege. You both look better and feel better when your proportions meet self-decided specifications.

Many of you have asked about exercises for developing the bustline. This process requires time. You can count on six weeks of steady effort before you will notice any change. Don't weaken — development will come!

"Spot" exercises for curvier curves do not actually increase the bust; they strengthen the pectoral muscles underneath, and the result is a fuller measurement.

For Practice

Here is a good build-up exercise that sounds easy, though it isn't. Sit with arms raised forward at shoulder level, elbows straight, and palms down. Imagine that there are two heavy books in front of your hands (but do not use real books). Very slowly, keeping elbows at shoulder level, pull "books" toward chest until the fist touch it. Relax and repeat 20 to 40 times. Gradually slow your pace, striving for more and more muscular tension in the arms and chest. Cease "pulling" the moment you feel fatigued.

Exercise Two: Kneel on floor, spread feet a bit, and rest on your heels. Grasp ankles with hands. Simultaneously arch back, drop head backward, push lower spine forward, retract abdomen. Hold position. Lazily raise right arm forward, and rotate it until hand is well back of shoulder, reversing swing, return hand to ankle. Perform action with left arm. Return to starting position and repeat 10 to 20 times, depending on your fatigue span. The second you tire, give up.

One More

Exercise Three: Sit cross-legged holding your head high, your back straight, your abdomen in. Place finger tips of right hand on your right shoulder. With your elbow describe circles in the air, going forward, up, outward, backward and down. Swing bigger and bigger circles each time around, 10 times. Reverse, making circles backward, upward and forward, 10 times. Rest, and repeat with the left arm. This exercise slims the arms, as well as developing a fuller bustline.

RIU To Retain Organization

Representatives of the six locals of the Railroad Industrial Union met in Cumberland Thursday and voted to continue the organization.

Elmer E. Davis, president, said the charter will be maintained regardless of the fact that the union lost bargaining rights for engineers and firemen on the Western Maryland Railway.

The representative election was won during the past month by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen winning out.

The RIU said it is continuing to represent the two crafts, pending a decision from the attorney general of the United States. The RIU has charged the brotherhood with coercion in connection with the election, Davis declared.

At the meeting it was decided to prepare for another representative election within two years.

Davis said the RIU will attempt the organization of another railroad during the next two years.

Sylvan Retreat Retention Urged By County Board

The recommendation of the Civic Development Committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce that Sylvan Retreat, the county's mental institution be closed in order to save tax revenues was given a cool reception by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday.

Commissioner William H. Lemmert, board president, said he wanted time to study the complete Chamber committee report, but in no event would he favor abandonment of the mental institution without a referendum by the voters. He also pointed out that the state pays $35,000 annually towards taking care of the 82 patients now in the institution. He said an effort has been made previously to have the state contribute about twice that amount.

Commissioner James Orr stated: "I'm strictly opposed to any procedure which would close the institution." He also said the state should contribute more than it does for the care of the patients.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson said the Chamber group may not be familiar with the situation but it is a fact that most of the patients at the institution can't pay for their care. He also said that if these persons were sent to the state institution then the county would have to pay for their keep there.

It was brought out that a majority of those at Sylvan Retreat are persons who are considered not amenable to treatment. Those who are susceptible to treatment are sent to Springfield State Hospital. Another factor is that the families and friends may visit them here while if they were at Sykesville the visits would be few and far between.

One comment was made that the entire matter cannot be judged on a "dollars and cents" basis.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 18 (INS)—At dinner at Ruth Waterbury's, Burt Lancaster told me that he and Harold Hecht have completed the deal for "Trapeze."

"You know," said Burt, "The thing I am glad about is that we have the entire Cirque D'Hiver Bougloine, the hit of Paris, which will work with us all through the picture. Jean Bougloine, head trapeze artist and owner, will teach Gina Lollobrigida (lucky man) to swing on a high trapeze. Director Sir Carol Reed is lining up other circus acts."

"Are you going with Burt?" I asked pretty Norma, the blonde Mrs. Lancaster.

She held up her hand and said, "I and the five are going." (By the five she meant their five children.)

Burt is still wearing his crew haircut left over from "Rose Tattoo" "but it's growing," he said.

Martin and Lewis are switching Gabors. In their last picture "Three Ring Circus," Zsa Zsa went with them on location to Arizona where Rubirosa was supposed to have sneaked in in his expensive plane to see her for a day.

Now Eva — Gabor, that is — has been signed in New York for "Artists and Models" for the role of Sonja, the glamorous spy.

In his home town, Dallas, today is Audie Murphy, the pride and joy of one of my favorite cities. Virgil Meirs, drama editor of the Dallas Times Herald, wires me that Audie bought a two story, four bedroom, 90 acre estate, complete with stock barns and stables, and he'll move his family there to live between pictures.

Audie will be on the Horace Heidt TV show tomorrow night, and Virgil says that the premiere of "To Hell and Back" will be held there June 1. Thanks for the news, Virgil.

Glamor beauty Leigh Snowden returns to the scene of her crime—the Navy base at San Diego for the role of the Navy nurse with Donald O'Connor in "Francis Joins the Navy."

Ted Briskin flew out from Chicago just long enough to kiss his attractive bride, Colleen Miller, and wish her luck on her new picture, then business took him back home. So Colleen just has Tony Curtis and the cast and crew of "The Rawhide Years" at U-I to keep her company.

Added to this cast today was William Gargan, and it's something of an event as he hasn't made a movie since 1949. He's been concentrating on television first as "Martin Kane, Detective," and then "Confidential Agent." Welcome home, Bill.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

At the Martin Von Dehn dinner, Zsa Zsa Gabor was with Franchot Tone, and never once did she mention Rubirosa. They left the Von Dehns and went on to the Mocambo and Ciro's.

Diana Lynn was with Andy McLaglen, and Rhonda Fleming was with Paul Hesse. I was sorry to miss this dinner, because the Von Dehns always give delightful parties.

James Cagney's niece, Mrs. Rufi Klim, welcomed her second little girl at Queen of Angel's Hospital. The happy papa telephoned the news.

Louis B. Mayer has been chosen principal speaker at the American Cinema editor's annual dinner on March 24 at the Ambassador.

Someone who saw the sneak of "Oklahoma!" in Riverside said that there's never been anything like it, it's so good. It was shown in CinemaScope because the Todd-AO isn't yet ready.

Thrush Toni Arden is bringing them into the Mocambo.

Mrs. George Gobel's birthday was Thursday, and Peggy King's was Wednesday, so the two girls got together and made it a dual celebration.

Had my reservations for New Orleans to join Margaret Ettinger and Kay Dietrich, but at the last minute some unexpected business came up and I couldn't make it.

Sunday, the infant son of the Van Heflins will be baptized, with Director George Sherman acting as godfather.

Ethel Waters, now in good health, arrived here today to open at the Carthay Circle a week from Monday. She calls her act "At Home With Ethel Waters," and seeing it during its run is a must with most people.

Kurt Frings represents Audrey Hepburn and Jose Ferrer, but he says Mel Ferrer belongs to the William Morris office.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

DON'T BUY IT AT ALL

AT AN auction or bargain sale, the canny buyer always tries to get what he wants at the lowest possible price, never paying for any item more than it is worth to him. If some merchandise appears which probably is worth nothing at all to him, he won't buy it at any price. Both of those principles apply to sacrifice bidding. When you make such a call, it is only because the prospective loss will be less than what it would cost for the opponents to make their contract. But when there is reasonable doubt about their ability to make the contract, there is no sense at all in sacrificing against them.

West had estimated that he could take seven tricks himself plus probably one in his partner's hand. If so, he would have been down only two tricks for 500 points, as he explained to his partner, which would have been a sound sacrifice to prevent a vulnerable game worth more than 600. Instead, the defenders had six tricks, to put him down three, before he took any, all of which cost 800, or more than the value of a vulnerable game for them.

East then chimed in to say that the sacrifice bid would have been unsound even if West had been not vulnerable, since the 500 cost of it then would have been worth taking only if the opponents could make their game.

Look at all the chances for their contract to fail, East urged. First, unless South, after dropping one club honor, had enough clairvoyance to avoid finessing the 10 against the other, he could not have brought in that suit after the heart K opening. Second, South might have finessed the diamonds the wrong way, or might have tried the spade finesse. Double-dummy play could have given South eleven tricks, but there was a scad of ways whereby he could fail to take nine, and therefore a sacrifice was an unwarranted risk.

Wishbones And Kinkajous

Some of the most curious people in this or any other town bob up night after night in Steve Allen's "Tonight" show, so curious in fact, that I dispatched Operative X-1 from this office around to the Allen office to inquire if these people were just a figment of Allen's imagination or if they really existed.

Well, they exist all right. Lurking in the hall outside the Allen office was Mrs. Sparrow, a palmist who reads character by palm imprints on paper. When she appeared on the Allen show, she got in the mail 2,500 palm imprints. She's dying to get back on, as is apparently everyone else who has or hasn't been on.

Among others who have been on the show are Joe Interleggi who claims he has the world's strongest teeth—he uncaps beer bottles with them—and who on "Tonight" pulled a truck containing 10 people with his teeth. Then there's Delphine Binger who'd also like to get back on the show. She has the world's largest collection of chicken wishbones. She engraves things like happy birthday on them and sells them. Or Ben Belefonta, the Rhyming Inventor as he calls himself, who's been on three times. He invents things like the Tally-phone which records the number of phone calls you make in case you suspect the telephone company of overcharging you.

The man who assembles this madcap crew is Dale Remington, associate producer, who arrives at work at 1:30 p.m. and is besieged with calls the rest of the day from people who want tickets, who want to get on the show, from agents who want their clients on the show or people who want to give their products away on the show.

Operative X-1 found Mr. Remington seated at a desk next to a pile of boxes reading "The Open Pit Barbecue Sauce — Just Right With a Mild Bite." Mr. Remington was saying into the phone: "Are they going to be chosen Miss Hunter College? Four carnival queens? Where can I get back to you?" He hung up. The phone rang again. Mr. Remington listened: "What is the National Guard quota?" he inquired. "If you find out, let me know. I'll try to give you a date next week."

There is an ever-growing group of people who were once content to entertain their friends in their own parlors; now they just have to get on television and it's Remington's job to cope with them. Many of them would perform for nothing but the unions won't stand still for that. When the amateurs discover that they not only get on

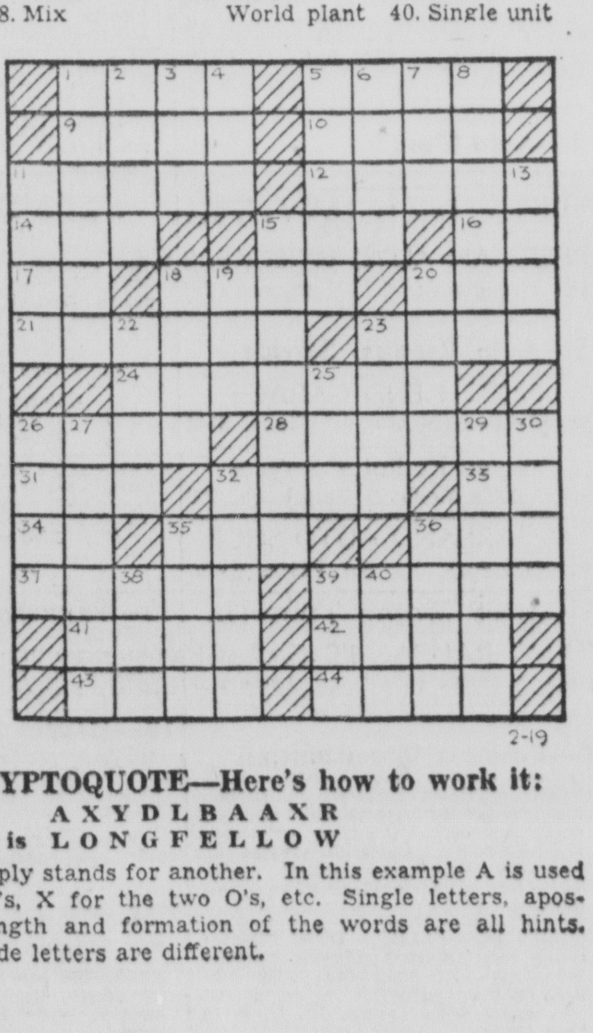
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

In Memoriam

MARVIN — In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Laura Marvin, who passed away 1 year ago, Feb. 19, 1954.

No one knows how much we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered. Since we lost you
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers;
Sweetly tender, fond and true;
There is not a day, dear Mother,
That we do not think of you.
Son and Daughters.

Market Rallies After Wave Of Selling, Closes Higher

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—A major selling wave hit the stock market today, but it bounced back from the effects of the hard blow and closed higher.

The advance actually was the best of the week and put the market up again to peak levels.

Recovery from the state of affairs began soon with the radio-televisions, steels, and aircrafts well out in front of the rise. The railroads and airlines also had a big hand in the strong showing.

Near the start of the final hour selling began and gained speed until the tape was swamped and unable to keep pace with actual transactions on the floor. The congestion lasted about half an hour.

Selling spent itself quickly, and the congestion cleared with prices not only showing improvement from their lows but also in many instances surpassing their previous high marks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 70 cents at $159.90, equal to the all-time high established last Tuesday.

Volume expanded to 3,660,000 shares compared with 3,030,000 shares traded yesterday.

Hupp Corp. topped the most active list for the third straight day unchanged at 8½ on 69,000 shares. It was followed by Emerson Radio up 1 at 15⅞, Pan American World Airways up ½ at 20¼, International Telephone up ⅝ at 27, and Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton up ⅛ at 16⅜.

Janes WSCS Holds Silver Tea Party

KEYSER—The WSCS of Janes Methodist Church, Keyser, held a silver tea at the home of Mrs. Sallie Mason on Water Street recently, with a number of members from other local churches present. The president of the society, Mrs. J. T. Tisdale and Mrs. Margaret Vauls, vice president, acted as hostesses. Refreshments were served buffet style, with Mrs. Ruth Moore at the table, which was decorated in Valentine day motif.

Mrs. Catherine Baker took photographs of the group. All but one member of the WSCS unit was present with the exception of Mrs. Eliza Tross, who has been a shut-in for a number of weeks. Refreshments were sent to her home following the meeting.

Radio And Television

television but get paid for it, they become wildly persistent.

Animals are getting very popular on "Tonight" and Remington is also in charge of animal procurement as well as collectors of chicken wishbones. They've used a kinkajou, snakes, a camel, horses, a steer, monkeys, mice, hamsters, a lion cub, dogs, cats and birds. There's quite a lot of dough in showing off your pets on TV. The man who owns Zip, the chimp who roller skates, earns—according to Remington—$90,000 a year with the little fellow on TV guest shots.

Not all the interviews go smoothly. When they had the steer on, Allen asked where it was headed after the show. "He's going to be slaughtered a half hour after he leaves the theater," replied the owner calmly. Animal lovers were horrified. Jim Moran used to show up with a different animal each time which he claimed to have found in Central Park. Remington tried hard to get a giraffe for this bit but found that it was impossible to fly one in; their necks are too long for airplanes.

"While I was there," reported Operative X-1, "Remington got calls from—let's see now—a manufacturer of children's pipe cleaners who wanted someone to demonstrate how to make little animals out of colored pipe cleaners, from Remington Rand which wanted to furnish the razors to remove Steve and Skitch Henderson's beards, from a young lady who wanted Steve to sing a song commemorating the National Guard, from a BBD & O vice president who wanted to know if they had enough Griffin shoe shine kits to give away during audience interviews, from the Third Division, Marnie Corps, which wanted a Marine in the audience for Steve to interview on the 10th anniversary of Iwo Jima and from "The Barber's Journal" which wanted to send a couple of barbers over to shave off Steve's beard in style."

City Will Mark Start On Sewage Treatment Plant

Ground To Be Broken Tuesday Afternoon

The City of Cumberland will hold a brief ceremony here Tuesday afternoon to mark the breaking of ground for its new sewage treatment plant, according to William H. Buchholtz, commissioner of streets and public property.

Mayor Roy W. Eves will officiate at the ceremony planned at 3 p. m. on the site of the plant near Offutt Street.

Commissioner Buchholtz said members of the council will be asked to participate in the program unless they have prior commitments.

Invite Civic Officials

Special invitations also will be extended to civic leaders who have been vitally interested in the project for many years.

Among those present will be Robert T. Regester, Baltimore, consulting engineer who drew up the plans and who has been hired by the city to provide engineering supervision during construction.

Regester is scheduled to be here Tuesday to sign the contract for the engineering work which was awarded by the Mayor and Council Thursday afternoon.

Buchholtz said yesterday that the Moyer Brothers Company, which was awarded the $1,531,006 contract to build the plant, is getting set up on the site and expects to begin construction Tuesday if the weather is favorable.

To Cost $2,000,000

He said the company has made a frost test and has found that the frost has not penetrated the ground deep enough to hamper excavation work.

The plant, designed to treat the sewage of the Cumberland metropolitan area, is expected to cost up to $2,000,000 when all incidental costs, such as engineering, rights of way, and financing are added.

The work is being expedited so the plant will be working by the time the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company begins operations at the plant it is building at North Branch.

Three Injured As Cars Collide On Route 40

A Fort Hill High School student was hospitalized and two other persons were less seriously injured late last night in a two-car collision at the intersection of U. S. Route 40 and Nave's Crossroad east of the city.

David Roche, 15, of DeHaven Road, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital with a severe laceration of the face.

Glendon Michael, 17, of Cumberland, also a student at Fort Hill, was treated at the same hospital after he broke some front teeth in the accident.

State Police Trooper First Class Donald R. Wade and Trooper Robert D. Wolford said Roche was riding in the front seat of a car driven by Michael.

The troopers said Michael's car rammed into the rear of a vehicle driven by Mrs. Dorothy Ann Buskey of Bedford Road, a teacher at Ridgeley Elementary School, who had stopped on Baltimore Pike to make a left turn onto Nave's Crossroad at 10:30 p. m.

They said the impact snapped the front seat in Mrs. Buskey's car, throwing her and two unidentified women passengers into the back seat and slightly injuring both passengers.

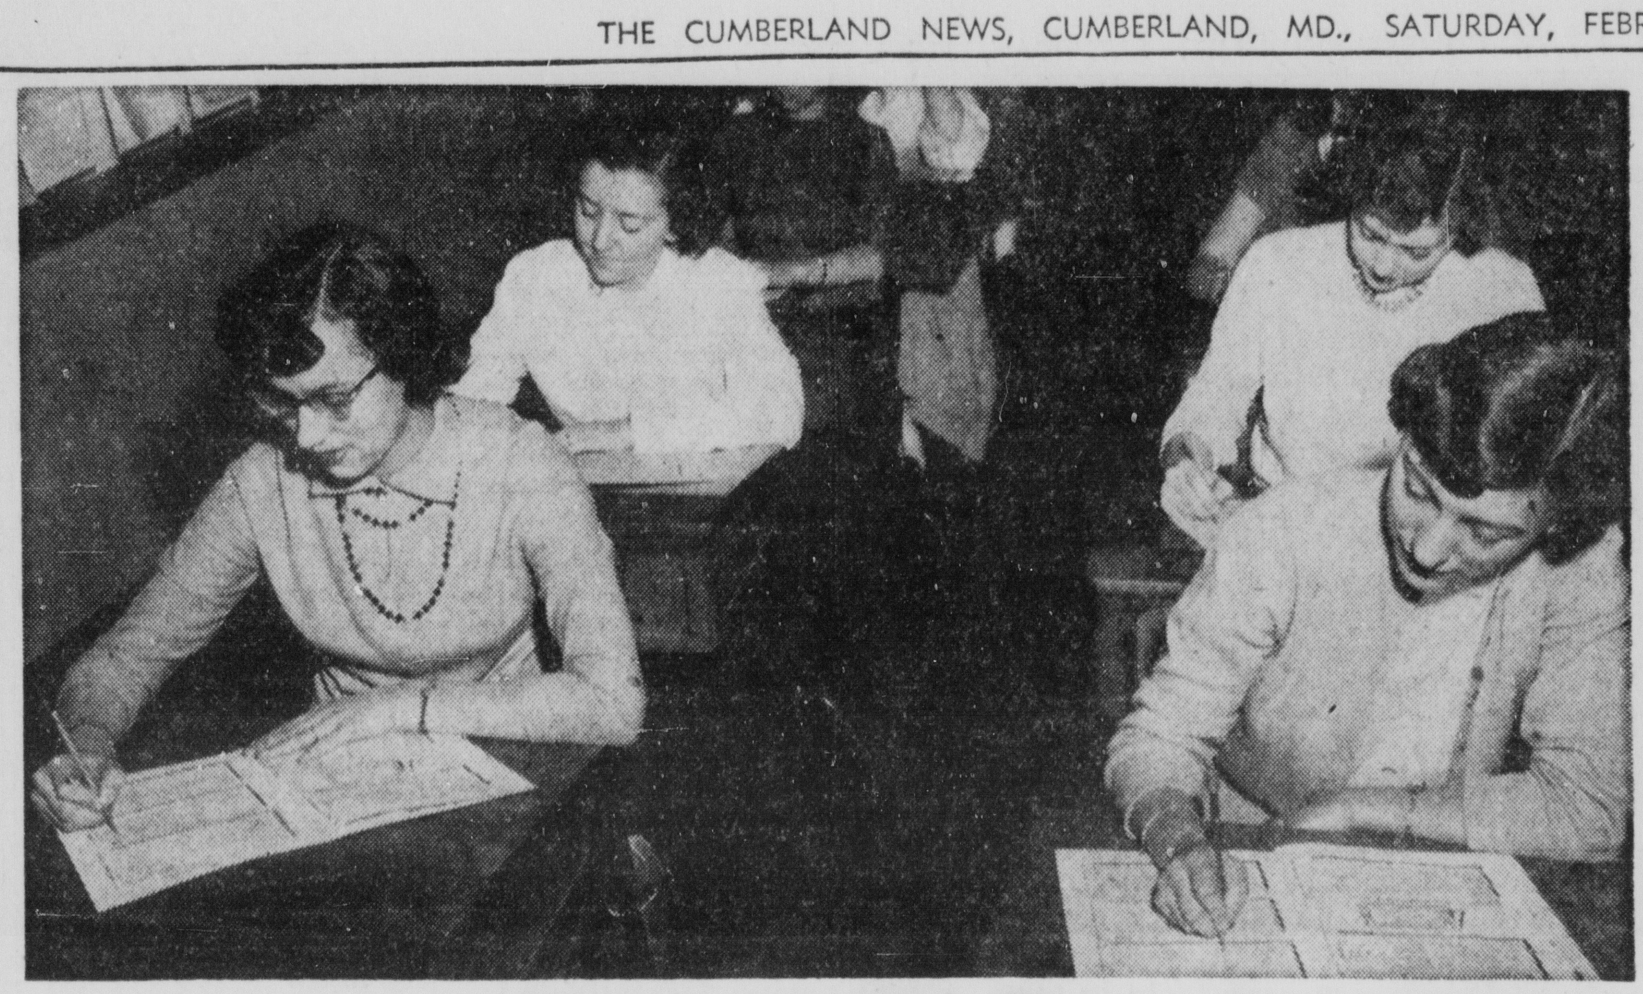
The car was pushed about 100 yards down the highway, and both vehicles were described as "a total loss."

Wade and Wolford said Michael would be charged with reckless driving.

Rev. Zimmerman Will Preach At Citadel

Rev. Fred Zimmerman, pastor of First Congregational Church, Frostburg, will preach the sermon at the 11 a.m. worship service at the Salvation Army Citadel.

He is exchanging pulpits with Capt. Daniel Biggs, commander of the Citadel, as part of the area Brotherhood Week observance.



This Is How It's Done

These Allegany High School juniors, who are taking first year bookkeeping, are shown filling out some of the forms this week in a special course they have been taking on the Federal Income Tax. Some of the students have become so proficient, according to Miss Irene Lapp, their teacher, that they have been assisting adults in preparing their income tax forms. Pictured in the left row, front to back, are Barbara Adams and Juanita Heavner. Right row, front to back, are Elizabeth Quartucci and Helen Hixenbaugh. Material for the class has been supplied by the Internal Revenue Service.

Allegany Students Take U. S. Income Tax Course

By ALBERT D. DARBY
News Staff Writer

Students in Miss Irene Lapp's four first-year bookkeeping classes at Allegany High School have been studying a most practical subject this week — the Federal Income Tax.

Miss Lapp is one of the veteran teachers at Campobello but she still likes to utilize new ideas for her pupils. This year she decided to obtain material from the Internal Revenue Service of the U. S. Treasury Department for this one-week general course.

The Internal Revenue Service supplied handbooks for the students and special instructions for the teacher along with several "blow-up" sheets of income tax forms which can be posted on the blackboards for use by Miss Lapp in her lectures.

Right on the second page of their handbooks, the 160 juniors enrolled in Miss Lapp's first-year bookkeeping classes can see in graph form how the budget dollar of the federal government is divided. Out of each dollar 43 cents comes from individual income taxes, 31 cents from corporation income taxes, 16 cents from excise taxes, six cents from customs and other taxes, and the other four cents from borrowing.

Sixty-eight cents of that budget dollar will go for major national security (military, mutual military program. atomic energy and stockpiling), 22 cents for charges fixed by law (interest, veterans, grants to states), and the other 10 cents is the cost of other government operations.

The student's handbooks contain a form letter from T. Coleman Andrews, commissioner of internal revenue, which explains that this course has been prepared to help the students understand the "how" of filling in returns and paying taxes and something of the "why" of paying taxes.

"The purpose of this course is to aid and encourage you, as America's taxpayers of tomorrow, to join with the Federal tax authorities in assuring the continued success of our system by maintaining a high level of voluntary compliance," Andrews concludes.

The handbook shows samples of applications for a Social Security account number, a Social Security card and an employe's withholding exemption certificate which must be done by the young person upon obtaining employment.

Miss Lapp has been getting her bookkeeping students to fill out a number of different income tax forms using hypothetical examples. The first case concerns John Doe who had a part-time job which paid him less than $600. Miss Lapp has found that a number of students in her classes have just such after-school and Saturday jobs. They have learned that they must file an income tax statement in order to get back from the government that portion of their wages that was withheld. If they made more than $600 they will have to pay the income tax.

In a second problem the boys and girls fill out the form for John Doe now that he is five years old, is married and has a child. Finally, they fill out their own or one for their parents.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Andrews has written the teachers that this course has been expanded greatly from its begining last year when it was designed primarily to meet the needs of the student who had tax filing responsibilities.

This year's course has been expanded as a result of suggestions of teachers who want more difficult study for their youngsters.

Miss Lapp explained that a number of other teachers in Allegany County also have taken advantage of the opportunity to teach this special course.

County Board Hears Critic Of Pay Boost

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners, which has received several thousand cards and letters in support of a salary increase for county teachers, yesterday heard an outspoken critic of the proposed $500 boost at the board meeting.

Loraine E. Eisenberg, Windsor Road, asserted that the county commissioners must not overburden the taxpayers, who already are carrying a heavy load. He contended that a large percentage of the Board of Education's budget already goes for teachers' pay.

Many of the young teachers have had part of their education paid for through the GI Bill of Rights, Eisenberg observed. What's more, he said, when they decided to study for the teaching profession they knew that the pay was low just as a young minister knows that he will be underpaid.

Eisenberg concluded by saying that teachers do not have to work more than 30 hours a week and for only nine or nine and one-half months of the year.

Two representatives of the County Teachers Association appeared before the commissioners yesterday morning to report on their discussion Thursday with the County Delegation in Annapolis. John D. Kelly and Raymond O. McCullough told the commissioners that the delegates said they would make no decision in the matter until after hearing from the county commissioners on the latters' recommendation.

Alpha Payne, 521 Valley Street, asked the commissioners if she could be re-employed in the kitchen at the County Infirmary. County authorities said she had quit at the Infirmary and since has sustained a broken leg. She was referred to Dr. J. E. McLean, county physician, for a physical examination.

Fleming Assumes Duties As Blue Cross Representative

Phil Fleming, 516 Sheridan Place, has been appointed representative of Blue Cross hospitalization insurance program here, to succeed William J. Edwards who retired. Fleming assumed his duties February 1, and has his offices in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building, Baltimore Street.

Well known throughout this area, Fleming is known as the baseball pitcher who pitched the local American Legion Junior Baseball team to the World Series championship in 1934. Fleming, as a youngster, played with the local Junior Legion team in three consecutive seasons, 1932, '33 and '34.

Shortly after his pennant-winning victory he was signed by the Boston Red Sox and was farmed to Danville, Va., where he played

State Vets' Unit Slaps Lottery Plan

Would Provide Bonus For GIs

BALTIMORE, Feb. 18 (AP)—A proposal to finance a Maryland veterans bonus by a state lottery ran into its first public opposition today—from a veterans group.

Walter S. Fisher, secretary of the American Veterans Committee in Baltimore said:

"We find the lottery bonus bill to be less palatable than any so far foisted upon the Legislature."

Representatives of five other veterans organizations tentatively agreed Wednesday to campaign for a lottery bonus, including the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Catholic War Veterans, Disabled American Veterans and the AMVETS.

Their decision must be approved by executive bodies of their groups. Having the final say would be the Legislature and Maryland voters.

A bill to set up a lottery has been introduced at Annapolis by Del. Hodges (D-Balto 6th). Voters would have to pass a constitutional amendment for a lottery to be legal.

Fisher contended the fact the bill provides for a statewide referendum is probably the reason 32 other members of the House of Delegates joined Hodges in sponsoring the bill.

Fisher declared the referendum requirement "probably is the escape mechanism for those sponsoring the legislation. They probably do not sincerely seek its enactment into law."

The bill would set up a 3-man lottery commission and appropriate $300,000 to operate on until the lottery started producing. A bonus of up to $400 would be given.

McCoole Magistrate's Commission Arrives

The commission signed by Governor Theodore R. McKeldin naming Thomas J. Nash of McCoole as committing magistrate there has been received at the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Nash had served as committing magistrate from May 1951 until he was required to resign last spring when he campaigned for the Republican nomination for House of Delegates.

Plan To Begin Flood Job On Schedule Seen

Project Complicated By Home Rule Delay

Senator J. Glenn Beall notified the city by telegram yesterday that plans can be worked out to begin the next phase of the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection Program on schedule.

Plans for advertising the project about March 15 were complicated by the fact that the City of Cumberland was asked to forward to the government by that time $197,000, representing costs of the work chargeable to local interests.

At present, the city has a balance of $180,000 in its flood account and will not be able to sell $400,000 of bonds authorized for the purpose until the General Assembly passes enabling legislation for municipal home rule.

Promise Provision

Yesterday afternoon, Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, and Mayor Roy W. Eves contacted Senator Beall to see if some plan could be worked out to get the project under way without delay.

Finan explained that the city received authority from the General Assembly to in 1949 to issue the bonds.

When the city asked its bond counsel to prepare the resolution needed for the bond sale, however, the firm advised that since the Home Rule Amendment contained a provision that municipalities would have maximum debt and tax limits, it was felt the home rule enabling act should contain a provision that it is not the intent of the amendment to change existing authority.

He told Senator Beall that the Senate sub-committee studying the plan has promised to include the declaration of intent in the law, but that it is not likely to be enacted unil late in the session.

Finan pointed out that the next phase of the work is to be a continuing contract and will not be completed this year, so that the entire city contribution will not be needed immediately.

Is Big Contract

He suggested it might be possible for the Corps of Engineers to advertise the contract on schedule and delay the awarding of bids until the full city contribution is available, or to work out some other plan which would prevent a delay in the start of the work.

The upcoming phase is expected to be the largest yet to be let in the program, and includes levees on both sides of the river and a 1,200-foot flood wall in Ridgeley.

City officials said Senator Beall's telegram indicated a plan can be worked out satisfactorily with the Corps of Engineers.

Until the bonds are sold, the city will be able to put up about $130,000, officials said, for the upcoming project, since some money must be kept for the city's share of the approach to the Blue Bridge and several other items chargeable to the flood account.

Local 26 To Get Contract Report

JOHN HENRY BIGGS

John H. Biggs To Get Navy Commission

John Henry Biggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Biggs, 419 North Centre Street, will graduate from the United States Naval School for Officer Candidates at Newport, R. I., on March 4.

Biggs enlisted as a seaman recruit at the local US Navy recruiting station on May 24, 1954, according to Chief Edward J. Carey, recruiter in charge. He made one of the highest scores on examinations ever noted here, Carey observed.

The young man is a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College, Frostburg, Class of 1952, and of West Virginia University, Class of 1954 with a B.S. in mathematics. He graduated from Allegany High School here in 1948 as an honor student.

After enlisting here, he was sent to Bainbridge for "boot" training and was selected there to attend Officers Candidate School, Chief Carey said. The young man has made an excellent record in the Navy, the recruiter reported.

The class which graduates at 9:45 a. m. Friday, March 4, will be the 19th graduating class from the officers training school.

Mr. and Mrs. Biggs plan to attend their son's graduation and commissioning.

Phone Users May Dial Directly To 10 Major Cities

Direct long distance dialing has been assured the local Chesapeake Potomac Telephone Company to 10 of the largest cities in the east and midwest immediately upon the conversion to the dial system here, C. Walter Haschert, manager of the Cumberland office, said yesterday.

Telephone companies in Boston, New York, Newark, Philadelphia, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago have begun rearrangement of their incoming trunk lines to receive direct long distance calls from the Cumberland office, Haschert noted.

This is in line with the telephone company's long-range plan for direct customer calls to distant points after the changeover to dial is completed here in August-September.

The local exchange is in one of 40 toll areas throughout the United States. Each toll area has a code number which is dialed before dialing the number the customer wants, Haschert explained.

The local manager said direct customer calls may be placed to all communities in Maryland toll area having the 2-5 dial numbering system being inaugurated in Cumberland. With the changeover of incoming trunk lines in the larger cities named, long distance calls to those locales in other toll areas also will be possible.

SRC Probe Move Gets Tentative Senate Backing

Move To Abolish Board Revealed

By LOU PANOS

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 18 (AP) — The Senate gave tentative approval today to an overall probe of the State Roads Commission after learning that a survey group more than two years ago recommended the agency be abolished.

Senate President Goldstein (D-Calvert) released a copy of the survey report during debate on the bill to set up the investigations.

Goldstein and Sens. Nock (D-Wicomico), Turnbull (D-Balto) County) and Malkus (D-Dorchester) sponsored the bill, one of several measures involving the Roads Commission.

Release of the report by the Public Service Administration of Chicago came after Mrs. Nock declared during the debate that the commission had "suppressed" the report.

Turnbull added that it indicated the roads agency had "failed to pass its accreditation tests."

SRC Chairman Russell H. McCain said Goldstein and former Del. John Wood Logan (D-Caroline), then majority leaders in the Senate and House, were given copies of the report in 1953.

Council "Not Convinced"

McCain said the survey was made at the request of the Advisory Council on Highway Construction.

He added that many of the recommendations, such as proposals for roadside control and tighter truck weight restrictions, were later made to the Legislature and were defeated.

The council was not convinced that the commission should be eliminated, McCain added.

Criticisms dealt generally with the budget of the highway agency, which it said did not give a true picture of total expenditures on roads.

Also criticized was the commission's personnel program, which the report said "stifled the initiative" of new employes and discouraged them from becoming roads commission career workers.

The P.S.A. submitted the report to McCain in September, 1952, a few months before Maryland's 12-year highway program went into effect.

Instead of a commission, the survey group recommended a director of highways.

Although the commission arrangement has produced a "long history of sound accomplishment," a comparison of the two forms of roads program management showed "the advantages weigh definitely in favor of a single executive," it said.

Until the commission could be eliminated, the survey group proposed that a director of highways be appointed in the meantime by the commission itself.

During a transition period he would be "responsible for all state highway administrative, technical and operating activities."

The commission would "confine its activities to consideration of policy and to appraisal of short- and long-term programs and other matters requiring high-level decision..."

"Fishing Expedition"

Goldstein said he got a brief look at the P.S.A. report during 1953 Legislature, when the General Assembly was considering passage of the long-term, 68-million-dollar roads program.

He said the 161-page report was placed on his desk but was collected again, apparently by a Roads Commission employe, before he could study it.

The probe, or "study" as the bill's sponsors prefer to call, it was called a "fishing expedition" by Minority Leader Kimble (R-Allegany) during discussion of seven proposed amendments.

Five of the amendments, those drawn up in the Finance Committee, got approval. These would increase from $21,000 to $50,000 the funds available to the study group and also arm it with subpoena powers.

Kimble said he, as a Republican, and Gov. McKeldin, welcomed the probe. "We have nothing to fear. We have nothing to hide," he said.

Hyndman Woman, Son Begin Trip To German City

Mrs. Dolly Bishop of Hyndman, Pa., and her eight-year-old son boarded Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's train No. 12 here last night to start a trip which eventually will get them to Nuremberg, Germany, and a reunion with her husband, Sfc. Kenneth T. Bishop.

The Bishop family will remain in Germany for two-and-one-half years, returning to this country in August 1957.

Mrs. Bishop was uncertain about her travel plans as she left Queen City Station last night. She and her son will spend a few days in New York City and expect to board a ship for Germany about the middle of next week. She doesn't know what ship it will be.

Sfc. Bishop has been in the Army about 13 years but this is the first time his wife and son have been able to join him overseas. At the station to bid the travelers goodbye were Mrs. Clem Troutman, her mother, also of Hyndman, and Mrs. Carl E. Williams, this city, her sister-in-law.

Weather Forecast

Cloudy and mild with rain beginning tonight; tomorrow occasional rain and colder at night.

Ike Trade Plan Clears House

Possibly 1,600 Troops Lost As Convoy Blasted

TAIPEI, Formosa, Saturday, Feb. 19 (AP) — The Nationalists claimed today their biggest victory since being forced off the mainland—a submarine and 21 ships of a Chinese Red troop-carrying convoy sunk yesterday by warships and planes.

Possible loss of more than 1,600 Red soldiers was implied in the claim that eight Communist landing ships went down 15 miles off Chekiang Province during nearly 12 hours of steady attack 120 miles northwest of Formosa.

Believed Tachens Bound

The Red convoy was believed to have been bent on reinforcing a garrison recently slipped into Taishan Island some 40 miles south of Nanchishan, the Nationalists' northernmost outpost since evacuation of the Tachens.

Nationalist warships opened the blistering action at 7:50 a.m. Friday—6:50 p.m. EST Thursday, Nationalist planes joined in at 11:45 a.m. and kept at it at least until 6 p.m.

The Nationalists claimed this toll:

A submarine, nationality not specified, dive-bombed and sunk southwest of the Taishans at 3:50 p.m. Friday. (There have been numerous unconfirmed Nationalist reports of up to 200 Russian submarines in Far Eastern watsr.)

Warships Sink 10 Vessels

Warship "kill"—10 (7 landing craft and three gunboats of between 200 and 300 tons; also an 8th landing craft set ablaze).

Plane "kill"—11 (a landing craft of 1,500 tons; 1 gunboat of 100 tons; another of unspecified tonnage; and 8 motorized junks).

Nationalist pilots also claimed they damaged another landing craft of 1,500 tons and eight gunboats, destroyed 8 barracks on Taishan and blew up several supply dumps.

The Nationalists said their Thjunderjets and propeller-driven fighter planes carried on into last night the hunt for other Red ships in the area.

Doctor Accused Of White Slavery

LOS ALAMOS, N.M., Feb. 18 (AP)—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents early today arrested a bachelor pediatrician at this atomic city in New Mexico on charges of transportation of girls, aged 9 and 10, for immoral purposes.

Dr. Malcolm McDonald Cook, 48, was charged with three counts of the Mann (white slave) Act.

He is accused of taking the girls to Arizona and Colorado in his private plane.

D. A. Brye, special agent in charge of the New Mexico FBI, said the doctor, a native of Thomasville, Ga., is held in the Los Alamos jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Bryce said the complaint charges the former St. Louis doctor with transportation of a female minor, age 10, from Los Alamos to Alamosa, Colo., then to Durango, Colo., for immoral purposes Sept. 26, 1953; with taking the same girl to Grand Canyon, Ariz., on Oct. 17, 1953; and with taking a 9-year-old girl to Grand Canyon July 11, 1953.

Cook, president of the Los Alamos County Medical Society, was graduated from the University of Georgia medical school in 1933 and licensed in Missouri in 1941. He was in private practice there until coming here in 1950.

Gunman Gets Cold Cash

Relatively Small Blast Launches 1955 Atom Tests

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 18 (AP)—One of the smaller A-bombs in the American arsenal exploded over Yucca Flat today, opening the 1955 test series in Nevada.

The 32nd shot to be set off at the Atomic Energy Commission's test site was an air drop at noon after bad weather had caused a four-and-a-half-hour delay.

It was an impressive piece of precision bombing as a B36 bomber from Kirtland Air Force Base, N.M., dropped the weapon through the only patch of blue sky visibile in a windswept mass of clouds. Earlier in the day hail pelted Las Vegas and snow forced newsmen to abandon mountain observation posts.

The high noon shot itself, however, was not an impressive sight. Only a brief flash was visible to observers 30 miles away in the foothills behind the Army's Camp Desert Rock.

If there was any fireball, it was hidden by a range of low-lying mountains which encircle Yucca Flat. The noise of the detonation was very slight and there was no report of any heavy shock in the surrounding area.

A small mushroom which took on a pinkish color rose to a height of perhaps 25,000 feet in five minutes, but there was very little stem visible, indicating a moderately high burst.

The high winds aloft broke up the atomic cloud in less than half the usual time. After 15 minutes only a thin gray streak was to be seen and by 12:30 p.m. the entire cloud had virtually disintegrated.

Pineau Fails In His French Premier Bid

National Assembly Vote Is 312 To 268 Against Socialist

PARIS, Saturday, Feb. 19 (AP)—The National Assembly early today turned down the bid of Christian Pineau to be premier of France. The official vote was 312 against, 268 for him.

Pineau, a 50-year-old Socialist who writes fairy tales as a hobby, had been struggling against odds since he first was summoned Monday morning by President Rene Coty to form a government.

At the outset he was conceded a small chance, but he persisted and formed a Cabinet.

Pineau picked up a little strength but as the voting began he was reported an almost certain loser.

Coty To Start New Search

It was expected that President Rene Coty would take a fresh start tomorrow in search of a premier.

There was speculation that a Radical Socialist would be called next, with Edgar Faure, Andre Morice, Maurice Bourges-Maunoury and Sen. Jean Bertho mentioned as leading possibilities. All are former ministers.

In trying to set himself up as the first Socialist Premier since 1947, Pineau pledged himself to work for quick final ratification of the Paris treaties for German rearmament, unceasing efforts for new Big Four talks, and increased trade between East and West.

Praised Mendes-France

He also warned he was going to ask for extension of broad powers to legislate by decree in the economic field. The Assembly gave these powers to outgoing Premier Pierre Mendes-France, and Pineau said he would ask for a three-month extension.

Pineau praised the work of Mendes-France who was voted down two weeks ago, and said he would try to follow along the same general lines.

Two Gunmen Pull Daring $100,000 Diamond Robbery

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 18 (AP)—Two gunmen robbed a diamond brokerage firm of $100,000 in diamonds and cash in a brazen midday robbery in downtown San Francisco today, the firm's office manager reported.

They tied up six persons during the fast moving holdup of Paul De Vries Inc., on the fifth floor of a midtown office building, police were told.

Loss was estimated by the manager at $100,000 in diamonds and $1,000 cash.

The gunmen, both six-footers with shabby hats pulled down over their faces, forced their way in by holding a pistol on office manager John De Leeuw.

Polly Wins Divorce; Mate 'Ran Out' On Her

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18 (AP)—Actress Polly Bergen told a divorce court today that her husband, actor Jerome Courtland, "ran out" on her in Las Vegas in November to go skin-diving in Nicaragua.

That was when they separated, Miss Bergen, 24, told the court, which granted her the divorce. "Courtland ran out on a nightclub show and left me flat in Las Vegas," she said. She said she finished the show alone.

100 Policemen Stalk Harlem For Elusive Killing Suspect

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—More than 100 cops stalked teeming Harlem today, guns poised for a suspected killer who skipped through three police traps. The whole city was alerted to the manhunt.

"Any cop who tries to get me I'll shoot," the fugitive was quoted as boasting. "The only way they'll take me is dead."

He is August Robles, 41, with a police record as a vicious gunman, quick on the trigger. Four detectives lost a brief gun battle with him early in the day as he fought to freedom.

Police want him as suspected triggerman in last Tuesday's gangland-type slaying of Joseph Aronowitz, 40, an ex-convict reportedly ready to testify against fellow members of a Baltimore armed robbery gang. Aronowitz's body was found in his own car, parked in front of a Brooklyn coffin firm.

In his deft, dramatic duel with police Robles first disarmed three Brooklyn detectives, later shot it out with four Manhattan sleuths, and finally slipped through a cordon of cops who thought they had him trapped in a Harlem housing project.

The action began when three Brooklyn detectives—Joseph Keenan, George Tomaszewski and Patrick Buckley—trailed Robles to the sixth-floor apartment of a girl friend, Carmen Guzley, on E. 104th St.

Robles appeared to surrender meekly and stood still while the police searched him for weapons. But as they left the apartment, Keenan related, Robles tried to break for the stairway.

"I blocked him and suddenly he had a gun in my back," Keenan said.

How the gun escaped the detectives, they didn't know.

With the 6-foot, 200-pound Keenan at his mercy, the slender gunman forced all three detectives to drop their guns. Then he scooped them up and fled to the street.

Russia Proposes Arms Freeze

Kiss For Cherry Pie Champion

Thrilled at having just won the 1955 National Cherry Pie Baking Contest at Chicago yesterday, blonde, dimpled Marjorie Campbell gets a kiss planted on her cheek by her mother, Mrs. Richard Campbell. The 17-year-old high school senior from Red Hook, N.Y., said she plans to use the scholarship prize to take home economics at either Iowa State College, Ames, or Cornell University.

Reds Again Ask Nuclear Weapon Ban

MOSCOW, Feb. 18 (AP)—Russia proposed tonight to freeze world armament at its present level and renewed demands for complete, unconditional destruction of all atomic and hydrogen weapons.

With minor variations the Soviet declaration issued tonight was a reiteration of Moscow's position ever since postwar efforts at arms and atomic control were started in 1946.

The statement, issued a week before a United Nations disarmament subcommittee renews its efforts in London, also declared:

"The Soviet government considers atomic weapons should be banned and effective international control established for the prohibition of atomic weapons and the reduction of arms and armed forces, first of all of the major powers.

No-Use Pledge First Step

"An important step in that direction would be an international agreement under which the states would make a solemn pledge to refrain from using such weapons."

The size of the nations' armed forces and armaments, it added, should not be increased beyond their level of Jan. 1, 1955, and military budgets held down to the level of 1955.

(U. S. State Department officials and United Nations circles in New York pointed out that a chief purpose of the Soviet proposal appeared to be to prevent West German rearmament. Such an agreement would prevent West Germany from adding a single soldier or a single gun to Western defense.

No Concessions

(Washington officials said the new Soviet position did not advance an inch toward agreement on iron-clad controls by inspection to assure that written pledges are observed. The statement, they said, points to continued Russian obstruction when the U. N. subcommittee gets down to business in London.)

Russia's last stated position was on Sept. 30 when the late Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky proposed in the U. N. Assembly that armament reduction and elimination of all atomic and hydrogen weapons be approached on a stage-by-stage basis.

Educators In 31 States Against School Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Senate Labor Committee studying President Eisenhower's school-building program was told today that chief education officers in 31 of 33 states polled were utterly opposed to most or all of the bill.

Dr. Edgar Fuller, executive secretary of the Council of Chief State School Officers, read into the record a blast of criticism he said he had received by telephone, telegraph and letter from the 31 state educational chiefs. Officials of the other two states—Nebraska and Indiana — reported they were against federal aid to education on principle and that if states exerted themselves sufficiently it would not be needed.

Plan Called "Inadequate"

A Missouri official called the program "totally inadequate" while a Montanan called it "utterly useless" to most states.

But Sen. Allott (R-Colo), a member of the committee studying the President's program, drew from Dr. Fuller an acknowledgement that the replies did not necessarily reflect the view of state governors or state legislatures.

Allott said that Gov. McKeldin of Maryland was recently quoted as being in "complete accord" with the President's school aid bill. It is based primarily on a system of federal loans to back up local school bonds, together with a 67-million-dollar, three-year program of direct federal aid to enable local districts to qualify for the loan program.

"No Advantage" To Md.

Dr. Fuller had quoted Maryland's chief school officer as terming the program of "no advantage" to his state.

Allott asked whether Dr. Fuller, in his request for reaction to the President's program from state school officers, had specifically sought to extract criticism.

Fuller said no, that his message to the states outlined the President's program in some detail and pinpointed those parts of the bill "objectionable" to his organization's standing policies.

Evangelist Takes Lie Test In Slaying Case

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 18 (AP)—A handsome, part-time evangelist today took a lie detector test as police probed the mystery slaying of a 50-year-old widow of a Baptist minister.

A key person sought was the "secret admirer" of the victim, Mrs. Lucille Quarles. She was found beaten and choked to death Wednesday behind the locked doors and windows of her modest home.

The Rev. Jesse Bolin voluntarily appeared at police headquarters for the test. He flew here from Dallas, Tex., where he operates a used car lot.

Blizzard Roars Into Central U. S.

[By The Associated Press]

A roaring blizzard and cold wave slammed into the Rockies and Great Plains Friday blocking roads and halting air travel.

Another storm left parts of the Northeast buried under a paralyzing two-foot blanket of wet snow, while the coldest weather of the year stung the far Northwest.

Riding in on icy winds with gusts reaching up to 60 mph., the blizzard and cold wave rolled over Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska and the Dakotas and pressed on toward Kansas, Minnesota, Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

Towering snow drifts blocked some main roads in the Rockies. Bus line offices in Cheyenne, Wyo., reported all vehicles from the West were held up until highways could be cleared.

Swirling snow cut visibility and halted air travel in Wyoming. State highway patrolmen cautioned against travel of any kind.

Maine took the worst pounding from a two-day New England storm. Air travel halted, schools were closed, traffic was slowed and some telephone and power lines snapped under the weight of the snow.

Chinese Red Strike At Island Of Nanchi Believed Possibility

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Next on the list of offshore islands the Chinese Reds want to wrest from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek may be tiny, rock-ridged Nanchi, south of the abandoned Tachens.

This definite possibility was being considered in Washington tonight.

Whatever military or psychological factors might be involved, an overt move against Nanchi would present a new hour of decision for the United States—the necessity of either going to its defense, again covering removal of Nationalist troops and civilians as was done in the case of the Tachens, or of simply standing back and letting the Reds seize the island.

Already an unspecified number of civilians have been removed in Chinese Nationalist ships from Nanchi, which is a little more than halfway from Formosa to Tachen.

Ike Considering Proposal To Give Wheat To Russia

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP) — President Eisenhower is reported considering a plan to offer Russia some of this country's huge surplus wheat stocks, as a gift of the American people, to ease any suffering due to shortcomings in the Soviet farm program.

The President is reported not to have decided yet whether to adopt the proposal, the origin of which was not entirely clear.

One report said the plan originated in the office of Nelson Rockefeller, special assistant to the President; another said Secretary of Agriculture Benson had mentioned the idea briefly to Eisenhower, and a third attributed it to the National Grange.

Herschel Newsom, master of the big farm organization, said his office had made such a suggestion in a communication to the White House shortly after Premier Malenkov resigned with a confession of failure to solve the Russian farm problem.

Another major farm organization, the American Farm Bureau Federation, came out against the "giveaway" aspects of the proposal. A bureau spokesman said Russia should buy what wheat it needs with the money the Communists now spend on subversive activities in this country.

He said the Russians have a trade balance of around 50 million dollars in this country which they are unable to spend otherwise and added:

"Let them use that money to pay for wheat if they need it."

Czechs Want Refugees

VIENNA, Austria, Feb. 18 (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia has demanded in a new note to the United States the return of three Czech refugees who escaped to West Germany, Radio Prague reported today.

Lena Horne Cancels Night Club Date; Reason Unclear

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—Singer Lena Horne has canceled an engagement in a swank Miami Beach night club and there are two versions of why she did it.

The New York Post said today Miss Horne, a Negro, canceled the engagement at Copa City because the Royal York Hotel in Miami Beach refused her accomodations.

"I think the Royal York canceled my reservations because I'm a Negro," the Post quoted her as saying.

However, Jack Low, managing director of the hotel, said no reservation was ever asked by Miss Horne or for her and "since there wasn't a reservation there was no cancelation."

A spokesman for Copa City, where Miss Horne was to appear beginning Monday, said the singer called from New York yesterday and said "she disliked the idea of coming here."

He said Miss Horne appeared upset about the Lincoln Day dinner incident in Miami, during which some 150 guests walked out of the Hotel Urmey after the hotel management barred entrance to 24 Negro guests invited to the dinner.

The nightclub spokesman said that Murray Weinger, operator of Copa City, told Miss Horne "that if it would make her any happier she could be released from the contract. She agreed that they would exchange telegrams mutually canceling her engagement. This was done."

The spokesman agreed that the hotel was not involved in the case.

The Hotel Warwick in Philadelphia, where Miss Horne was staying, said she checked out this afternoon, leaving no forwarding address.

Dulles Takes Off For Asian Talks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles took off today for a Southeast Asia defense conference at Bangkok, Thailand, predicting that it will "make a real contribution toward the peace and security of the future."

Dulles and his top aides had with them a plan for coordinating military and economic defenses against Communist aggression or subversion.

This broad outline has been developed in working level meetings among representatives of eight nations which signed the Southeast Asia Collective Defense Treaty at Manila last Sept. 8. The nations are the United States, Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan, Thailand and the Philippines.

The Manila pact called for a council to consider a defense program. Hence Dulles, British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden and their counterparts will negotiate a final plan during the three-day meeting which opens next Wednesday.

Bill Approved 295-110, Ending Two-Day Fight

Democrats Give Big Assist; Restricting Amendment Beaten

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower's tariff-cutting foreign trade program was pushed through the House late today with a big assist from its Democratic majority.

After a bitter, two-day fight, the bill was passed on a rollcall vote of 295-110.

But the back of the opposition, led in part by members of Eisenhower's own party, was broken when the House defeated by seven votes an amendment by Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) which would have deprived the President of much of his power to override recommendations of the Tariff Commission for higher trade barriers.

In this key test of the legislation, the vote was 206-199. Reed's amendment was supported by 119 Republicans and 80 Democrats, but opposed by 140 Democrats and 66 Republicans.

186 Demos Vote For Bill

Voting for passage of the bill were 186 Democrats and 109 Republicans. Opposing it to the end were 75 Republicans and 35 Democrats. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Soon after the House action, Eisenhower expressed his gratification in a statement in which he said:

"This program is of tremendous significance to the economic health and security of the United States and our friends in the free world." He did not mention the refusal of House Republicans to unite behind the measure.

The bill, a major part of the administration's program for this session of Congress, extends the reciprocal trade program for three years from June 12 and gives the President authority to cut tariffs up to 15 per cent during that period in return for similar concessions in foreign markets.

President Makes Late Appeals

Democrats carried the major share of the fight throughout the hot debate, and House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) once left the chair to speak for the program on the floor.

Eisenhower made a last minute appeal for support of the program in a "Dear Joe" letter to the minority leader, Joseph Martin (R-Mass). Martin read it to the House a few minutes before voting started.

The President said in the letter "... I deeply believe that the national interest calls for enactment of this measure."

As to protests that expanded imports would wreck competing American industries, Eisenhower said:

"Obviously it would ill serve our nation's interest to undermine American industry or to take steps which would lower the high wages received by our working men and women."

Footprint-Tampering Testimony Highlights 'Sin City' Slaying Trial

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 18 (AP)—A former Phenix City police sergeant testified today that footprints found near where A. L. Patterson was murdered appeared to have been tampered with after he showed them to Albert Fuller.

Another witness, a convict who was sent to prison during the Phenix City vice cleanup, identified Fuller and Arch Ferrell as two men seen near the slain man's office just before the shooting.

Fuller was chief deputy sheriff at the time and Ferrell was Russell County prosecutor. Fuller is on trial, charged with first degree murder.

Patterson won the Democratic nomination for Alabama attorney general 17 days before the slaying. The state contends his campaign pledge to rid Phenix City of vice led to his death.

The ex-policeman, Walter L. Sanders, also said he saw the chief deputy leave a cafe about 25 minutes before the killing.

The 35-year-old defendant has said he was in the Russell County jail at the time of the murder and had been there for some time.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 18 (AP)—A minister, employed as a bank teller, today pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement.

The Rev. Arthur Chester Chism, 56, was charged with taking currency from two letters sent to the bank—$30 from one letter, $35 from the other.

Tells Of 5 Years In Prison Cellar

LONDON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Hermann Field told the story today of his five years in a Polish prison cellar. To show for it, he said, he has the manuscript of a novel and a $50,000 indemnity payment from the Polish government.

But he was unable to shed much light on the long mystery of the "disappearing Fields."

He denied emphatically before a news conference that he ever had been a Communist. But said he did not know about his elder brother Noel, the first of the Fields to disappear behind the Iron Curtain. Noel and his wife, Herta, recently were released from a Hungarian prison and remained in asylum in Budapest. Noel's adopted daughter, Erica Wallach, is in a Soviet forced labor camp at Vorkuta.

Hermann, a 44-year-old Cleveland architect, said he does not have the faintest idea why he was arrested and jailed. He said the Poles paid him $50,000 indemnity and $1,500 more for medical treatment during convalescence since his release in October.

He said he had never been an agent for anyone in any espionage enterprise, had never been brought to trial, never was solicited to confess and never heard that any formal charges had been filed against him.

"I think it is very hard for a person in normal life to understand the psychology of a person at the end of such a stretch as this, when it suddenly breaks and you almost break with it," Field said.

"After you have seen only one person at a time, or no person at all for years and years, it is very difficult to face being in the same room with two or three people. I had felt (on his release) an absolutely horror of the idea of the whole noise of life, and the problems of life that stood before me at that point."

He said this depressed mental attitude was what caused him to recuperate for a while in Poland before leaving, and then to live in seclusion with his wife in Switzerland for some weeks.

Boy Calmly Tells How He Slew Girl

DETROIT, Feb. 18 (AP)—"I had to kill her—so she wouldn't tell her mother."

Calm and dry-eyed, 16-year-old Floyd Diamond told state police today in gruesome detail how he stabbed and beat to death pretty 9-year-old Kathleen (Kathy) McLaughlin last night and left her body in an icy pond.

Oakland County Prosecutor Fred C. Ziem said the youth's story to state authorities was almost exactly as he had told it to him three hours after the girl's distraught father lifted the battered body from the freezing waters.

Ziem said it went like this:

Floyd and Kathy were scuffling.

"Then she got mad and called me names," Floyd said, "and I started to hit her with my fists.

"I knocked her down and she jumped up and started to run.

"I got my knife out and started running after her. I wanted to kill her then.

"She tripped and I fell on top of her. The knife (a pocket jackknife Floyd was carrying) accidentally stuck in her back.

"I had to kill her then—so she wouldn't tell her mother what I had done.

"She kept screaming, but I kept stabbing her—5 or 10 times."

In his matter-of-fact tone the boy described dragging the unconscious child 30 feet to the pond.

"She came to, then," he said, "so I found a rock and hit her three times."

Vanderbilt Must Pay Ex-Wife $250 Week

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—A court today ordered Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., 56, writer and traveler, to pay $250 weekly to his divorced fifth wife, Mrs. Patricia Wallace Vanderbilt, 35. She had asked $2,655 a month.

State Supreme Court Justice S. Samuel di Falco also ordered Vanderbilt to pay $3,500 for counsel fees.

Di Falco said his ruling apparently was the first test of a 1953 New York state law permitting a wife to receive separate maintenance and support even though the husband obtained a valid out-of-state divorce.

Vanderbilt had obtained a Nevada divorce on June 30, 1953. The state law was adopted in April, 1953.

W.Va. House Hits 'Liquor Accounts' Political System

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 18 (AP)—The House of Delegates expressed one-sided sentiment today in favor of abolishing the long-established political practice of rewarding favorites with "liquor accounts."

The House passed and sent to the Senate by a vote of 72-19 a measure which would forbid state employes or their close relatives from representing distilleries or wineries.

Under West Virginia's monoply system of handling liquor sales, merchandise for the state stores is purchased through resident agents who receive commissions on all sales.

The system broke out in fresh headlines last year when an account formerly held by James Donohoe, then Cabell County Democratic chairman, was transferred to John W. Marland, father of Gov. Marland.

The measure was passed by the House and sent to the Senate, where some sentiment already has been in evidence to restrict patronage practices.

With only a dissenting vote from Sen. Sayre (R-Jackson), the Senate passed 31-1 and sent to the House its plan for raising teachers' salaries.

This is an 8½ million dollar bill to provide pay raises for the next fiscal year and is a companion to tax measures which the Senate already has passed to provide for the needed additional financing.

Veterinarians Given Role In Emergency

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP) — Veterinarians are being mobilized to help treat human victims of any atomic attack on American cities.

The Federal Civil Defense Administration announced today the animal doctors would be urgently needed in a national emergency and should be prepared to help.

"At civil defense first aid stations," the administration said, "veterinarians, under a physician's supervision, will be expected to treat shock, burn and surgical casualties, splint fractures and assist in the care of radiation casualties."

Animal hospitals also will be utilized in an emergency.

Wallace Beery's Adopted Daughter Wins Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18 (AP)—The late actor Wallace Beery's adopted daughter, Carol Ann, 24, today divorced Donald Bliss Hayden, 27, who plays Gale Storm's boy friend on the TV show, "My Little Margie."

"He was very rude to me," she testified. "He shouted at me and screamed at me and used profane language. On several occasions he slapped me."

Hayden did not contest the divorce, granted by Superior Judge Caryl M. Sheldon. Miss Berry's attorney said the couple had signed an agreement waiving any claim on each other's property. Miss Beery, who inherited a large sum from her father's estate, asked no alimony.

Probers Search Ruins Where Six Firemen Killed

BALTIMORE, Feb. 18 (AP)—Detectives and fire department experts on arson today searched the blackened ruins of a downtown store where six firemen died Wednesday night.

Capt. John B. Kenealy, a district police commander, posted a special patrol there and said he had been instructed to "guard the building as the scene of a possible homicide."

Investigators said they planned to put more questions to Herman E. Goldstein, president of the clothing firm which occupied the building. He was interrogated for 8½ hours last night and early today.

The six firemen were buried when the back wall of the building and the roof of a one-story extension at the rear suddenly gave way, catching them under tons of bricks, stone, timbers and other debris.

Separate funeral services were arranged for them next Monday. Six fund campaigns for relief of their widows and children began to grow, with $150,000 as the goal.

Questioned along with Goldstein were two sons, Leonard and Sidney, and one of their salesmen at the Tru-Fit Clothes Co., Louis Phillips.

Capt. Elmer Katzenberger of the fire department arson squad said it was from Phillips the questioners learned the Goldsteins and Phillips locked up the store and left at 8:55 Wednesday night.

Seven minutes later, the doorman at a night club next door saw smoke coming from upstairs windows and turned in the alarm.

Another downtown Tru-Fit store was burned out in a six-alarm fire last June. That alarm also came just a few minutes after the store had been closed for the night.

Wednesday night's fire had almost been knocked out when the wall and roof at the back of the building caved in. A score of firemen were caught in the cascade of rubble. Some of them had been on ladders propped against the back wall from the roof of the extension. Others were just moving hose lines into the back of the building to get at the main source of the fire, apparently in the basement. Twenty-one were injured. Only one remained hospitalized today.

Minimum Mine Wage Opposed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP) — A hearing on a proposed minimum wage order for the soft coal industry recessed today until Monday after a Kentucky coal operator testified that such an order would cripple his sales to the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Robert Stearns, president of the Stearns, Ky., Coal and Lumber Co., said he ended in 1953 a contract with the United Mine Workers union under which he paid a $2.25 basic hourly wage to miners. He said his employes formed a new union, the McCreary County Employes Organization, and agreed to work for an average of $1.50 an hour.

While the lower rates enabled him to bid lower and obtain more coal contracts with TVA, Stearns said he now is beginning to lose some of the business to mine operators paying still lower wages and selling coal still cheaper.

The UMW and major coal producers have asked the Labor Department to establish rates, under the Walsh - Healey Government Contracts Act at levels close to the UMW pay rates. Mine owners then would be required to meet the specified pay rates in order to sell coal to TVA or other government agencies.

Four Election Judges Fired In Fraud Case

BALTIMORE, Feb. 18 (AP)—Four election judges assigned to a 4th District Precinct, where charges of voting fraud were made after the November election, were fired today.

The Board of Elections Supervisors announced the dismissal of the four judges after they declined to appear last night for a hearing.

Maybe He Just Had Sweet Tooth

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. Feb 18 (AP)—Police arrested Ernest Smithy James after finding 360 doughnuts, 20 hot cross buns, 72 cherry pies, 100 rolls, 36 cinnamon buns and eight cakes in his apartment.

The baked goods was missing from a supermarket a block away after a deliveryman left it in the doorway before the store opened.

James was jailed on a petty larceny charge and his case is scheduled to come up in police court next Monday.

Meade Sewage Problem Seen

BALTIMORE, Feb. 18 (AP) — The State Board of Health got a warning today that new defense and housing developments planned in and around Ft. Meade will produce more sewage than the streams in the area can handle.

Robert M. Brown, chief of the Health Department's Bureau of Environ mental Hygiene, reported the best estimate he can get is that 80,000 will be added to the population in the upper Anne Arundel County area.

The Federal government already is building an installation at Ft. Meade for its National Security Agency, a project which has sometimes been talked of as "bigger than the Pentagon."

One real estate developer is in the process of opening up a project whose goal is 7,500 houses.

Brown told the Board of Health it is vital that a master plan be developed for sewage disposal and "arbitrary development forestalled."

The board approved a four-way attack on the problem.

U. Of Md. Flunk Rate Increases To 5.9 Per Cent

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Feb. 18 (AP)—More University of Maryland students flunked out at the end of the first semester this year, but there was no agreement today on why.

"The requirements for staying in school are just the same," said Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, the Phi Beta Kappa man and Rhodes scholar who became president of the school last September.

Raising academic standards is one of his goals, Dr. Elkins said, but thus far the program has not developed into a precise new formula.

The Diamondback, student newspaper, said in an editorial, however, that some professors have taken too literally the new president's statement about academics and are "overburdening students with exams, term papers, book reviews, and other projects."

Figures from the registrar's office showed 339 full-time students were dropped at the end of the first semester in January because they were not doing satisfactory work. This was 5.9 per cent of the full-time undergraduate student body.

The comparable figures for a year earlier were 244 and 3.9 per cent.

Maryland's Champion Wins Eastern Cherry Pie Honors

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (AP)—Yes, Billy boy, Janet Hobbs can bake a cherry pie!

The 16-year-old West Friendship girl didn't bake the best one today in the 1955 National Cherry Pie Baking contest, but she had a prize-winner.

Janet, who won the Maryland cherry pie baking championship last September at the Maryland State Fair, won the Eastern Regional championship at the national contest. Her pie won by a taste over the entry of Margaret Rolar, 16, of Shippensburg, Pa.

Margaret had to settle for national runner-up honors. The national champion was 17-year-old Marjorie Campbell of Red Hook, N.Y.

There were four regional champions crowned.

Janet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hobbs, is a senior at Howard County High School at Ellicott City. And she's no amateur at this baking business.

She has baked 60 pies in her relatively-short "hot stove" experience and in 1953 was the Maryland State Champion in apple deserts.

For her efforts in Chicago, she received a $250 college scholarship and the stove in which she baked the pie. Janet plans to enroll at the University of Maryland next fall as a home economics major.

She is being chaperoned in Chicago by Mrs. Amy Lever of Ellicott City.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized in the rectory of St. Patrick's Catholic Church, with Rev. Michael Smyth officiating.

The bride's matron of honor was Mrs. Coleta Liller, while Thomas Kenny served as his brother's best man.

The bride was attired in a ballerina length blue lace gown, with which she wore a matching hat and accessories. A corsage of pink rosebuds completed her costume. Her attendant wore a Navy blue costume with white accessories and also had a corsage of pink roses.

Bird Club Receives Reports, Plans Program, Schedules

Members of the Allegany County Bird Club discussed plans for a public program March 2 and Nature Camp March 16, and heard reports of feeding stations at the meeting Wednesday evening at the Cumberland Free Public Library. John Workmeister presided.

A color flim, "Sylvan Trails," will be shown by Hal H. Harrison, outdoor editor of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, at 8 p. m. March 2 at Allegany High School. Mr. Harrison is the author of many books on the outdoors and has contributed articles to many leading national magazines. An article about him is in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post. Miss Nan Livingstone is Ticket chairman.

March 16 the program is to be on Nature Camp and a National Audubon Society camp film will be shown as well at the Pleasant Valley film of the club's camp. Mrs. Gordon Taylor, Frostburg, is in charge of the meeting, which will be at the library.

The spring schedule of field trips also was discussed.

Miss Livingstone was in charge of the round table discussion. Others taking part were Mr. Workmeister, Mrs. Gilbert Miller, Mrs. Leo Isaacs, Mrs. Richard Douglass, Mrs. Harry Miller and Mrs. Edgar W. Reynolds.

Letters were read from persons maintaining feeding stations from all sides of town, with approximately 26 varieties of birds reported, as well as the usual birds.

Brown Cap Chickadees were the most unusual birds reported. It was pointed out that this is a northern bird and this is the most southern point reported in winter. Before they were known to range in Pennsylvania and northern New Jersey. All seen were in the Dingle area. The reports were sent in by Mrs. Harold Smith, Mrs. C. S. Catherman Sr., and Mrs. Milnor Roberts.

Another unusual visitor was the Red Breasted Nuthatch. It was reported by Mrs. Karl Perry, Pleasant Valley Road. Another was recorded in Constitution Park by Edgar W. Reynolds. The White Breasted Nuthatch is common here, it was pointed out.

A number of Evening Grosbeck were reported this year, in contrast to the fact that they were rare other years. Mr. Workmeister said he counted 37 in his feeder in Park Heights. It is a large yellow, white and black bird. Mrs. A. Hammond Amick, Hill Crest Drive and Mrs. Smith, The Dingle, also reported having fed some.

The Purple Finch, looking like an English sparrow dipped in raspberry juice," were reported by Mrs. W. N. Kaylor, LaVale, Mrs. Smith and Mr. Workmeister.

Mr. Reynolds reported 97 different species that he recorded this past year in Constitution Park. Miss Livingstone discussed types of feeders and the way to maintain them.

Oldtown Senior Play To Be Feb. 25

A lonely inn at a summer resort after the season is over, two lovable elderly sisters who run the place, a gloomy dark night with a storm brewing, is the picture as the curtain rises on "The Whistling Parrot," a comedy in three acts. To be presented by the Senior Class of Oldtown High School, the play is scheduled for February 25 at 8 p. m.

Out of the night comes Mr. Williams, who says he is a novelist, and his pretty secretary and right after them comes Neil, the old ladies' nephew, who has been away from home for over a year, working at some mysterious job. He reveals that he has been mixed up with a dangerous gang of counterfeiters and that he is now trying to escape them—and the police. Suddenly, the menacing Blackie Barnes and his henchmen arrive and at the point of a gun, take over the inn for the purpose of using the lonely spot as a rendevous with a boat coming to take them out of the country. When it's discovered that it's the same gang Neil's hiding from and Williams true identity is revealed, things really begin to happen. The entire play is filled with suspense and laughter as the two old ladies match wits with Blackie.

The play is under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Carey, of the English department. Student director is Maxine Crabtree. Members of the cast are: Abbie Tuttle, Roena Appel; Annie Tuttue, Paula Harding; Blackie Barnes, Leo Carder; Mort, his henchman, Joe Brown; Appel; Annie Tuttue, Paula Hard-Wolford; Nora Potter, the maid, Viola McCabe; Grham Williams, a writer, Ronnie Erichseen; Joyce Bradley, his secretary, Carolyn Hebb; Neil Tuttle, the nephew, Leroy Allen; Sheriff Jason, Kermit McLaughlin; Belle, a gun moll, Jacqueline Shoemaker; Inspector Humphries, John Ott; a policeman, Levi Faith.

Angela Long, Joann Jones Win Contests For Schools

Two local high school girls have been judged winners in their schools in the Homemaker of Tomorrow contest and will be entered in the state competition.

They are Angela G. Long of Catholic Girls Central High School; and Joann Jones of St. Mary's High School.

Angela is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Kelly Long, 36 Boone Street, and besides being the Homemaker of Tomorrow winner, she also was awarded the Good Citizenship pin by Cresap Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, earlier this week. The DAR contest was based upon a program of accomplishment, along with scholastic standing and extra-curricular activity. In addition each girl was required to complete answers to a number of questions designed to indicate a thorough knowledge of American Democracy and freedoms and privileges of this nation. She chose Alexander Hamilton as contributing most to "Our American Heritage."

Sister Mary Nicholas, principal of Girls Central, said last evening that Angela is a top honor student and an outstanding musician. She plays the organ and piano and is accompanist of the school choral club. She also is a member of the Mission Club, and participates generally in all activities.

Joann is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Jones, West Third Street, and is one of the upper three of her class at St. Mary's, Sister Rosemary, principal, said. A musician, she plays the piano, organ and violin, playing the latter in the school orchestra. She is very active in scholastic work rather than sports, is editor of the school "highlights" and has taken part in various contests.

Besides being entered in competition to name this state's candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow, they will receive a golden award pin, cook books for themselves and their schools.

The national winner is to be named April 21 at an American table fete in Philadelphia.

General Mills is the sponsor of this program designed to assist schools in building in young women a deeper appreciation and understanding of the American home and the personal qualities necessary to successful homemaking.

A scholarship of $1,500 will be awarded each state winner, and she will receive a trip with her school advisor to Washington, colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Philadelphia. Her school will receive a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The scholarship of the young woman named All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be increased to $5,000.

The 50-minute written examination designed and judged by Science Research Association of Chicago, which was given to all participants in the contest, consisted of multiple choice and subjective questions which tested the students' attitude and knowledge in the major areas of homemaking.

Each girl who took the test received a 24-page homemaking guide which will assist her in pursuing the career of homemaking.

Young Adults Organize At St. Mark's Church

William Underwood was elected president of the Young Adult Group of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church at its organization meeting Wednesday, in the church recreation room.

The group is being organized to promote fellowship among the young adults of the church. Harvey Stouffer presided and Rev. Carl H. Clapp led in prayer. The program consisted of group singing, stunts by Fred Beck and several numbers by the pupils of the Star Dance Studio. William Kenny was master of ceremonies and Mrs. Claire Fisher, accompanist.

Meeting Time Changed

The general meeting of the Frostburg-Georges Creek AAUW will be held at 7:30 instead of 8 o'clock Monday, and will be in Room 204 of old main building of Frostburg State Teachers College, instead of the auditorium.

The Legislative committee is in charge of the program, when Mrs. Genevieve Yonkers Schaffer will speak on "Women and the Law."

Shells and Souls

With encouragement from his parents and some fundamental scientific training this young man has learned a great deal about shells. He knows, for instance, that the ocean floor is covered with millions of living creatures which would be unable to survive without the protection of the shells in which they live.

With similar encouragement from his parents, and with some fundamental religious training, this young man will learn some far more useful truths about souls. He will learn, for instance, that God's highest creature—Man—lives in a moral environment just as hostile to his survival as that ocean floor, and that Man depends for his protection not on any outer armor, but on the inner being which God has taught him to call his soul.

And when our young man compares shells and souls he will discover that, just as God provides many of his lesser creatures with the means of building up and strengthening their shells, he provides Man with the Church, the Bible, and the Gift of Prayer to enable him to strengthen his soul.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Theft Charge Is Not Involved In Attack Case

KEYSER—Two errors appeared in recent stories printed in The Cumberland News concerning Darrell Rohrbaugh, 32, of Kitzmiller, and Robert C. Simons, 30, of Elk Garden.

It was stated on January 19 that cases listed for presentation to the grand jury include one against Rohrbaugh and Simons charging them with "assault and the theft of more than $100 from John W. Smith, of Elk Garden."

The News, after checking Mineral County Circuit Court records and officials, learned that theft was not involved in the incident and regrets the error.

A story printed February 1 stated Rohrbaugh was allowed to plead guilty to assault and battery, after being indicted for felonious assault, and given a one year sentence in Mineral County jail.

It was further stated that Judge Ernest A. See suspended the sentence and "placed Rohrbaugh on parole" for three years under certain conditions, and that the charge against Simons was dismissed.

Rohrbaugh, following arraignment, stated he was placed on probation, rather than parole, and the court record shows the use of the word "parole" to have been an error.

LONACONING — Miss Justine Gelner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Gelner of Baltimore, and Airman First Class Marvin Alexander, son of Mr. James Alexander, of Lonaconing, were married at Baltimore Lady of Fatima Church by Father Powers.

Miss Betty Grady, of Cumberland, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. John Short, of the U. S. Air Force, of Kansas, was best man. Miss Althea Alexander, sister of the bridegroom, of Lonaconing, was bridesmaid.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a tulle lace over satin wedding gown. She carried a cascade of white calla lilies. She dedicated her bouquet at the altar and carried a white Bible with orchid overlay.

Her maid of honor was attired in an ice blue gown and had a cascade bouquet of carnations tinted a shrimp shade which matched the color of the bridesmaid's gown. Miss Alexander, was attired in a shrimp-shade full-length gown and carried a cascade bouquet of tinted carnations.

The couple took a honeymoon trip to California and are now residing at the home of the bride in Baltimore. Mrs. Alexander is a nurse at Baltimore City Hospital. She was graduated from Patterson High School in Baltimore.

Men Injured In Car Crash Are Improving

James Murray, 50, of 209 Center Street, Frostburg, who was critically injured early yesterday morning when the car in which he was riding crashed on Braddock Road, was improving in Sacred Heart Hospital early last night.

He was admitted at 1 a.m. suffering from a head injury, after the car went out of control, turned on its side and plunged down a 10-foot embankment.

Pinned beneath the vehicle, Murray was unconscious when admitted, but came to a short time later. He was reported better by a member of his family last night.

The driver of the car, Camey Williams, 30, of 137 Wood Street, Frostburg, was admitted for treatment of severe lacerations suffered in the crash.

When admitted, he complained of pain in the chest and left leg, but was reported in good condition last night.

Trooper First Class Donald R. Wade, who investigated for Maryland State Police, said the accident occurred after the car hit an icy spot and went out of control.

Walter Hansford, 47, Ridgeley, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday at 10:30 a.m. after he suffered a puncture wound of the right knee while cutting a rose bush.

Admitted to Sacred Heart Thursday night was Mrs. Esther Burkett, 73, of 446 North Centre Street, after she slipped and fell, injuring her back, while visiting a daughter in Corriganville.

in the Piedmont League. He later played at Pulaski, Va., in the Appalachian League.

In 1937, however, he suffered an arm injury while playing in a school game here between Pennsylvania Avenue and LaSalle. This injury hampered his pitching for a time, but in 1939 he pitched for the Cumberland Colts and in 1940, pitched for Frostburg in the NABS tourney at Birmingham, Ala.

He switched from pitching to catching, and is said to have done equally well at both positions.

With the outbreak of World War II, he enlisted in the Army and was assigned to radio communications work. After the war, he became the first World War II commander of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, and was also the first World War II veteran to be admitted to membership in the Society of 40 and 8.

Man Gives Self Up To Local Authorities

A man identified as Charles N. White, 22, of Baltimore Thursday walked into County Jail and gave himself up to Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis and Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police.

Baker said White told them he was wanted in Baltimore for "rolling" a soldier and stealing $20 from him. A check revealed Baltimore authorities had a warrant for White's arrest.

The Baltimorean was held in County Jail overnight and was taken to Baltimore yesterday.

Passengers Ask $15,000 Damages

Passengers filed two suits in Allegany County Circuit Court seeking a total of $15,000 damages from the drivers of automobiles involved in separate accidents on U.S. Route 220 last year.

Paul J. Fisher, 528 North Centre Street, through Attorney William L. Wilson, sued Harold S. Everline, 555 North Mechanic Street, for $10,000. Fisher states that he was a passenger in Everline's car which left Route 220 about seven miles north of Moorefield, W. Va., striking a tree. This occurred last August 5.

Fisher contends he sustained a concussion and a number of disfiguring scars on his forehead, head and right arm.

In the other suit, Jerry T. McGraw Jr., 52 Wempe Drive, through Attorney Leslie J. Clark, seeks $5,000 damages from Austin Bible Jr. of Detroit, Mich. McGraw states that last September 4 Bible's car struck a pole on U.S. 220 about three miles northeast of Cumberland. He sustained injuries to his right arm, neck and back, McGraw adds.

Car Engine Overheats

Firemen from Central Station were called to South Centre Street and Dexter Place during the rush hour at 5:15 p.m. yesterday in response to a report that an automobile was on fire. They found that the fire, blamed on an overheated carburetor in the automobile of Dolores Keller, 345 National Highway, LaVale, was out on their arrival. They were back at the station six minutes after departure.

Eskin Attends Speech Forum

George Eskin, 16-year-old Fort Hill High School student who won the Maryland "Voice of Democracy" contest, left Thursday for Williamsburg, Va., where he will participate in a national youth forum along with other state and national winners.

Eskin and representatives from 34 other states will discuss "Is the Bill of Rights Out of Date?" at a workshop today, after which the group will go to the famous House of Burgesses chamber of the 18th Century capitol to consider a 1955 Bill of Rights.

It was in the House of Burgesses chamber where the Virginia Bill of Rights was unanimously adopted in 1776 as the first written guarantee of individual liberty in this country. That document was the basis for the Federal Bill of Rights.

Eskin and the other Democracy winners will be guests at a dinner this evening, at which Dr. Vannevar Bush of the Carnegie Institution of Washington will be the principal speaker.

Two Wills Filed

The will of Jessie Vada Estes, city, who died February 15, named her step-son, John Lawrence Estes, as beneficiary. Paul M. Fletcher was named executor of the document and he posted $5,000 bond.

Plans For Sports Car Hill Climb Here Are Outlined

Plans for a sports car hill climb contest on the Breakneck Road in June were outlined to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today by Dr. Benjamin Skitarelic, local sports car enthusiast.

The car enthusiast was accompanied to the meeting by Joseph Mullenax, president, and Curtis Nash, treasurer, of the Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company.

Dr. Skitarelic appeared before the board to ask permission to have the Breakneck Road closed to traffic on Saturday and Sunday, June 18 and 19, in order to have the contest. He explained that all the property owners along the one and one-half mile stretch upon which the hill climb will be held have signed an agreement by which they assent to the plan.

Dr. Skitarelic also said that insurance will be taken to cover any damages. Members of the Washington Sports Car Club will assist in setting up traffic and safety patrol for the route and doing everything to hold the event without endangering property or persons, he stated.

It was brought out by the physician that plans will be made for any traffic which must of necessity traverse the Breakneck Road. Only one car will be on the road at one time as all the contestants will be running against time.

Dr. Skitarelic also said that spectators will be safeguarded and a plan will be set up to make sure they are far enough away from the road so as not to be in any way endangered.

Finally, he said the event will attract many of the same sports car enthusiasts who have been coming to Cumberland for the sports car races held at the Municipal Airport. He said the visitors will bring in revenue to motels, hotels, and restaurants and places of entertainment.

The Flintstone Volunteer Fire Company will act as co-sponsor of the event and will sell refreshments on the days of the contest. The physician is also a member of the fire company.

It's The Payment, Not The Interest

Toward the end of the year there was about $30 billions in consumer credit outstanding in this country. At the same time there was about $22 billions in installment credit. Of course installment credit applies to time purchases governed by contract.

These are statistics that are supposed to have some meaning to businessmen who examine them for an inkling as to whether the buying public is getting overextended. But developing recently is a trend in financing that certainly obscures the real meaning of the consumer credit statistics to say nothing of the towering mortgage debt total.

Some lending agencies have begun to advance money for consumer goods purchases by reopening mortgages written against homes. Through this "open ending" device a mortgage that's partly paid down may be run back up to release money for the purchase of just about any kind of consumer goods that strikes the home owner's fancy. This way the home owner or his descendants could stay in debt forever or at any rate as long as their dwelling possessed any collateral value.

Of course an automobile bought by this method could cost its owner twice its value in interest payments over the protracted life of the mortgage. But money thrown off in interest apparently doesn't worry people the way it did formerly. Mostly today's buyer is concerned with the amount of his monthly payment.

But carried far enough this trend could play havoc with the statistics on debt. There's supposed to be $75 billions in mortgage debt outstanding. How much of that actually is mortgage debt, and how much of it is "open ended" consumer debt?

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The AFL And CIO Merger

There was a time in the middle 1930s when it was possible to argue over the future of trade unionism in the United States. In the middle 1950s, that is no longer a moot question. The strong, well-financed, politically powerful trade union has become a norm of American life. About one-quarter of the American labor force, 15,000,000 workers, belongs either to AFL or CIO unions. To argue that these members are coerced into paying dues and striking against their will is to raise an unsolvable issue. There has been no demand on the part of any large group of workers that unions be abolished.

The new AFL-CIO will not only represent an enormous concentration of manpower but several billion dollars of reserves, much of which is being invested in common stock, often in the particular industry which the union serves.

No matter what has been said of the Taft-Hartley Law, it has run from the 80th Congress to the 84th without change or amendment and has strengthened the unions. The history of trade unionism in the United States will show that the Wagner Law gave the unions a tremendous impetus, the Taft-Hartley Law stabilized union procedure, and while in the political strategy of unionism it was felt necessary to denounce Taft-Hartley, the reason it was not abandoned has been that the unions did very well under it. They have become enormously rich and if their wealth increases at the present pace, it will not be long before they come into possession of many industries, not by a Socialist revolution but by the normally capitalist process of buying the shares of companies on the Stock Exchange.

The new national labor organization will be more powerful than either international union was during the period of competition between them. But with power must come responsibility. The agreement was correct in excluding racketeers and subversives, but that is not good enough. The racketeers need to be excluded actually and physically. All labor leaders know who they are and what unions they have invaded and which they control.

Similarly, the trade union leaders know who the Communists are and they do not strengthen public confidence by permitting unions expelled for having been led by subversives to return to American trade unionism by the back door of amalgamation with decent unions. That can only mean an open door for infiltration.

That many unions are accepting their responsibilities seriously is apparent in the publication of annual reports. But the democratic method of choosing union leadership is still to be hoped for and will undoubtedly come as the unions become more stabilized and businesslike. It is one thing to manage a union that is struggling for its existence; it is another to run a union whose business operations involve several hundred million dollars—and the members know as much arithmetic as the leaders.

The criticism of the labor union therefore shifts from theorizing as to whether they should exist at all to objections to racketeering, subversion and unstable practises. The course fixed in the middle 1930s of a recognized American type of trade unionism regulated by act of Congress and supervised by the National Labor Relations Board is now fixed in the American industrial system. The remaining independent unions are not very different from AFL-CIO unions and often are as great a trial to management. No large industry in the United States is without some type of union organization.

The fear of the merger then is unrelated to the industrial aspects of trade unionism but does arise from the uncertainty of the use of manpower and cash for political manipulation. While tight limitations are placed on political contributions of corporations and individuals, practically none are placed on the trade union or their related organizations. They could corrupt the entire electoral process with their abundant tax-free dollars if they so chose. Furthermore, they could develop a class-conscious political system which might be modeled after the British Labor party or become affiliated with international communism.

This fear could not have existed in the era of Samuel Gompers; it merits thought and study these days when a doctrinaire Socialist, such as Walter Reuther is, may be the effective leader of 15,000,000 men. It is not altogether impossible that by 1960, this may be the prevailing issue in a presidential campaign.

Dulles Makes Subtle Approach To People Of Russia

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Most of the emphasis in the news nowadays is on the Far East, so it is natural that the discussion on Wednesday night by Secretary of State Dulles about the islands off the coast of China received primary attention, but the fact is there was something far more sensational to be read between the lines of the same address. It was the subtle yet deliberate approach to the people of Soviet Russia over the head of the existing government.

In times like these, speeches by the secretary of state are not casual affairs. They have their genesis in memoranda prepared after man hours of consultation by planning staffs and specialists in particular fields of international affairs. So what Mr. Dulles said to the people of Soviet Russia—for his speech was widely broadcast throughout the world—is especially significant because of its deliberateness. He declared with respect to the recent repudiation of Malenkov as premier:

Basic Policy Difference

"Undoubtedly what we see is in part an elemental, personal struggle for power. But also one can perceive the outlines of a basic policy difference. There must, in Russia be those who are primarily concerned with the welfare, the security and the greatness of the Soviet Union and its people. But there are others who would have the Soviet Union and its power serve primarily as a tool of international communism and as a means of achieving its worldwide ambitions. These two ends, the one symbolized by the state and the other by the (Communist) party, do not always coincide.

"To us, the party and the state in Russia usually seem indistinguishable, because many individuals serve in dual capacities. But Lenin and Stalin constantly emphasized the distinction between the two. 'The party,' said Stalin, 'is not and cannot be identified with the state power.'

"We also should keep that distinction in mind. The time may come—and I believe that it will come—when Russians of stature will patriotically put first their national security and the welfare of their own people. They will be unwilling to have that security and that welfare subordinated to the worldwide ambitions of international communism. If their point of view should prevail, then, indeed, there could be a basis for worthwhile negotiation and practical agreements between the United States and the new Russia. Then there might be reactivated the historic friendship between our countries and our peoples."

Distinction Is Clear

The foregoing paragraphs constitute a masterpiece of diplomatic expression and could have a tremendous influence on the course of world affairs if they are given the emphasis abroad that they deserve.

For it will be noted that Mr. Dulles plainly calls for a reawakening of Russian patriotism, a return to the spirit of national pride which enabled the government of Moscow in past generations to play a vital role in the maintenance of the peace of Europe.

The distinction is clear — the Communist party is not satisfied to confine its ideology to Soviet Russia but must carry on a "cold war" and engage in tactics of infiltration to undermine all the other governments of the world in what has become known as Communist imperialism. But there are men—Mr .Dulles calls them "Russians of stature"—who will "patriotically put first their national security and the welfare of their people."

Who are the men to emerge as leaders in that movement? Mr. Dulles mentions no names, but one wonders if he wasn't thinking of a group which is typified by Marshal Zhukov, who, like other military men, fought solely to defend Russia and who now look askance at meddling beyond Russia's own borders in a worldwide conspiracy that can only lead to eventual war.

What Secretary Dulles is calling for is the rise of a government in what he terms "the new Russia." This, he says, would bring a "basis for worthwhile negotiations and practical agreements between the United States and the new Russia."

This is a better formula than "coexistence," because it does not assume a continued domination of the satellite states nor the continued oppression of the masses in Soviet Russia with armament burdens. It implies also the establishment some day of a free government in Moscow, or at least one that is not ruled by a dominant political party which is so tied into the government as to commit it to worldwide imperialism aimed at the conquest of other peoples.

The speech by Mr. Dulles lays lays down a platform of idealism which ought to have the enthusiastic support of our allies and bring great encouragement to the people behind the iron curtain.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

First All-American was Thomas Jefferson. We mean both North and South America. Tom looked so far south of the border he came up with penguins.

Although the Costa Rican-Nicaraguan fermentation was probably Moscow-primed we don't think it would have gone any further than a hobbled hoss.

There are twenty-one republics in the organization of American States. There are six vacuum-packed on the Isthmus of Panama.

You can never tell where the political Adam's apple is on that infuriated neck of land.

But Jefferson recognized the dove-tailed implications when he said a little rebellion now and then is a good thing. As essential in the political world as storms in the physical.

Everything busting loose now was crystal-dropped by Jefferson almost two centuries ago. He foregandered the OAS when he said, "The day is soon here when there will be a meridian of partition down the middle of the Atlantic."

But how about this, "I shall rejoice to see the fleets of Brazil and the United States riding together as brethren of the same family with the same interests."

That happened during World War II. And included other South American republics which had become powerful since Tom's time.

The mess on the isthmus started as a personal hassel between President Somoza and Figueres. It had to be handled as carefully as an egg candler grading fresh country atoms.

We know the Costa Rican political exiles plotted on Nicaraguan territory. If you rule that out you must cancel Simon Bolivar.

Bed Rest Important In Infectious Hepatitis Cases

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Infectious hepatitis is caused by a virus that invades the liver. The disease is not as contagious as mumps, measles, or the common cold and is spread in much the same way as was typhoid a generation ago: via contaminated water, milk, or food.

Hepatitis resembles typhoid in another way. Both maladies occur in all parts of the world and at any season of the year. But the two diseases differ in that modern sanitation and inoculations have eliminated typhoid in this country. In contrast, infectious hepatitis is on the increase although data along this line are inaccurate because many cases remain undetected.

Early hepatitis is indistinguishable from flu. Loss of appetite, headache, and constipation are prevalent for the first few days along with vague abdominal distress. In others, the onset is acute with headache, nausea, and high fever. Up to this time there is no indication that hepatitis is responsible for symptoms.

The first clew of liver involvement is when the skin turns yellow on the fourth or fifth day. But hepatitis may never reach the jaundice stage and unless certain laboratory tests are done, the condition is mistaken for another cold.

The mild case often spreads the disease. The victim, unaware of the nature of the disorder, acts as a reservoir for the virus and is likely to contaminate food and drink, in mingling with others.

Bed rest is important, especially in more serious cases. When jaundice disappears, the patient may think he is well enough to return to work but the assumption is false. More time is needed for the liver to heal and as a rule, 30 to 40 days must elapse before laboratory tests show the organ to be normal.

A diet rich in proteins and carbohydrates saves wear and tear on the liver. ACTH and cortisone are used occasionally but are not curative.

Attempts have been made to perfect a preventive that will work as well as typhoid vaccination. To date, gamma globulin heads the list. It is credited with bringing certain epidemics under control but many authorities are not convinced of its protective value. Until the product is proved useless, however, physicians will continue to recommend it for anyone who has lived in close contact with a victim of hepatitis.

BUSY SPOT

D. L. writes: Please explain carotid sinus.

REPLY

This nerve center is located in the neck, below the angle of the jaw. The carotid sinus plays a role in the regulation of blood pressure and pulse rate.

STOP SHOPPING AROUND

C. V. writes: I have had 30 doctors in 20 years but still suffer from arthritis, frequent colds, allergy, and sinus trouble. What would you advise?

REPLY

Pick a good physician in whom you have confidence. You have a series of ailments that are difficult to cure and it would be better if you gave the physician you select time to study your case. It is possible you may have to learn to live with these conditions.

AGE OF LESION

B. W. writes: When X-ray of the chest is made, how can a doctor tell whether an exisiting lesion is old or new?

REPLY

Sometimes it is impossible to make this determination and the physician must look for other signs of acute infection and send blood and sputum samples to the laboratory for study. If these measures produce no clew, the X-ray is repeated in three months, to see whether there are signs of regression or progression of the lesion.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A Wall Street broker, slave to his work, saw his wife off to the country and stayed away from other women for almost three hours. Then, naturally, he couldn't stand it any longer and called up his very private secretary. "Put on your glad ags," he ordered, "and meet me at the Stork in 40 minutes." When he donned the trousers of his own glad rags, he found in the right pocket a note in Friend Wife's handwriting. "Caught you!" it read. "Is this trip necessary?"

Quote from "Hints on Etiquette and the Usages of Society," published in London in 1834:

"Well-bred people arrive as nearly at the appointed dinner-hour as they can. It is a very vulgar and obvious assumption of importance purposely to arrive half an hour behind time. Besides, this gives eight or ten hungry and impatient people an irresistable opportunity to discuss your foibles and tear your reputation to shreds."

President Has Aeronautical Headache Over Route From Seattle To Hawaii

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower is having aeronautical headaches. He's just had a terrific headache over an air route between Seattle and Hawaii and he's about to have more over a route to Alaska. Part of the trouble is the present White House system of staff work whereby the President, following the general staff system in the Army, takes the recommendation of his staff without knowing too much about the facts behind their recommendation.

Here's the inside story of what's been happening.

After long study, the Civil Aeronautics Board recommended that Northwest Airlines continue its present operation between Seattle and Hawaii in competition with Pan American Airways, and that Northwest be given a permanent license to fly the great circle route over the Arctic to Tokyo.

This decision against Pan American, the pet airline of both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations, automatically went to the White House for confirmation. And this is where Ike's headache began. For his Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks immediately moved in, together with Undersecretary of Commerce Robert Murray, even though Murray had just submitted his resignation.

They recommended that the President reverse the findings of his CAB and rule for Pan American. Trusting his two Commerce Department executives, that was exactly what the President did. He ruled that Northwest Airlines could no longer fly the route between Seattle and Hawaii, leaving Pan Am to fly that route without competition; also refused to give Northwest a permanent route over the Arctic to Tokyo, thus opening a possibility for Pan Am to get that route later.

Extra Saturday Session

When this news broke, things really began to pop around the White House.

First, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota phoned Gov. Orville Freeman, new Democratic governor of Minnesota, requested that the Minnesota Legislature pass a resolution demanding that Ike follow the advice of the CAB. The legislature promptly did so. Simultaneously various Northwestern state chambers of commerce served by Northwest Airlines planned a trek to Washington.

Simultaneously, also, Senator Humphrey phoned Assistant President Sherman Adams.

"The President's ruling will jeopardize one of the most important enterprises in the Northwest," he said. "He should be better informed before he reverses experts who have been studying this question for months."

Humphrey, a Democrat, asked for an appointment to see the President but was told Ike couldn't possibly see him for about a week. This was on Thursday, February 3.

However, as protests began to roll in, Adams hastily called Republicans to a conference for a Saturday morning, February 5. Ordinarily Ike goes away on Saturdays. But Adams knew that on the following Monday that mayors of Minneapolis and St. Paul, plus the governor of Minnesota, plus several chambers of commerce would be descending on the White House.

To head this off and to take the play away from Democrat Humphrey, Ike held an emergency meeting with two Minnesota Republicans—Sen. Ed Thye and Congressman Walter Judd. Secretary Weeks and Undersecretary Murray, who originally caused the trouble, also attended.

At the meeting Ike complained that he hadn't been given all the facts. He had been told that Northwest Airlines had received a greater subsidy than Pan Am, a piece of information based on an outdated report and definitely not the case. Pan Am's total subsidies are greater than any other airline's.

Result: The President completely reversed himself, came out for Northwest as originally recommended by the CAB.

Another Air Headache

All week, acting CAB Chairman Chan Gurney, frequently friendly to Pan American Airways, has been trying to get an entirely different ruling OK'd by the White House before new CAB member Ross Rizley takes his seat.

This pertains to the Alaskan air route between Seattle and Anchorage, the most important and profitable route to Alaska.

Pan American now flies between Seattle and Fairbanks, and last December the CAB voted to give it the additional juicy route between Seattle and Anchorage. Since then a storm of protest has come from Alaskans, and since then Pan Am seems to be less enthusiastic about this route and not averse to seeing friendly Pacific Northern Airlines get the Anchorage-Seattle line.

At any rate, Pan Am and Pacific Northern are now working against Alaska Airlines, a small but energetic competitor which has pioneered the bleak bush country in the upper part of the territory. Alaska Airlines serves a total of 64 towns and cities in the far-flung Arctic, having gained the reputation of stopping at almost any cluster of Eskimo huts where there's an airport. This kind of traffic is not profitable.

In contrast, Pan Am serves only five cities in Alaska, while Pacific Northern serves 11, chiefly on the Anchorage-Kodiak run. An airline can make up for the heavy cost of serving small towns if it gets the much more profitable traffic between Anchorage and Seattle.

Lighting Lenten Fires

By Brother Barnabas

A slow train on a pip-squeak railroad running through the cotton belt of the South stopped at a jerk-water station where a group of idlers had gathered to see "No. 6" go through.

A fresh passenger leaning out of the window addressed a buxom bystander with: "Hello, Auntie! How many people around here enjoy religion?" Her ready reply was: "All them as has it does!"

Auntie said a mouthful, for religion is not designed to make folks crabby and sour, but winsome and happy. And that is why we are looking forward to Lent, with such eager anticipation.

This year Lent begins February 23 (Ash Wednesday) and ends with Easter, April 10—a span of 47 days by the calendar, but 40 days net, since seven Sunday's occuring within the period are not counted.

What a time of refreshing awaits us all! A time for resting tired feet made so by tripping the light fantastic;

A time for abstention from calories that add poundage to one's embonpoint where it isn't needed;

A time for adding beauty and strength to one's physiognomy.

Out of Cold Storage

Housecleaning time! Now one cleans out the litter from under the rug where it was swept when the preacher was coming unexpectedly.

The windows of one's soul are washed so the light of heaven can shine through. Bibles are dusted of their cobwebs. Church pews are warmed. Religion is brought out of cold storage.

Even if one were dubious about life after death he would wash his face every morning just to preserve' self-respect. And by the same token he should decently go to church, read the Bible, and behave himself.

That's being smart and intelligent, whether one be a somnambulist, a fundamentalist, or any other kind of a religionist.

Consult your dosier. When was the last time you darkened the church door? Did the congregation gasp when you entered?

When the offering plate was passed did you drop in a pound, or a farthing, or were you Scotch?

A certain woman in traveling abroad ran across a new religion. It was the orthodox kind, but with all the difficult features carefully removed. There was no Cross, no self-denial, no sacrifice, all was sweetness and light.

"How did you get by the customs with it?" inquired Phillips Brooks.

"Oh, there was no tariff on religion," she replied. "I see," quipped the great divine, "there were no duties."

Who the devil is, where he came from, where he is going, and what he is roaring about I refer to the savants in the department of esoterics.

I only know he is afraid of holy water, and if you resist him he will flee from you. (See James 4:7).

A Lot of Sophistry

"I didn't see you in church last Sunday." "And I didn't see you there either." The colloquy was overheard between two slackers, neither of whom was present. Never lie, unless it's necessary, and then only temporarily.

There's a lot of sophistry about what passes for religion. Didn't I eat my fill at a church supper, and play bingo for God? He ought to let me off easy.

You object, there are too many hypocrites in the church. Granted, but one more won't make any difference.

If you haven't been to church for a long, long time, you will need to be wised up on how to preserve the proper sanctitude.

If when you enter they are singing "Will there be any stars in my crown?" don't go to sleep counting the stars, but keep awake wondering whether "when the roll is called up yonder" you will have any crown at all.

There's never a dull moment in church, unless the sermon happens to be. Somebody is always going to sleep, adjusting his collar, cupping his chin, closing his eyes as if in prayer till the collector gets by.

The more staid the occasion the funnier a break appears, whether it be a twisted word, an awkward sentence or a ludicrous situation.

At a crowded funeral service the preacher requested: "Will the congregation please stand — on their feet?"

Tried To Atone

A stranger entering a service in a small country church at night plunked himself down in the back row.

Evidently he had imbibed too much of what "in this friendly, freedom-loving land of ours belongs." Nevertheless, in atonement, he dropped a ten-spot in the collection plate.

When the preacher saw the generous donation he whispered to one of the deacons to cotton up to the stranger with a view to annexing him to the fold and report the findings:

The deacon reported that he looked like a Reformed Episcopalian, was dressed like a Methodist, his trousers holed at the knees with praying, and at the seat with backsliding, and he smelt like a Two-Seed-in-the-Spirit Predestinarian Baptist.

Brothers, when you make your Lenten devotions, please light a candle for yours truly,

BROTHER BARNABAS

Beall Wins Two Titles As Fort Hill Tops Allegany, 59-57

Finzel's Team Routs Indians In 106-71 Tilt

Frostburg School Takes First WMI Title Since 1934

FROSTBURG, Feb. 18—Running up what is believed to be the highest scoring total in the Western Maryland Interscholastic Basketball League, Beall High's Mountaineers tonight blasted Mt. Savage's Braves, 106-71, to capture the WMI crown.

Jimmy Sigler poured 31 points through the hoops for the Mounties who broke the strangle hold on the league title held by Cumberland schools for many years.

The triumph, coupled with Allegany's spine-tingling 59-57 loss to Fort Hill at Campobello, broke a deadlock between Coach Ebbie Finzel's Frostburgers and the Cumberlanders to give Beall the league diadem for the first time since 1924. It also avenged an earlier 51-49 setback at the hands of the Braves for the Finzelmen.

The 106-point total, registered on 43 field goals and 20 of 36 free throws, is topped only by the 129-33 decision by LaSalle High's Explorers over Barton in 1945. While the 129 points for LaSalle is thought to be a county school record the mark was not made in a WMI league game.

Sigler paced the Mountaineers, who also bagged the county Class A crown, with 13 goals and 5 for 6 at the foul line. Mike Finn chipped in with 20 in the scoring marathon before a packed house in the Beall gym. Finzel cleared his bench for Beall with the second team playing the entire final quarter.

Richard Walters with 17, and George Bishields and Bill Clauson each with 16, topped the Mt. Savage attack.

Battle For ACC Lead

ARGYLE "Pete" Wilson, the Flintstone novice middleweight boxer, lost on a technical KO in the third round of the Pittsburgh Golden Gloves Tournament on Tuesday night.

Wilson was in a bad way after being floored and the match was stopped.

It was Wilson's third amateur match. He's won one and lost two.

COULD THIS BE LaSalle's year to win the city basketball championship?

If the Explorers do come through it would be a coincidence.

LaSalle last won it in 1945. In fact, the Explorers bagged four in a row—1942, 1943, 1944 and 1945. George Geatz was the team's sparkplug in 1942 and 1943 while Tommy Geatz, his brotner, was the ace in 1944 and 1945.

Now we find LaSalle leading the city race with a 2-0 record. Phil Geatz, center, is the team's top point-maker and George Geatz is the coach.

AFTER a recent schoolboy basketball game someone asked one of the coaches how come there were only 12 personals called. Both teams, he said, had used a new brand of soap that made the game clean.

MORGANTOWN High School has adopted the name "Mohigans" for its athletic teams.

Although the name "Mohigans" differs from the one in James Fennimore Cooper's novel it will be no surprise to hear Morgantown teams tagged with "The Last of the Mohicans" whenever they run into lean years.

Few nicknames have any real connection with the school they denote. There aren't any Indians in Mt. Savage but there are Bears in Tucker County where Thomas High teams function and there are Wildcats in the Davis territory but no Panthers in Parsons.

West Side High School of Fairmont which played Fort Hill's football teams in recent years got its nickname the "Polar Bears" back in the days when Frank Ice was coaching teams at that school.

Sammy Palumbo is marking his 28th year as a jockey. The 45-year-old saddlesmith, who hails from New York, is now accepting mounts at Charles Town. Sammy rode his first winner in 1927.

GENE GUARILIA'S 42-point splurge was the highlight as Potomac State College snapped its 8-game losing streak when the Catamounts whipped West Liberty on the Hilltoppers' court Tuesday night by the score of 103-84.

It was State's first win since West Liberty was turned back at Keyser on January 18 by the score of 95-84.

THE PAST YEAR brought a few changes in the "top ten" most popular breeds of dogs, according to American Kennel Club registration figures.

Beagles, who rose to top place in 1953, cemented their position with 53,138 registrations in 1954, a gain of nearly 6,000 over the previous year.

Cocker Spaniels, which led all breeds for 17 years, went to second place in 1953 and dropped to third last year with a registration of 37,185.

Boxers rose to second place with 40,667 registered in 1954. Dachshunds are fourth and Collies, for more than 70 years in the front ranks of America's best liked breeds and fifth in 1953, dropped to sixth displaced by Chihuahuas, smallest of all breeds, with 24,033 registered last year.

German Shepherd dogs hold 7th place and Boston Terriers, eighth. Poodles moved up to 9th place and Pekingese, which they supplanted, are tenth.

The Poodle, incidentally, has risen to such heights of popularity in England that the miniature variety leads registrations in the British Kennel Club, the first time in 20 years that any other breed in that country has superseded the Cocker Spaniel.

DUDLEY DeGROOT, head grid coach at West Virginia University in 1948 and 1949, is among 100 applicants for the post of grid mentor at Utah State.

DeGroot, whose teams at Morgantown won 13, lost 9 and tied one, sent in his application from Germany.

CARL BROWN, the lad who came through in the "clutch" in several games recently for Allegany high's basketball team, once played for the Kiwanis Club in the Hot Stove Baseball League.

Manager Sherman Weatherholt recalls the day that he gave Brown the bunt signal as the latter stepped up to the plate.

"Instead of laying the ball down, Brown teed off on the first pitch and hit one of the longest home runs I've ever seen a kid wallop," Weatherholt said.

"Nice bunt," the manager remarked as Brown completed the circuit and returned to the bench.

"Thanks, manager," Brown replied.

LaSalle Scores 10th Straight, Beating Northern

Explorers Bag 15th Triumph, 63 To 48

ACCIDENT, Feb. 18 — Hopping off to a 19-5 lead in the first quarter the LaSalle High Explorers easily defeated Northern High here tonight to register their 10th straight triumph. The score was 63 to 48.

It marked the 15th time in 17 games the charges of Coach George Geatz have came out on the winning side of the ledger. Phil Geatz and Ricky Harris topped the visitors' attack with 13 points apiece while Hamilton had 15 for Northern.

The win gave LaSalle a sweep of the series with the Garrett Countians who lost to the Explorers 57-40 earlier in the season.

BY JOHN W. KNOWLTON

Jerry Landis, Fort Hill's diminutive guard, dribbled the length of the floor to drop in a layup basket just as the final whistle sounded to give the Fort Hill High Sentinels a thrilling upset victory over the Allegany Campers last night, 59-57.

A screaming crowd of over 800 fans which jammed the Campobello gym rocked the rafters at Allegany as Landis' goal knocked Coach Walter L. "Bill" Bowers' Alco quint right out of the Western Maryland Interscholastic Basketball League title and the Allegany County Class A diadem.

Allegany's loss, coupled with Beall High's triumph at Frostburg over Mt. Savage, 106-71, gave the Mountaineers the WMI title to break the Campers' three-year hold on the crown. In 1951 Fort Hill captured the WMI and Class A titles and Allegany had held both since then. It was Beall's first league crown in the WMI since 1924 and the first time in the history of the Frostburg school it had captured the Class A laurels.

Last night's engagement between the two city schools was a spine-tingler right from the start. The score was tied at 2, 7, 30, 32, 34, 55 and 57 before Landis broke it up for good. The lead changed hands 10 times and the largest lead held by either team was Allegany's seven-point margin at 45-38 midway in the third period.

Fort Hill battled the heavily favored Campers all the way, finally applying the pressure in the late stages of the game after Allegany had led throughout much of the first half. The Sentinels, scoring first on Dorcil Kline's jump shot maintained its margin until Carl Brown dumped in a goal and a pair of fouls to give Allegany the lead 11-10. Galen McGregor's set shot put Fort Hill in front at the quarter 12-11.

Allegany then went ahead on Brown's jump toss and a pair of fouls by Rod Breedlove, continuing in front at intermission, leading 28-24.

Fort Hill battled back to outscore Allegany, 12 field goals to eight in the second half, finally tying the count at 30-all early in the third stanza.

Allegany again crept ahead to lead 45-38 with only seconds to go in the third quarter. McGregor's set shot from 20 feet out and a one-hander by the Sentinel guard seconds later made it 45-42, Allegany, as the period closed.

With Allegany leading 51-46 early in the last period Landis and Raines each potted a pair of foul tosses to bring the Sentinels within a point at 51-50. Kline's set shot then sent Fort Hill in the lead and another set heave by Landis put the Sentinels in front, 54-51.

Breedlove fouled out with 1:40 left for Allegany and McGregor converted one of two chances to make it 55-53. Brown tied it at 55-all with a pair of fouls and after Landis once more put Fort Hill ahead with an overhead heave, Allen Haines dropped in a set shot from about 25 feet out with only 50 seconds left to tie the count for the last time.

Landis grabbed a rebound off the Fort Hill backboard and dribbled the length of the court to register the winning goal.

Allegany, outscored 20-15, from the field, converted 27 of 34 foul shots at the 15-foot stripe to nearly win the game at the foul line.

Brown paced the scorers with 22 points while McGregor had 16 for Fort Hill.

Souchak Retains Texas Open Lead

Freddie Haas' 129 Trails By Stroke

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 18 (AP)—Burly Mike Souchak scrambled to a 3-under par 68 today to retain his lead at the halfway point in the $12,500 Texas Open golf tournament with 128.

Scores generally soared under pressure and a gusty wind.

Freddie Haas, the Claremont, Calif., belter, turned in a 67 to breathe on the neck of the former Duke University football star as the field was cut to the low 60 shooters and ties. Haas' 36-hole total rested at 129.

The 6,400 - yard Brackenridge Park course proved tricky with the wind and some of the hotshots faltered as the field of 167 moved to the trimming down period.

In a tie for third place were Al Balding of Toronto, Canada, and Jack Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., each with 131. Paul McGuire of Wichita, Kans.; Bob Rosburg of San Francisco and John Barnum of Grand Rapids, Mich., were next in line with 132's.

It required 140 to make the final 36 holes for the professionals and among the prominent golfers who failed to land were Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., former National Open champion, and Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., usually a heavy winner on the golf trail. Boros wound up with 143 and Ford 141.

SS. Peter & Paul Needs Sunday Win To Tie For Lead

SS. Peter and Paul quint needs one victory to gain a tie for first place in the Catholic Youth Basketball League and Coach Bob Mattingly's floormen hope to register it Sunday when they tackle St. Patrick's of Cumberland in the opening game of a twin bill on SS Peter and Paul court at 2 o'clock.

The first half champions have the Indian sign on St. Patrick's, having beaten the North Centre Street quint four straight times last season and three in a row thus far in current campaign, 40-24, 42-37 and 57-33. Hence, a St. Patrick's win would come as a quick shock to the boys from Fayette street.

St. Michael's, the league leader at present with a 7-2 record is idle today. SS. Peter and Paul trails with 6-2.

Mt. Savage plays St. Peter's, Westernport, in the second game on tomorrow's card here.

The second half race ends Thursday night with SS. Peter and Paul playing Mt. Savage here and St. Michael's at Westernport in the feature battles.

Coaches' Lament

DETROIT (AP) — Buddy Parker, coach of the Detroit Lions in the NFL, was more than disappointed when Les Bingaman, his 350-pound lineman, announced his retirement from pro football.

"They should have given us two picks at the draft meeting to replace him," lamented Parker.

Favorite Finishes 14 Lengths Back; Winner Pays $27.40 For $2

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 18 (AP) — In a startling upset, C. V. Whitney's Little Dell captured the first division of Suntanners Purse at Hialeah Park today. Belair Stud's Ambient, a pronounced choice at 2 to 5, finished fifth in the field of seven sophomores over the mile and a furlong.

Boos and catcalls greeted Ted Atkinson as he returned to the unsaddling enclosure on Ambient, which was beaten a total of 14 lengths. This is the same horse that earned Atkinson a similar treatment of jeering when Ambient was beaten at 2 to 5 by Uncle Gus at Tropical Park on Jan. 16.

Little Dell, a candidate for the $100,000 Flamingo on Feb. 26, showed electrifying improvement over his two previous Hialeah starts. He assumed command after turning into the backstretch, widened out somewhat on the turn and was in no trouble through the final drive, as Hedley Woodhouse steered the son of Mahmoud home five lengths clear of Teanecker.

A. F. Yoerg's Charles A. was third, 2½ lengths back of Teanecker and a similar margin before Apollo. Then came Ambient, four more lengths away. Ambient was in fourth position to the 5-furlong pole, where he stopped suddenly and dropped completely out of it. The track was termed good, although it was rough and somewhat greasy. It may have bothered Ambient.

Little Dell, which rounded out a double for Woodhouse, paid $27.40, $13.40 and $6.50. Teanecker's mutuels were $10.00 and $5.10. Charles A. was $4.30 third. Apollo and Charles A. are also candidates for the Flamingo. The time was 1:51 3-5.

The weather was clear and sunny, and a crowd of 17,914 patronized the course.

G. M. Cohen's Jess Linthicum, an 8-year-old gelding who won four races at Tropical, added another purse to his credit when he outran 10 opponents in the six-furlong second, completing a $63.60 daily double. Handled by apprentice Ray Mikkonen, the veteran broke in front and stood a long drive gamely to beat Superupper by a neck in 1:13 3-5. He paid $7.20. Pheasant Boy was three lengths farther away, while So Surprised took fourth.

Charles Wins Over Norkus

Ez Cops Unanimous Decision At Garden

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—Ezzard Charles came back from two beatings by Rocky Marciano, sluggish and wild but sharp enough to batter over-matched Charley Norkus for a unanimous 10-round decision tonight at Madison Square Garden. Charles weighed 191½, Norkus 195½.

The former heavyweight champion, now 33, dropped Norkus with a right hand to the jaw in the early seconds of the ninth round. The sturdy Norkus teetered to his feet at four, rocking backward, and stood while Referee Harry Kessler counted the automatic eight.

There was no doubt about the lopsided decision with Referee Kessler scoring it 8-1-1, Judge Jack Gordon 8-2 and Judge Joe Agnello 9-1. The AP card was 8-2.

Boos rolled down from the crowd of 5,304 paying $17,230, apparently in disappointment that Norkus, a 4 to 1 underdog, didn't come through.

It would have been a shutout on Agnello's card if Referee Kessler hadn't awarded the sixth round to Norkus because of a low blow. A borderline hook that landed when Norkus had his back to this observer cost Ezzy the round.

Commissioners Favor Repeal Of 1953 Act

Inventory Exemption Has Reduced Basis

A resolution was unanimously adopted by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday calling on the county delegation to the General Assembly to introduce legislation for the repeal of the 40 per cent exemption on county taxation of the inventories or stock of goods of businesses and industries.

The resolution states:

"The effect of the provisions of this act has been to remove from the assessable tax base for Allegany County approximately $8,700,000 in merchandise inventory assessments previously taxed.

"The loss of this assessable base has resulted in a loss of county revenues for the current fiscal year of approximately $173,000 and has imposed a serious financial problem in this County.

"The County Commissioners do not believe that Chapter 592 has any real industrial significance, was not adopted in response to any request by the Mercantile Division of the Chamber of Commerce, does not increase job opportunities and does not result in a tax benefit to industry commensurate with the total financial loss to the county, which position is borne out in the report of the Civic Development Committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, dated February 17.

"The entire picture concerning the purpose and effect of Chapter 592 was fully and completely discussed by the County Commissioners with the State Senator and county delegation at a joint meeting held February 15," the resolution says.

"The delegation has requested that a formal resolution be adopted by the county commissioners and forwarded to the delegation to serve as a basis for legislative action.

"The county commissioners do hereby formally request that appropriate legislation be introduced by the Allegany County delegation to provide for the repeal of Chapter 592 of the Acts of 1953, the same being absolutely essential to safeguard the future economy of Allegany County."

Wilkinson Opposes Aid To Hospital

A resolution introduced by Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson at yesterday's session of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners calls for the denial of the request of the board of governors of Memorial Hospital for an appropriation of $150,000 towards construction of an addition to the hospital's nursing home.

When the resolution was introduced Commissioner William H. Lemmert stated that he would like a copy of the resolution and time to study it before making a decision. He also said the county board is awaiting a decision as to what the City of Cumberland is going to do in regard to a request by the hospital that it also contribute $150,000.

Wilkinson's resolution states: "It is the opinion and belief of this commissioner that Memorial Hospital should be itself responsible for any improvements or additions to the hospital and that the only extent to which the county should allow itself to be responsible would be to perhaps permit the hospital to use the county's credit to secure said amount of money but with the definite understanding that the hospital would be solely liable for the payment of said indebtedness and interest.

"The Allegany County Hospital and Infirmary is greatly in need of improvement and enlargement in order to be able to take care of the many indigent citizens who require hospitalization but cannot afford to get it elsewhere."

Wilkinson proposes "the Board of County Commissioners present this plan or offer to Memorial Hospital board and, in the event it is rejected, then, instead of the county appropriating $150,000 for the use of Memorial Hospital, said sum shall be used for the improvement and enlargement of the Allegany County Hospital and Infirmary."

Developing the contour of your bust takes time and exercise . . . don't give up too soon!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Having enough interest in your figure to do something about it—that is every woman's right and privilege. You both look better and feel better when your proportions meet self-decided specifications.

Many of you have asked about exercises for developing the bustline. This process requires time. You can count on six weeks of steady effort before you will notice any change. Don't weaken — development will come!

"Spot" exercises for curvier curves do not actually increase the bust; they strengthen the pectoral muscles underneath, and the result is a fuller measurement.

For Practice

Here is a good build-up exercise that sounds easy, though it isn't. Sit with arms raised forward at shoulder level, elbows straight, and palms down. Imagine that there are two heavy books in front of your hands (but do not use real books). Very slowly, keeping elbows at shoulder level, pull "books" toward chest until the fist touch it. Relax and repeat 20 to 40 times. Gradually slow your pace, striving for more and more muscular tension in the arms and chest. Cease "pulling" the moment you feel fatigued.

Exercise Two: Kneel on floor, spread feet a bit, and rest on your heels. Grasp ankles with hands. Simultaneously arch back, drop head backward, push lower spine forward, retract abdomen. Hold position. Lazily raise right arm forward, and rotate it until hand is well back of shoulder, reversing swing, return hand to ankle. Perform action with left arm. Return to starting position and repeat 10 to 20 times, depending on your fatigue span. The second you tire, give up.

One More

Exercise Three: Sit cross-legged holding your head high, your back straight, your abdomen in. Place finger tips of right hand on your right shoulder. With your elbow describe circles in the air, going forward, up, outward, backward and down. Swing bigger and bigger circles each time around, 10 times. Reverse, making circles backward, upward and forward, 10 times. Rest, and repeat with the left arm. This exercise slims the arms, as well as developing a fuller bustline.

Sylvan Retreat Retention Urged By County Board

The recommendation of the Civic Development Committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce that Sylvan Retreat, the county's mental institution be closed in order to save tax revenues was given a cool reception by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday.

Commissioner William H. Lemmert, board president, said he wanted time to study the complete Chamber committee report, but in no event would he favor abandonment of the mental institution without a referendum by the voters. He also pointed out that the state pays $35,000 annually towards taking care of the 82 patients now in the institution. He said an effort has been made previously to have the state contribute about twice that amount.

Commissioner James Orr stated: "I'm strictly opposed to any procedure which would close the institution." He also said the state should contribute more than it does for the care of the patients.

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson said the Chamber group may not be familiar with the situation but it is a fact that most of the patients at the institution can't pay for their care. He also said that if these persons were sent to the state institution then the county would have to pay for their keep there.

It was brought out that a majority of those at Sylvan Retreat are persons who are considered not amenable to treatment. Those who are susceptible to treatment are sent to Springfield State Hospital. Another factor is that the families and friends may visit them here while if they were at Sykesville the visits would be few and far between.

One comment was made that the entire matter cannot be judged on a "dollars and cents" basis.

RIU To Retain Organization

Representatives of the six locals of the Railroad Industrial Union met in Cumberland Thursday and voted to continue the organization.

Elmer E. Davis, president, said the charter will be maintained regardless of the fact that the union lost bargaining rights for engineers and firemen on the Western Maryland Railway.

The representative election was won during the past month by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen winning out.

The RIU said it is continuing to represent the two crafts, pending a decision from the attorney general of the United States. The RIU has charged the brotherhood with coercion in connection with the election, Davis declared.

At the meeting it was decided to prepare for another representative election within two years.

Davis said the RIU will attempt the organization of another railroad during the next two years.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 18 (INS)—At dinner at Ruth Waterbury's, Burt Lancaster told me that he and Harold Hecht have completed the deal for "Trapeze."

"You know," said Burt, "The thing I am glad about is that we have the entire Cirque D'Hiver Bougloine, the hit of Paris, which will work with us all through the picture. Jean Bougloine, head trapeze artist and owner, will teach Gina Lollobrigida (lucky man) to swing on a high trapeze. Director Sir Carol Reed is lining up other circus acts."

"Are you going with Burt?" I asked pretty Norma, the blonde Mrs. Lancaster.

She held up her hand and said, "I and the five are going." (By the five she meant their five children.)

Burt is still wearing his crew haircut left over from "Rose Tattoo" "but it's growing," he said.

Martin and Lewis are switching Gabors. In their last picture "Three Ring Circus," Zsa Zsa went with them on location to Arizona where Rubirosa was supposed to have sneaked in in his expensive plane to see her for a day.

Now Eva — Gabor, that is — has been signed in New York for "Artists and Models" for the role of Sonja, the glamorous spy.

In his home town, Dallas, today is Audie Murphy, the pride and joy of one of my favorite cities. Virgil Meirs, drama editor of the Dallas Times Herald, wires me that Audie bought a two story, four bedroom, 90 acre estate, complete with stock barns and stables, and he'll move his family there to live between pictures.

Audie will be on the Horace Heidt TV show tomorrow night, and Virgil says that the premiere of "To Hell and Back" will be held there June 1. Thanks for the news, Virgil.

Glamor beauty Leigh Snowden returns to the scene of her crime—the Navy base at San Diego for the role of the Navy nurse with Donald O'Connor in "Francis Joins the Navy."

Ted Briskin flew out from Chicago just long enough to kiss his attractive bride, Colleen Miller, and wish her luck on her new picture, then business took him back home. So Colleen just has Tony Curtis and the cast and crew of "The Rawhide Years" at U-I to keep her company.

Added to this cast today was William Gargan, and it's something of an event as he hasn't made a movie since 1949. He's been concentrating on television first as "Martin Kane, Detective," and then "Confidential Agent." Welcome home, Bill.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

At the Martin Von Dehn dinner, Zsa Zsa Gabor was with Franchot Tone, and never once did she mention Rubirosa. They left the Von Dehns and went on to the Mocambo and Ciro's.

Diana Lynn was with Andy McLaglen, and Rhonda Fleming was with Paul Hesse. I was sorry to miss this dinner, because the Von Dehns always give delightful parties.

James Cagney's niece, Mrs. Rufi Klim, welcomed her second little girl at Queen of Angel's Hospital. The happy papa telephoned the news.

Louis B. Mayer has been chosen principal speaker at the American Cinema editor's annual dinner on March 24 at the Ambassador.

Someone who saw the sneak of "Oklahoma!" in Riverside said that there's never been anything like it, it's so good. It was shown in CinemaScope because the Todd-AO isn't yet ready.

Thrush Toni Arden is bringing them into the Mocambo.

Mrs. George Gobel's birthday was Thursday, and Peggy King's was Wednesday, so the two girls got together and made it a dual celebration.

Had my reservations for New Orleans to join Margaret Ettinger and Kay Dietrich, but at the last minute some unexpected business came up and I couldn't make it.

Sunday, the infant son of the Van Heflins will be baptized, with Director George Sherman acting as godfather.

Ethel Waters, now in good health, arrived here today to open at the Carthay Circle a week from Monday. She calls her act "At Home With Ethel Waters," and seeing it during its run is a must with most people.

Kurt Frings represents Audrey Hepburn and Jose Ferrer, but he says Mel Ferrer belongs to the William Morris office.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

DON'T BUY IT AT ALL

AT AN auction or bargain sale, the canny buyer always tries to get what he wants at the lowest possible price, never paying for any item more than it is worth to him. If some merchandise appears which probably is worth nothing at all to him, he won't buy it at any price. Both of those principles apply to sacrifice bidding. When you make such a call, it is only because the prospective loss will be less than what it would cost for the opponents to make their contract. But when there is reasonable doubt about their ability to make the contract, there is no sense at all in sacrificing against them.

3 NT	4 ♥	Dbl.

West had estimated that he could take seven tricks himself plus probably one in his partner's hand. If so, he would have been down only two tricks for 500 points, as he explained to his partner, which would have been a sound sacrifice to prevent a vulnerable game worth more than 600. Instead, the defenders had six tricks, to put him down three, before he took any, all of which cost 800, or more than the value of a vulnerable game for them.

East then chimed in to say that the sacrifice bid would have been unsound even if West had been not vulnerable, since the 500 cost of it then would have been worth taking only if the opponents could make their game.

Look at all the chances for their contract to fail, East urged. First, unless South, after dropping one club honor, had enough clairvoyance to avoid finessing the 10 against the other, he could not have brought in that suit after the heart K opening. Second, South might have finessed the diamonds the wrong way, or might have tried the spade finesse. Double-dummy play could have given South eleven tricks, but there was a scad of ways whereby he could fail to take nine, and therefore a sacrifice was an unwarranted risk.

Wishbones And Kinkajous

Some of the most curious people in this or any other town bob up night after night in Steve Allen's "Tonight" show, so curious in fact, that I dispatched Operative X-1 from this office around to the Allen office to inquire if these people were just a figment of Allen's imagination or if they really existed.

Well, they exist all right. Lurking in the hall outside the Allen office was Mrs. Sparrow, a palmist who reads character by palm imprints on paper. When she appeared on the Allen show, she got in the mail 2,500 palm imprints. She's dying to get back on, as is apparently everyone else who has or hasn't been on.

Among others who have been on the show are Joe Interleggi who claims he has the world's strongest teeth—he uncaps beer bottles with them—and who on "Tonight" pulled a truck containing 10 people with his teeth. Then there's Delphine Binger who'd also like to get back on the show. She has the world's largest collection of chicken wishbones. She engraves things like happy birthday on them and sells them. Or Ben Belefonta, the Rhyming Inventor as he calls himself, who's been on three times. He invents things like the Tallyphone which records the number of phone calls you make in case you suspect the telephone company of overcharging you.

The man who assembles this madcap crew is Dale Remington, associate producer, who arrives at work at 1:30 p.m. and is besieged with calls the rest of the day from people who want tickets, who want to get on the show, from agents who want their clients on the show or people who want to give their products away on the show.

Operative X-1 found Mr. Remington seated at a desk next to a pile of boxes reading "The Open Pit Barbecue Sauce — Just Right With a Mild Bite." Mr. Remington was saying into the phone: "Are they going to be chosen Miss Hunter College? Four carnival queens? Where can I get back to you?" He hung up. The phone rang again. Mr. Remington listened: "What is the National Guard quota?" he inquired. "If you find out, let me know. I'll try to give you a date next week."

There is an ever-growing group of people who were once content to entertain their friends in their own parlors; now they just have to get on television and it's Remington's job to cope with them. Many of them would perform for nothing but the unions won't stand still for that. When the amateurs discover that they not only get on

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

In Memoriam

MARVIN — In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Laura Marvin, who passed away 1 year ago, Feb. 19, 1954.

No one knows how much we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered. Since we lost you
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers;
Sweetly tender, fond and true;
There is not a day, dear Mother,
That we do not think of you.
Son and Daughters.

Market Rallies After Wave Of Selling, Closes Higher

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—A major selling wave hit the stock market today, but it bounced back from the effects of the hard blow and closed higher.

The advance actually was the best of the week and put the market up again to peak levels.

Recovery from the state of affairs began soon with the radio-televisions, steels, and aircrafts well out in front of the rise. The railroads and airlines also had a big hand in the strong showing.

Near the start of the final hour selling began and gained speed until the tape was swamped and unable to keep pace with actual transactions on the floor. The congestion lasted about half an hour.

Selling spent itself quickly, and the congestion cleared with prices not only showing improvement from their lows but also in many instances surpassing their previous high marks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 70 cents at $159.90, equal to the all-time high established last Tuesday.

Volume expanded to 3,660,000 shares compared with 3,030,000 shares traded yesterday.

Hupp Corp. topped the most active list for the third straight day unchanged at 8½ on 69,000 shares. It was followed by Emerson Radio up 1 at 15⅞, Pan American World Airways up ½ at 20¼, International Telephone up ⅝ at 27, and Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton up ⅛ at 16⅜.

Janes WSCS Holds Silver Tea Party

KEYSER—The WSCS of Janes Methodist Church, Keyser, held a silver tea at the home of Mrs. Sallie Mason on Water Street recently, with a number of members from other local churches present. The president of the society, Mrs. J. T. Tisdale and Mrs. Margaret Vauls, vice president, acted as hostesses. Refreshments were served buffet style, with Mrs. Ruth Moore at the table, which was decorated in Valentine day motif.

Mrs. Catherine Baker took photographs of the group. All but one member of the WSCS unit was present with the exception of Mrs. Eliza Tross, who has been a shut-in for a number of weeks. Refreshments were sent to her home following the meeting.

television but get paid for it, they become wildly persistent.

Animals are getting very popular on "Tonight" and Remington is also in charge of animal procurement as well as collectors of chicken wishbones. They've used a kinkajou, snakes, a camel, horses, a steer, monkeys, mice, hamsters, a lion cub, dogs, cats and birds. There's quite a lot of dough in showing off your pets on TV. The man who owns Zip, the chimp who roller skates, earns—according to Remington—$90,000 a year with the little fellow on TV guest shots.

Not all the interviews go smoothly. When they had the steer on, Allen asked where it was headed after the show. "He's going to be slaughtered a half hour after he leaves the theater," replied the owner calmly. Animal lovers were horrified. Jim Moran used to show up with a different animal each time which he claimed to have found in Central Park. Remington tried hard to get a giraffe for this bit but found that it was impossible to fly one in; their necks are too long for airplanes.

"While I was there," reported Operative X-1, "Remington got calls from—let's see now—a manufacturer of children's pipe cleaners who wanted someone to demonstrate how to make little animals out of colored pipe cleaners, from Remington Rand which wanted to furnish the razors to remove Steve and Skitch Henderson's beards, from a young lady who wanted Steve to sing a song commemorating the National Guard, from a BBD & O vice president who wanted to know if they had enough Griffin shoe shine kits to give away during audience interviews, from the Third Division, Marnie Corps, which wanted a Marine in the audience for Steve to interview on the 10th anniversary of Iwo Jima and from "The Barber's Journal" which wanted to send a couple of barbers over to shave off Steve's beard in style."

Ground To Be Broken Tuesday Afternoon

The City of Cumberland will hold a brief ceremony here Tuesday afternoon to mark the breaking of ground for its new sewage treatment plant, according to William H. Buchholtz, commissioner of streets and public property.

Mayor Roy W. Eves will officiate at the ceremony planned at 3 p. m. on the site of the plant near Offutt Street.

Commissioner Buchholtz said members of the council will be asked to participate in the program unless they have prior commitments.

Invite Civic Officials

Special invitations also will be extended to civic leaders who have been vitally interested in the project for many years.

Among those present will be Robert T. Regester, Baltimore, consulting engineer who drew up the plans and who has been hired by the city to provide engineering supervision during construction.

Regester is scheduled to be here Tuesday to sign the contract for the engineering work which was awarded by the Mayor and Council Thursday afternoon.

Buchholtz said yesterday that the Moyer Brothers Company, which was awarded the $1,531,006 contract to build the plant, is getting set up on the site and expects to begin construction Tuesday if the weather is favorable.

To Cost $2,000,000

He said the company has made a frost test and has found that the frost has not penetrated the ground deep enough to hamper excavation work.

The plant, designed to treat the sewage of the Cumberland metropolitan area, is expected to cost up to $2,000,000 when all incidental costs, such as engineering, rights of way, and financing are added.

The work is being expedited so the plant will be working by the time the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company begins operations at the plant it is building at North Branch.

Three Injured As Cars Collide On Route 40

A Fort Hill High School student was hospitalized and two other persons were less seriously injured late last night in a two-car collision at the intersection of U. S. Route 40 and Nave's Crossroad east of th city.

David Roche, 15, of DeHaven Road, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital with a severe laceration of the face.

Glendon Michael, 17, of Cumberland, also a student at Fort Hill, was treated at the same hospital after he broke some front teeth in the accident.

State Police Trooper First Class Donald R. Wade and Trooper Robert D. Wolford said Roche was riding in the front seat of a car driven by Michael.

The troopers said Michael's car rammed into the rear of a vehicle driven by Mrs. Dorothy Ann Buskey of Bedford Road, a teacher at Ridgeley Elementary School, who had stopped on Baltimore Pike to make a left turn onto Nave's Crossroad at 10:30 p. m.

They said the impact snapped the front seat in Mrs. Buskey's car, throwing her and two unidentified women passengers into the back seat and slightly injuring both passengers.

The car was pushed about 100 yards down the highway, and both vehicles were described as "a total loss."

Wade and Wolford said Michael would be charged with reckless driving.

Rev. Zimmerman Will Preach At Citadel

Rev. Fred Zimmerman, pastor of First Congregational Church, Frostburg, will preach the sermon at the 11 a.m. worship service at the Salvation Army Citadel.

This Is How It's Done

These Allegany High School juniors, who are taking first year bookkeeping, are shown filling out some of the forms this week in a special course they have been taking on the Federal Income Tax. Some of the students have become so proficient, according to Miss Irene Lapp, their teacher, that they have been assisting adults in preparing their income tax forms. Pictured in the left row, front to back, are Barbara Adams and Juanita Heavner. Right row, front to back, are Elizabeth Quartucci and Helen Hixenbaugh. Material for the class has been supplied by the Internal Revenue Service.

Allegany Students Take U. S. Income Tax Course

By ALBERT D. DARBY
News Staff Writer

Students in Miss Irene Lapp's four first-year bookkeeping classes at Allegany High School have been studying a most practical subject this week — the Federal Income Tax.

Miss Lapp is one of the veteran teachers at Campobello but she still likes to utilize new ideas for her pupils. This year she decided to obtain material from the Internal Revenue Service of the U. S. Treasury Department for this one-week general course.

The Internal Revenue Service supplied handbooks for the students and special instructions for the teacher along with several "blow-up" sheets of income tax forms which can be posted on the blackboards for use by Miss Lapp in her lectures.

Right on the second page of their handbooks, the 160 juniors enrolled in Miss Lapp's first-year bookkeeping classes can see in graph form how the budget dollar of the federal government is divided. Out of each dollar 43 cents comes from individual income taxes, 31 cents from corporation income taxes, 16 cents from excise taxes, six cents from customs and other taxes, and the other four cents from borrowing.

Sixty-eight cents of that budget dollar will go for major national security (military, mutual military program, atomic energy and stockpiling), 22 cents for charges fixed by law (interest, veterans, grants to states), and the other 10 cents is the cost of other government operations.

The student's handbooks contain a form letter from T. Coleman Andrews, commissioner of internal revenue, which explains that this course has been prepared to help the students understand the "how" of filling in returns and paying taxes and something of the "why" of paying taxes.

"The purpose of this course is to aid and encourage you, as America's taxpayers of tomorrow, to join with the Federal tax authorities in assuring the continued success of our system by maintaining a high level of voluntary compliance," Andrews concludes.

The handbook shows samples of applications for a Social Security account number, a Social Security card and an employe's withholding exemption certificate which must be done by the young person upon obtaining employment.

Miss Lapp has been getting her bookkeeping students to fill out a number of different income tax forms using hypothetical examples. The first case concerns John Doe who had a part-time job which paid him less than $600. Miss Lapp has found that a number of students in her classes have just such after-school and Saturday jobs. They have learned that they must file an income tax statement in order to get back from the government that portion of their wages that was withheld. If they made more than $600 they will have to pay the income tax.

In a second problem the boys and girls fill out the form for John Doe now that he is five years old, is married and has a child. Finally, they fill out their own or one for their parents.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Andrews has written the teachers that this course has been expanded greatly from its begining last year when it was designed primarily to meet the needs of the student who had tax filing responsibilities.

This year's course has been expanded as a result of suggestions of teachers who want more difficult study for their youngsters.

Miss Lapp explained that a number of other teachers in Allegany County also have taken advantage of the opportunity to teach this special course.

County Board Hears Critic Of Pay Boost

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners, which has received several thousand cards and letters in support of a salary increase for county teachers, yesterday heard an outspoken critic of the proposed $500 boost at the board meeting.

Loraine E. Eisenberg, Windsor Road, asserted that the county commissioners must not overburden the taxpayers, who already are carrying a heavy load. He contended that a large percentage of the Board of Education's budget already goes for teachers' pay.

Many of the young teachers have had part of their education paid for through the GI Bill of Rights, Eisenberg observed. What's more, he said, when they decided to study for the teaching profession they knew that the pay was low just as a young minister knows that he will be underpaid.

Eisenberg concluded by saying that teachers do not have to work more than 30 hours a week and for only nine or nine and one-half months of the year.

Two representatives of the County Teachers Association appeared before the commissioners yesterday morning to report on their discussion Thursday with the County Delegation in Annapolis. John D. Kelly and Raymond O. McCullough told the commissioners that the delegates said they would make no decision in the matter until after hearing from the county commissioners on the latters' recommendation.

Alpha Payne, 521 Valley Street, asked the commissioners if she could be re-employed in the kitchen at the County Infirmary. County authorities said she had quit at the Infirmary and since has sustained a broken leg. She was referred to Dr. J. E. McLean, county physician, for a physical examination.

State Vets' Unit Slaps Lottery Plan

Would Provide Bonus For GIs

BALTIMORE, Feb. 18 (AP)—A proposal to finance a Maryland veterans bonus by a state lottery ran into its first public opposition today—from a veterans group.

Walter S. Fisher, secretary of the American Veterans Committee in Baltimore said:

"We find the lottery bonus bill to be less palatable than any so far foisted upon the Legislature."

Representatives of five other veterans organizations tentatively agreed Wednesday to campaign for a lottery bonus, including the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Catholic War Veterans, Disabled American Veterans and the AMVETS.

Their decision must be approved by executive bodies of their groups. Having the final say would be the Legislature and Maryland voters.

A bill to set up a lottery has been introduced at Annapolis by Del. Hodges (D-Balto 6th). Voters would have to pass a constitutional amendment for a lottery to be legal.

Fisher contended the fact the bill provides for a statewide referendum is probably the reason 32 other members of the House of Delegates joined Hodges in sponsoring the bill.

Fisher declared the referendum requirement "probably is the escape mechanism for those sponsoring the legislation. They probably do not sincerely seek its enactment into law."

The bill would set up a 3-man lottery commission and appropriate $300,000 to operate on until the lottery started producing. A bonus of up to $400 would be given.

Plan To Begin Flood Job On Schedule Seen

Project Complicated By Home Rule Delay

Senator J. Glenn Beall notified the city by telegram yesterday that plans can be worked out to begin the next phase of the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection Program on schedule.

Plans for advertising the project about March 15 were complicated by the fact that the City of Cumberland was asked to forward to the government by that time $197,000, representing costs of the work chargeable to local interests.

At present, the city has a balance of $180,000 in its flood account and will not be able to sell $400,000 of bonds authorized for the purpose until the General Assembly passes enabling legislation for municipal home rule.

Promise Provision

Yesterday afternoon, Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, and Mayor Roy W. Eves contacted Senator Beall to see if some plan could be worked out to get the project under way without delay.

Finan explained that the city received authority from the General Assembly to in 1949 to issue the bonds.

When the city asked its bond counsel to prepare the resolution needed for the bond sale, however, the firm advised that since the Home Rule Amendment contained a provision that municipalities would have maximum debt and tax limits, it was felt the home rule enabling act should contain a provision that it is not the intent of the amendment to change existing authority.

He told Senator Beall that the Senate sub-committee studying the plan has promised to include the declaration of intent in the law, but that it is not likely to be enacted unil late in the session.

Finan pointed out that the next phase of the work is to be a continuing contract and will not be completed this year, so that the entire city contribution will not be needed immediately.

Is Big Contract

He suggested it might be possible for the Corps of Engineers to advertise the contract on schedule and delay the awarding of bids until the full city contribution is available, or to work out some other plan which would prevent a delay in the start of the work.

The upcoming phase is expected to be the largest yet to be let in the program, and includes levees on both sides of the river and a 1,200-foot flood wall in Ridgeley.

City officials said Senator Beall's telegram indicated a plan can be worked out satisfactorily with the Corps of Engineers.

Until the bonds are sold, the city will be able to put up about $130,000, officials said, for the upcoming project, since some money must be kept for the city's share of the approach to the Blue Bridge and several other items chargeable to the flood account.

JOHN HENRY BIGGS

John H. Biggs To Get Navy Commission

John Henry Biggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Biggs, 419 North Centre Street, will graduate from the United States Naval School for Officer Candidates at Newport, R. I., on March 4.

Biggs enlisted as a seaman recruit at the local US Navy recruiting station on May 24, 1954, according to Chief Edward J. Carey, recruiter in charge. He made one of the highest scores on examinations ever noted here, Carey observed.

The young man is a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College, Frostburg, Class of 1952, and of West Virginia University, Class of 1954 with a B.S. in mathematics. He graduated from Allegany High School here in 1948 as an honor student.

After enlisting here, he was sent to Bainbridge for "boot" training and was selected there to attend Officers Candidate School, Chief Carey said. The young man has made an excellent record in the Navy, the recruiter reported.

The class which graduates at 9:45 a. m. Friday, March 4, will be the 19th graduating class from the officers training school.

Mr. and Mrs. Biggs plan to attend their son's graduation and commissioning.

Phone Users May Dial Directly To 10 Major Cities

Direct long distance dialing has been assured the local Chesapeake Potomac Telephone Company to 10 of the largest cities in the east and midwest immediately upon the conversion to the dial system here, C. Walter Haschert, manager of the Cumberland office, said yesterday.

Telephone companies in Boston, New York, Newark, Philadelphia, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago have begun rearrangement of their incoming trunk lines to receive direct long distance calls from the Cumberland office, Haschert noted.

This is in line with the telephone company's long-range plan for direct customer calls to distant points after the changeover to dial is completed here in August-September.

The local exchange is in one of 40 toll areas throughout the United States. Each toll area has a code number which is dialed before dialing the number the customer wants, Haschert explained.

The local manager said direct customer calls may be placed to all communities in Maryland toll area having the 2-5 dial numbering system being inaugurated in Cumberland. With the changeover of incoming trunk lines in the larger cities named, long distance calls to those locales in other toll areas also will be possible.

Move To Abolish Board Revealed

By LOU PANOS

ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 18 (AP) — The Senate gave tentative approval today to an overall probe of the State Roads Commission after learning that a survey group more than two years ago recommended the agency be abolished.

Senate President Goldstein (D-Calvert) released a copy of the survey report during debate on the bill to set up the investigations.

Goldstein and Sens. Nock (D-Wicomico), Turnbull (D-Balto County) and Malkus (D-Dorchester) sponsored the bill, one of several measures involving the Roads Commission.

Release of the report by the Public Service Administration of Chicago came after Mrs. Nock declared during the debate that the commission had "suppressed" the report.

Turnbull added that it indicated the roads agency had "failed to pass its accreditation tests."

SRC Chairman Russell H. McCain said Goldstein and former Del. John Wood Logan (D-Caroline), then majority leaders in the Senate and House, were given copies of the report in 1953.

Council "Not Convinced"

McCain said the survey was made at the request of the Advisory Council on Highway Construction.

He added that many of the recommendations, such as proposals for roadside control and tighter truck weight restrictions, were later made to the Legislature and were defeated.

The council was not convinced that the commission should be eliminated, McCain added.

Criticisms dealt generally with the budget of the highway agency, which it said did not give a true picture of total expenditures on roads.

Also criticized was the commission's personnel program, which the report said "stifled the initiative" of new employes and discouraged them from becoming roads commission career workers.

The P.S.A. submitted the report to McCain in September, 1952, a few months before Maryland's 12-year highway program went into effect.

Instead of a commission, the survey group recommended a director of highways.

Although the commission arrangement has produced a "long history of sound accomplishment," a comparison of the two forms of roads program management showed "the advantages weigh definitely in favor of a single executive," it said.

Until the commission could be eliminated, the survey group proposed that a director of highways be appointed in the meantime by the commission itself.

During a transition period he would be "responsible for all state highway administrative, technical and operating activities."

The commission would "confine its activities to consideration of policy and to appraisal of short- and long-term programs and other matters requiring high-level decision..."

"Fishing Expedition"

Goldstein said he got a brief look at the P.S.A. report during 1953 Legislature, when the General Assembly was considering passage of the long-term, 68-million-dollar roads program.

He said the 161-page report was placed on his desk but was collected again, apparently by a Roads Commission employe, before he could study it.

The probe, or "study" as the bill's sponsors prefer to call, it was called a "fishing expedition" by Minority Leader Kimble (R-Allegany) during discussion of seven proposed amendments.

Five of the amendments, those drawn up in the Finance Committee, got approval. These would increase from $21,000 to $50,000 the funds available to the study group and also arm it with subpoena powers.

Kimble said he, as a Republican, and Gov. McKeldin, welcomed the probe. "We have nothing to fear. We have nothing to hide," he said.

Hyndman Woman, Son Begin Trip To German City

Mrs. Dolly Bishop of Hyndman, Pa., and her eight-year-old son boarded Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's train No. 12 here last night to start a trip which eventually will get them to Nuremberg, Germany, and a reunion with her husband, Sfc. Kenneth T. Bishop.

The Bishop family will remain in Germany for two-and-one-half years, returning to this country in August 1957.

Mrs. Bishop was uncertain about her travel plans as she left Queen City Station last night. She and her son will spend a few days in New York City and expect to board a ship for Germany about the middle of next week. She doesn't know what ship it will be.

Sfc. Bishop has been in the Army about 13 years but this is the first time his wife and son have been able to join him overseas. At the station to bid the travelers goodbye were Mrs. Clem Troutman, her mother, also of Hyndman, and Mrs. Carl E. Williams, this city, her sister-in-law.
